CONSOLIDATION ONLY SOLUTION

WHERE 'WE WILL' THERE'S A WAY

—Chicago's New Proverb.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

This is really a funny story. But the only man who will get a laugh out of it is he who can sing:

For what care I if taxes rise or fall?
Thanks to my fortune, I pay none at all!

It is also a story which it is almost impossible to tell accurately. It would take an expert accountant, two bloodhounds, and a Philadelphia lawyer to follow all the trails to the end. Fortunately a few slips, more or less, will do no harm. The eggs are already too badly scrambled to be further damaged.

SOME day there will doubtless arise an ingenious patriot, with a sharp jigsaw and a lot of patience, who will take a map of Chicago, and saw it up int. nice, jagged little pieces, each of which will represent one of the twenty-four tax levying bodies within its limits. Then, perhaps, the average man will be able to get a fair idea of what the puzzle picture looks like.

Meanwhile suppose we wander forth, hand in hand, and, in our own awkward and blundering way, take a casual look at the menagerie. Here, then, immediately to the right, under the main canvas, are the dens containing the twenty-four separate, distinct, and more or less savage bodies which levy taxes within the city limits of Chicago:

The state of Illinois.
The city of Chicago.
The public library board.
The sanitary district.
The West park board.
The town of North Chicago.
The Ridge avenue park board.
The Calumet park board.
The Irving Park board.
The Northwest park board.
The town of Maine.
The town of Niles.
The county of Cook.
The board of education.
The tuberculosis sanitarium board.
The South park board.
The town of West Chicago.
The town of Lake View.
The North Shore park board.
The Fernwood park board.
The Ridge park board.
The town of Evanston.
The town of Norwood Park.
The town of Calumet.

Doubtless a half dozen or more other taxing bodies, including, of course, the national government, have been overlooked. Before Vox Populi stumbles over a chair in his hurry to write a letter of correction it should be explained that the five towns last named are partly within and partly without the city limits of Chicago, which is in itself a nice little complication, and permits the residents of these townships remnants to pay both city and town taxes, in addition to all their other obligations.

PAUSING now, for a moment, as you pass out, your attention is invited to the largest collection of park commissioners ever exhibited at one time in captivity. There are eighty-three park commissioners under the same tent, all holding office in Chicago.

Incidentally they levy taxes on the citizens of Chicago under authority of no less than twenty-seven distinct and separate acts of the legislature, to say nothing of amendments.

In passing these acts the legislature itself performed some of the finest ground and lofty tumbling on which the human eye has ever rested. Thus, in 1909, the legislature changed the assessed valuation of property in Chicago from one-fifth to one-third of its real value. Prior to that time the West park board, for instance, had been limited in making its tax levy for park maintenance and improvement to 2 mills on each dollar of assessed valuation.

'MAN OF MYSTERY' PROFESSOR'S SON, BUT STILL PUZZLE

"Lewis" Identified as Von Klein, Diamond Broker, with Wife in Minnesota.

BUT THE WOMEN PERSIST

Insist Prisoner Under Other Names Got Their Money and Won Affections.

HE CONTINUES IMPERTURBABLE

Police Captain O'Brien sat at his desk in the South Clark street station last night with his head in his hands.

"It aches," said he. "I'm going crazy if I don't get my mind off this 'Gallant Jack' puzzle. It is the dingdest thing I ever heard of. Is he 'Jack' Lewis, or is he Von Klein? Is he Clark or is he Graham? Or is he all four? Did he marry the poor, helpless women and steal their diamonds or is he the honest yet handsome son of a professor of dead languages, and has he been imposed upon by a lot of mistaken persons? I should worry and get a wrinkle, but I can't help worrying."

"But is he Von Klein?" asked a reporter.

"Yep, he is," replied the captain. "We are satisfied today that he is the professor's son. His wife is coming from Minneapolis—his real wife—and many Evanston persons have identified him. But that is where we stop."

Identifications Keep Up.

A score of persons looked at the prisoner and called him the son of Dr. Carl H. Von Klein, who is known the world over as the most famous medical bibliographer now living, and who has a study in the John Crerar library. However—

Miss Ethel Newcomb, the girl who procured his arrest and who charges that he married her in Portland, says that his name is "Jack" Lewis.

Mrs. G. A. Temple of Richmond, Va., declares he is Weaver B. Clark.

Mrs. Howard of Denver, Colo., insists that he is Frank Graham.

The stories of the three claimants are similar, except that it wasn't necessary for Mrs. Temple to go through any marriage ceremony to get rid of her jewels.

Miss Newcomb says she met "Lewis" in Portland, Ore., in September, 1911, married him, and then intrusted him with $3,800 worth of jewels, when he promptly disappeared.

Mrs. Temple, then Miss Isabel Vermont, met "Clark" about six months ago, came to Chicago with him, and then accompanied him to Milwaukee, where she allowed him to take care of her mesh bag containing $5,000 worth of jewels, while he sought a minister to tie the knot.

Mrs. Howard says she met "Graham" in Denver last October, married him, and then intrusted him with $2,400 worth of jewels, when he disappeared.

Prisoner Still Stands Pat.

As for the prisoner himself, he "stands pat."

"I am neither Von Klein, Lewis, Clark, or Graham," he asserted last night. "I'll tell you that much, but I'll not tell you who I am. I have reasons of my own for concealing my identity. I am going to conceal it."

When a reporter who knew Von Klein in Minneapolis asked to look at the prisoner's collar the man grabbed off the collar and ripped off the laundry mark.

"You're a fox," he said.

In spite of the prisoner's denials, the belief is pretty firmly established in the minds of the police that the man they have in their charge is Dr. Von Klein's son. To settle that question the matter was finally put up to the professor last evening.

A reporter who visited the professor at 3417 Lexington street found a distinguished appearing old German, gray haired, and with the face of a student.

Refuses to Visit Jail.

"If the man in the county jail is my son I don't want to know it," he said. "If the man in jail is my son, then he is the victim of the unfortunate gift of his physique and his appearance, which make him desired by designing women. It always has been so since he has become a man.

"My son is a good man. But he is a man, every inch of him, and human. Never a week goes without I receive a letter from him. I got a letter from him on Saturday from Minneapolis, saying that he was going out on the road again. He is a diamond broker. He has been to South Africa, to Berlin—he is a great expert on diamonds. He receives his own consignments of the gems and conducts a brokerage business.

Son Attractive to Women.

"I have visited him at his home in Minneapolis. He has automobiles and a beautiful home there and a loving wife. I was most hospitably received at his clubs. Whenever he comes to Chicago he comes up to the library and we go out to dine together. I have sat in a café with him when a waiter would bring over a note. My son would hand it to me to read. It would be from some finely dressed woman in the café who wanted to meet him.

"It is women of such character that can bring about the ruin of any man. I am not saying that is the case at present. I am not saying this man is my son, but I do admit he may have fallen to the temptation which women have thrown in his way so often.

"My son is a clean looking, upright man. He has the best education the Jesuit fathers of this country could give. I studied in Rome. His physique and his appearance always have attracted women. He is clever and entertaining, and those who know him swear by his jovial traits. They tell me he is literally a prince of good fellows.

I Won't Let Myself Believe It.

"But then this man in jail is not my son. I won't let myself believe it. They tell me

POPE'S CONDITION MUCH IMPROVED

Speedy Recovery to Normal Health Assured if No Complications Set In.

PATIENT NOW CHEERFUL.

ROME, April 11, 1 a. m.—The change for the better in the condition of Pope Pius X. is absolutely certain and the amelioration is so marked that if no complications intervene his speedy recovery to normal health seems practically assured. At midnight the pontiff was sleeping quietly.

There was a complete absence of fever yesterday and signs that the pope's strength is beginning to return and the reappearance of cheerfulness in the patient are all indications that even the relapse from influenza, which the pope suffered April 8, has been mastered.

Hears Mass; Takes Communion.

The pontiff again was able to hear mass yesterday morning and to take communion. He even sat up in bed while hearing a report from the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val.

His holiness also granted a longer conversation than usual to his sisters and niece, who showed unmistakable signs of relief at the apparent improvement in the pope's health.

Speaking to the Associated Press after visiting their brother, the pope's sisters said:

"Now we breathe again. What we have suffered these last few days is terrible. When he is ill we feel as if we are dying. When he is well we are in a seventh heaven. We live in his life."

Says Pope Is Much Better.

Prof. Marchiafava made the following statement last night to the Associated Press:

"The pope is much better. If there are no complications he will have entirely recovered in a few days. The pope's constitution is robust and he has never wasted his strength. The heart and other organs have done their duty and are performing their functions normally.

"The pontiff had completely recovered from the original attack of influenza, even convalescence was over, and perhaps the relapse was due to the repeated changes in the temperature these last days, during which the pope gave several audiences.

Has No Alarming Symptoms.

"The present illness from which the pope is suffering is merely a recurrence of the disease. No new complication has supervened and no alarming symptom has been present. Certain symptoms, however, which remain and which we must eliminate are incident to influenza and the age of the patient.

"The holy father has always been energetic and a hard worker and suffers when under restraint in bed, but we hope that all symptoms of his present trouble will soon disappear and that he will regain his customary vigor and charming good humor. Probably, if the advice of the medical attendants is followed, as I am sure will be the case, the attack will not leave any ill effects or cause any change in his mode of life.

No Need for Bulletins.

"If instead of the pope some person in the primary walks of life had suffered from a similar attack it would not even have been designated 'illness.' It is entirely false that the pope is afflicted with heart disease.

"Bulletins regarding his condition have not been issued because this is done only in cases of great gravity. Nor is it justifiable to issue such bulletins when the illness is slight in the case of a patient holding exalted office.

"A few months ago Emperor Francis Joseph suffered from an attack of influenza and nobody thought it necessary to publish bulletins of his condition, which would have been absurd.

"The pope certainly needs a period of rest. He must take great care, but I can affirm that within a few days—perhaps two or three—if nothing unforeseen occurs he will be able to resume at least in part the ordinary occupations of his high ministry."

Cardinals Given Good News.

The cardinals who called at the vatican yesterday to make inquiries received the following statement:

"The condition of the pope's health inclines to amelioration. The doctors in attendance gave assurances today that the holy father is on the road to recovery. His illness consists only of a relapse of influenza, much resembling other cases which have occurred lately. The fever has disappeared and the heart and kidneys are acting satisfactorily."

Papal Secretary Off for Rest.

Another evidence of the fact that apprehension is no longer felt is to be found in the fact that Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, left the vatican yesterday and went to his estate nearby to enjoy the open air.

It was reported last night that the pope left his bed for about half an hour early in the evening and sat in an arm chair. When he retired he appeared to be in the best of spirits and even showed a desire to take nourishment.

After his evening visit Prof. Marchiafava decided that it was not necessary for Dr. Amici to keep a night watch in the antechamber.

CHAMBERMAIDS START FIRE IN HOTEL AFTER LOSING JOBS.

"Better Beat It," Mother and Daughter Warn Guests Just Before the Sparks Begin to Show.

Mrs. Carrie Pickers and her daughter Lizzie, chambermaids at the Adams hotel, 1522 West Adams street, were discharged last night.

"Better get out," they warned guests, "we're going to burn the place."

The guests laughed. But the maids repaired to the attic, sprinkled kerosene over a pile of rubbish, set it afire, and then departed in a shower of sparks.

The guests, in night apparel or less, almost beat them to the street, having been again warned by Lizzie that there was "something doing." The mother was caught an hour later, but Lizzie is still loose. The blaze was extinguished with trifling loss.

The men are brothers-in-law. Richert said that he has ten children and Pawlowski stated he has eleven. Under the law the children will automatically be citizens when they reach their majorities.

PULMOTOR GIVES LIFE TO AN INFANT

Baby Pronounced Dead at Birth Is Kept Breathing by Use of the Machine.

MEN WORKING IN RELAYS

Three men and a pulmotor are keeping Baby Ters alive at his parents' home, 1904 South Fortieth avenue. Since Baby Ters was born at 4:30 a. m. yesterday a pulmotor operated by three men has been pumping oxygen into his lungs. The men are working in shifts.

Physicians in attendance fear the baby will die unless the oxygen is pumped into his lungs constantly. They also say he will die unless given nourishment. They fear to stop the pulmotor long enough to give him proper food. The father, Arthur Ters, a printer employed by the International Harvester company, will not leave the bedside for fear the men might stop the pulmotor.

Physicians say the suspense may result fatally to the mother.

Neighbors Offer Their Aid.

The baby's case has stirred the entire neighborhood, and twenty-five men volunteered to take turns in relieving the pulmotor operators whenever necessary. The physicians are hoping the infant may gain strength enough from the artificial respiration to permit a sufficient pause for feeding it. Its heart action, however, at times becomes so feeble that it is scarcely detectable.

When the child was born the physician attending the mother pronounced it dead and stated at the time that the mother also might die. Ters asked for a more rigid examination, and the physician said he could detect the faintest sign of a heart beat, but that nothing except perhaps the pulmotor could keep the heart in action, and the length of time would be problematical.

Pulmotor Sent to Home.

Ters called up the Commonwealth Edison company and John O'Reilly and John McDowell were sent to the home with the machine. A third man was sent out when O'Reilly found it necessary to return to the company's plant for more oxygen.

The pulmotor's pumping met with no response at first. Then the heart beats increased in frequency and strength, but as soon as any attempt was made to ease up the heart's action would again become practically nil.

MILLION FOR HAMMOND HOMES.

Manufacturers Plan to Build Houses to Be Sold on Easy Terms.

Hammond, Ind., April 10.—A thousand workingmen's homes, to be built at a cost of $1,500,000 and to be purchased by men whose sole claim for credit is that they have saved $100, will be built in Hammond. A group of manufacturers has devised the plan to solve the housing problem in the Calumet region and to do away with transients. Purchasers will assign from $2 to $5 a week to the housing company.

Man Accused by Driver Leaps on Box, Drives a Mile, and Then Slumbers.

John Ehm of 303 West One Hundred and Tenth street, was arrested last night after he had stolen the cab of Niels Jensen, at the Thirty-first street station of the Illinois Central railroad. He drove the horse to Fifty-fifth street and Wentworth avenue, where he fell asleep.

DOUBLE INQUIRY NOW IN SIGHT FOR VOTE DEVICE DEAL

County Judge Hears from Springfield; Asks Grand Jury to Probe Big Purchase.

HEADS OFF LEGISLATORS?

House Passes Butts Resolution Calling for Early Quiz of Empire Machine Contract.

RYAN WANTS A GENERAL "PROBE"

The million dollar voting machine "deal" seems due for a thorough airing.

Just after the house in Springfield adopted the resolution for a legislative inquiry into the scandal County Judge Owens yesterday afternoon sent to State's Attorney Hoyne a written demand for a grand jury inquiry into the same interesting matter. Judge Owens is in control of the election board which contracted to buy the 1,000 machines.

While Mr. Hoyne made no formal statement, it is probable an investigation under the direction of the state's attorney will be started before any legislative committee can begin its work, although he may have to hurry. The senate is expected to indorse the proposed legislative inquiry, and its proponents hope the assembly committee will be named and ready for business by next Friday.

Although criticism after criticism has been directed against the election board and its $1,000,000 voting machine investment, yesterday was the first time the H-H faction, which is charged with engineering the deal, was aroused to action. The idea is that the special grand jury motion is aimed to checkmate Springfield.

Owens Feels Attack Personally.

Judge Owens, it was said, was in long distance communication with Springfield before he issued his letter to Mr. Hoyne. The H-H legislators have been fighting desperately any move to investigate the deal. It is believed Judge Owens took his step only after a final consultation with the H-H leaders now in the city.

In his letter Judge Owens defends the election board as his own appointees and declares the seriousness of the charges reflect upon him as well as upon the commissioners.

A letter sent by Commissioners Taylor, Kellermann, and Czarnecki and Chief Clerk William Stuart of the board to Judge Owens asking that some investigation of their conduct be made, instigated the letter to Hoyne.

Wants Grand Jury Investigation.

"If there has been anything wrong in connection with the purchase of the voting machines," said Judge Owens, in an interview, "it is the duty of the state's attorney to investigate. A special grand jury could be called to go into this matter thoroughly.

"I think it is due to the election board as well as to the County judge who made the appointments that such an investigation be made. Every fact in connection with the purchase of the voting machines, the arguments that were made before the city council and the different orders of the city council, should all be inquired into.

"The charges which have been bandied about should come within the scope of the state's attorney and I think they should be investigated by Mr. Hoyne. Since I have been County judge I have made a determined fight for the purification of the election machinery of Cook county.

"Any charges made against the conduct of the election commissioners is a reflection upon the County judge and I demand as my right that the grand jury—a special grand jury if necessary—have called to its attention this matter."

Letter Quotes Charges.

In his letter to Mr. Hoyne Judge Owens said:

"There has been introduced in the state legislature a resolution of inquiry into what is called a 'voting machine fraud' in connection with the administration of election laws in this city, and there have appeared from time to time in the public press, both direct charges and insinuations of fraud and irregularities in connection with the introduction of voting machines in this city.

"The election law vests in the county judge, which office I hold, supreme responsibility for the purity of elections, including the appointment of election commissioners, who have direct charge of all matters pertaining to the conduct of elections in this city. Officially responsible, therefore, for all changes in election machinery in this city, and particularly for the recent contract to install voting machines, it is my earnest request that you, as state's attorney, shall probe to the bottom all charges of fraud or irregularities in connection with the said voting machine contract.

Grand Jury Inquiry Preferable?

"I urge upon you the impossibility of collecting evidence, claimed or real, that may be relied upon to substantiate such charges of fraud or irregularities, except through the inquisitorial powers of a grand jury, and I strongly urge that you, as state's attorney, shall immediately subpoena to appear as witnesses before the April grand jury all persons in any way responsible for such charges, and also all such persons as have now, or have had in the past, any connection with the installation of voting machines in this city."

The letter then proceeds to recite the various steps taken in the making of the voting machine contract.

HOUSE PASSES BUTTS BILL.

Springfield, Ill., April 10.—(Special.)—The Butts resolution calling for a far-reaching investigation of allegations concerning the Chicago voting machine deal was passed by the house today in the identical form in which it was introduced by the Peoria member. It now goes to the senate for concurrence.

Leading members of all parties in the upper branch expressed the opinion tonight that similar action will be taken probably next Wednesday, and that the investigation can be started with the recess of the legislature next Friday.

The resolution was adopted after all parliamentary methods of holding back consideration had been exhausted, and after Speaker McKinley had ruled out of order two amendments which Mr. Butts considered "cripplers."

Beat Shurtleff Amendment.

One of these came from Representative Shurtleff. It provided that the committee should be directed specifically to inquire into the financial transactions of all state, county, and municipal offices, and their intermediate offices, handling in any way public funds, and into the appropriations made by the legislature for any and all purposes since June 1, 1903, the date set for the investigation of the voting machine deal to begin with in the Butts resolution.

It specifically mentioned the West Park board of Chicago, and the office of state auditor and state treasurer, the board of review, and the board of assessors of Cook county, as offices to be dealt with in the beginning.

Attempt of Ryan Follows.

The other came from Representative Frank J. Ryan, Democrat, of Chicago. Mr. Ryan sought yesterday to table the Butts resolution without further ado. His resolution today bore all the earmarks of having been prepared by gentlemen in close touch with city hall Democracy.

It cited that there has existed a gigantic conspiracy among the public utility companies in Chicago and Peoria to make corrupt bargains with legislatures and city councils, and it directed that there be an immediate legislative investigation of the proceedings leading to the granting of the Ogden gas franchise and the relations with legislative and municipal bodies of all of the big gas, electric light, and power companies now doing business in Chicago.

Speaker McKinley held, with a point of order raised by Representative Butts, that the matter contained was not germane to the main resolution.

As soon as the Butts resolution was adopted Mr. Ryan offered his resolution again as new matter, and, defended by Lee O'Neil Browne, the Ryan resolution was made a special order for consideration immediately after the reading of the journal next Wednesday morning.

Calls for Quick Inquiry.

The Butts resolution, as adopted by the house, calls for a committee of six senators and six representatives to make an immediate investigation of everything which may be adduced fully uncovering the inside of the million dollar voting machine deal. The inquiry is to start with the passage of the voting machine law in 1903, the indorsement of the Empire machine by the state voting machine commission, and the transactions between the board of election commissioners and the Empire concern, and the subsequent developments since the effort has been made to install physically the machines in the Chicago voting precincts.

The house committee membership is to be named by Chairman James A. Watson, Republican, of Elizabethtown, chairman of the house elections committee. The senate's six are to be chosen by the senate executive committee, which names all of the senate committees.

Speaker to Keep Hands Off.

It is probable there will be no Cook county members on the committee so far as the house end of it is concerned. The speaker, it is learned, did not want to name the house contingent, and it was so plainly stated by Representative Butts on the floor.

Mr. Butts said that the peculiar condition, with two Democratic factions arrayed against each other in Chicago, made it unwise for the speaker to be placed in the attitude of taking either side, and he let it be known that it is eminently satisfactory to the speaker that this duty be passed over to Chairman Watson of the elections committee.

Denies Rumor of Collusion.

There are rumors which allege representatives of a rival of the Empire voting machine concern have been in Springfield for two months and have sought to have introduced such a resolution as the Butts proposition.

Representative Butts tonight repudiated any such suggestion as having been responsible for his course.

"I alone am responsible for the resolution," Mr. Butts said. "I went to Chicago as a member of the subcommittee of the elections committee and I saw conditions first hand, sufficient to warrant the passage of the resolution. What I saw has been supplemented by the affidavits which are on file with the elections committee in connection with pending cases. Moreover, since the matter has been made public, I have been approached by many of the best and most representative members of the Cook county delegation who have assured me that the resolution is right and that it was proper that it should come from a downstate man."

Delay Consideration of Resolution.

Consideration of the Butts amendment had been fixed for immediately after the reading of the journal this morning, but the house machinery moved slowly and a little of everything was transacted before Mr. Butts demanded and secured recognition.

Representative Shanahan demanded to know the excuse for permitting the committee to report to some special session or to the next general assembly, which has been provided in an amendment offered by Mr. Butts. The Peoria man said that there will be not more than twenty working days remaining of this session on which the committee could work.

Mr. Ryan then put in his amendment referring to the public service corporations, and it was ruled out of order.

Mr. O'Rourke of Cook came along with an amendment directing the judiciary committee to prepare and report favorably without delay a bill repealing the voting machine law, which was defeated, when Mr. Butts explained that that would not cure the situation sought to be remedied and would have no effect upon the allegations made regarding the million dollar deal.

Beat Down All Opposition.

Representative Clyne of Kane moved that the resolution go to the judiciary committee, and this was defeated. Representative Shanahan wanted to know how much money would be required, and Representative Butts said that not more than $5,000 or $10,000 would be needed.

Representative Morris of Sangamon offered an amendment to authorize the speaker and not the chairman of the elections committee to name the house members, and this was defeated.

Representatives Shanahan and Rapp stood for appointment by the speaker and Representative Browne advised the house that "if you are not four flushing and dealing in bunk, let the resolution stand as it is, and not put it up to the speaker to mix in a family affair in Chicago."

Representative Burns wanted to know what influence had caused the authority to be taken from the speaker, and Representative Butts replied that there had been no pressure from any source and that it was the sensible way to proceed.

Representative Shurtleff then offered his amendment, which went out on a point of order.

To this Mr. Butts replied that such a committee would lack power to subpœna books and documents or to require attendance after the adjournment of the legislature, and it was defeated.

The Butts resolution was then adopted by a big majority by viva voce vote.

What Ryan Resolution Covers.

The text of the Ryan resolution, made a special order for next Wednesday, follows:

"Whereas, There is a general belief that newspapers published in the state of Illinois and particularly in the county of Cook are dominated and controlled by public service corporations, and the policies of said papers otherwise directed than by the nominal owners and editors thereof, and it is believed on account of the fact that such papers have great influence on elections and legislation that it would be in the interests of public policy to have the names of all stockholders, bondholders, mortgagees, and the names of any and all other persons who have in any way contributed financial or other assistance, either directly or indirectly, towards the publication of said newspapers made public.

"Whereas, The activities of public service corporations in the politics of the state and particularly of Cook county and Chicago have been notorious, and it is a general belief that the officials, directors, agents, and representatives of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, the Commonwealth-Edison company, the Chicago Telephone company, the Chicago Railways company, the Chicago City railway company, and other corporations, have unlawfully expended large sums of money to corruptly obtain public contracts and to corruptly influence legislation, both in the legislature of the state of Illinois and the city councils of Chicago, Peoria, and other cities, and to corruptly influence the election of public officials in the state of Illinois, and to corruptly influence legislation in the general assembly of Illinois, and it is generally believed that bribery has been practiced by representatives of these corporations to influence such legislation and said elections.

Hits Dishonest Elections.

"Whereas, During the term of office of that board of election commissioners of the city of Chicago which immediately preceded the present board, a grand jury of the county of Cook made a report stating in substance that it was the belief of the members of the grand jury that not an honest election had been held in the county of Cook for ten years;

"Whereas, During the term of office of the board of election commissioners immediately preceding the present board of election commissioners of the city of Chicago, it is believed that there existed a gigantic conspiracy, engineered by the shrewd intelligence of powerful and corrupt influences, to induce the said board of election commissioners to purchase voting machines for the said city of Chicago at a grossly excessive price, to the detriment of the people of Chicago.

"Whereas, It is generally believed that a conspiracy has existed between certain individuals, firms, and corporations in Cook county, Ill., and the board of review of Cook county, Ill., to corruptly and unlawfully fix valuations on property both real and personal in Cook county, inequitably and unjustly, and that said conspiracy has resulted in bribery of public officials and their subordinates.

"Whereas, There is a general belief that the same condition has existed relative to the board of assessors of Cook county, Ill., and the state board of equalization.

"Whereas, There is a general belief that the public offices of the county of Cook and of the park boards and of the sanitary district of Chicago have been so corruptly managed as to result in a willful waste of public funds to the benefit of favored politicians, firms, and public utility and other corporations.

Takes Fling at Ogden Gas.

"Whereas, It has been charged that public officials, firms, corporations, and individuals illegally conspired together, to the great injury of the people of Chicago, to pass in the city council of the city of Chicago what is commonly known as the Ogden gas franchise, which franchise, it has been charged, has been used as a club to levy tribute to its owners from other firms, corporations, and individuals, and to influence legislation and elections.

"Whereas, There is a general belief that a conspiracy exists to the injury of the people of Chicago between the Cosmopolitan Electric company and the Commonwealth Edison company.

"Whereas, All of the aforesaid conspiracies and exercise of corrupt influences have tended to corrupt all elections held in the state of Illinois, county of Cook, and city of Chicago.

Asks Board of Inquiry.

"Be it resolved, By the house of representatives, the senate concurring therein, that a committee be appointed to consist of six members from the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of said house, and six members from the senate, appointed by the president of the senate, the speaker of the house to be chairman thereof and ex-officio a member thereof, to investigate all the matters hereinbefore set forth relative to the bearing the same had, may or might have had, or may in the future exercise on elections held for the state of Illinois, county of Cook, or city of Chicago."

The resolution further gave the committee power to compel attendance of witnesses.

EXTENDS ITS HOURS OF LABOR

House to Meet Mondays and Fridays Till Session Ends.

BILL TO RECALL JUDGES.

Fitch Measure Goes to Judiciary; Initiative and Referendum First.

Springfield, Ill., April 10.—[Special.]—The house today adopted the report of the rules committee providing for a session Friday and Monday of each week from now until the close of the session. The first Friday session will be staged tomorrow.

Judging by the outward bound tide of legislators this afternoon and tonight there will be no quorum in the house. The senate went home by agreement.

In the house Representative Fitch, Progressive, introduced a resolution for a constitutional amendment regarding the recall of judicial decisions. It went to the judiciary committee, where it is scheduled to stay, unless heroic efforts are made in its behalf.

All of the fight on constitutional amendments is centered on the initiative and referendum. Senator Piercy, in charge of the administration amendment, gave out a statement tonight saying that the initiative and referendum will come to a vote in the senate Wednesday, and asking friends of the measure over the state to write or telegraph their senators to line up for it.

The Hurburgh anti-pass bill, drafted as a committee measure to conform with the federal law, was reported to the senate today and is scheduled for rapid action next week.

Senator Ettelson, chairman of the license committee, named Senators Dailey, Campbell, and Brady as a subcommittee on the county local option bill.

The house judiciary committee reported out the senate Landee bulk sales bill.

Sixty bills were introduced in the senate and house today. The time limit for introduction of bills in the house was shoved forward one week to April 22.

PLANS FOR MORGAN'S FUNERAL MADE BY FINANCIER HIMSELF.

Instructions Written by Him Some Time Before His Death Will Be Carried Out Next Monday.

New York, April 10.—Arrangements for the funeral of J. Pierpont Morgan, closely following instructions written by him some time before his death, were announced this afternoon by St. George's Episcopal church of this city, where the services will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Bishop Greer of the Episcopal diocese of New York will conduct the service, assisted by Bishops Lawrence of Massachusetts and Brewster of Connecticut and the Rev. Karl Reiland, rector of St. George's. Their selection for this office was among the late financier's instructions.

The simple Episcopal service will be followed rigorously and hymns chosen by Mr. Morgan will be sung. The honorary pallbearers will be George S. Bowdoin, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Robert W. De Forrest, Henry Fairfield Osborn, Joseph H. Choate, Robert Bacon, George F. Baker, James W. Markle, Elbert H. Gary, Seth Low, Morton S. Paton, and Elihu Root.

PLAN GIVES STOCKHOLDERS DIVIDEND OF 900 PER CENT.

Continental Oil Company of Colorado Wants to Take Over the Standard's Old Iowa Subsidiary Concern.

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—Stockholders of the Continental Oil company of Iowa, a former subsidiary of the Standard Oil company, have been notified of a plan of the Continental Oil company of Colorado which, if accepted, will bring them a 900 per cent stock dividend.

The Colorado company was organized recently with a capital of $3,000,000, and the big stock dividend will result from the purchase of the business and the assets of the Iowa company.

The plan calls for the exchange of ten shares of the Colorado Oil company for each share of the Iowa company. The shares of the Continental Oil company of Iowa were quoted on the curb today at around $4,000 a share.

"MAN OF MYSTERY" STILL A PUZZLE

here at the house that it is not he. No, I will not see him, because I could not stand the shock. My name is known to the medical fraternity around the world. My name has never been connected with crime. I cannot stand it."

Dr. von Klein broke down while talking with the reporter. Mrs. von Klein terminated the interview by mentioning his poor health. He is 71 years old. His greatest world work was the translation several years ago of a papyrus in the Royal Prussian university at Leipsig. It is more than 7,000 years old, was written on the subject of medicine, and dates back before the time of hieroglyphics. Dr. von Klein has devoted his life and a fortune of half a million dollars to his work of medical research and the compilation of medical data.

He has a study in the Crerar library, where he privately conducts this work, and receives an income from honorariums from physicians the world over.

It became apparent during the day that agencies are at work secretly attempting to pry Von Klein out of his county jail cell. Four lawyers have been retained in his behalf. They include Charles E. Erbstein, Emile V. Van Beaver, Charles V. Barrett, and James A. Scott.

This group of legal advisers will go into court this morning and attempt to get a writ of habeas corpus for their client.

If the man who is in the county jail is not E. C. C. von Klein then E. C. C. von Klein has disappeared. When that young man was last heard of he was a diamond broker in Minenapolis. He had a wife there. She is now in Fergus Falls, but has been asked by the authorities to come to Chicago. He has a handsome residence in Minneapolis and four automobiles.

Before Von Klein went to Minneapolis he and his wife lived in Evanston. He was known there as a diamond broker. He seemed to be the possessor of great wealth, and the two were regarded as the happiest young couple in the suburb. Von Klein built the first bungalow on the north shore. While he lived in Evanston he maintained a stable as wel las several automobiles.

Start in Pompeian Room.

The prisoner was cutting a swath in the Pompeian room of the Congress hotel last Sunday night, when two young women caught a glimpse of him. They nearly fainted.

"Why, it's 'Jack' Lewis! O, say, come over, Jack!" called Miss Ethel Newcomb.

"It is Jack!" ejaculated her sister.

"My name's Jack, all right, but not Lewis," replied the young man.

"We can't be mistaken," said the young women in unison.

"Well, you sure are," answered the man. "But come, little girls, step up to the Blackstone and we'll talk it over at supper."

The two young women went.

"Jack" was suave, and had practically convinced Ethel Newcomb she was mistaken in her own husband when the other Miss Newcomb summoned a policeman and had "Lewis" locked up.

"Mistake," Says Prisoner.

"It's a mistake; or she's some chorus girl who is seeking publicity," the prisoner told the police. "I'll prove my alibi at the eleventh hour. But I'll stay here until hades freezes over before I will reveal my identity. There are no fond parents and no anxious wife awaiting my coming. I am not missed. I am a man of leisure."

The prisoner was practically free from identification marks. A little notebook, however, solved the mystery. He had been detected trying to get rid of it. It showed an entry of telephone Kedzie 5759, registered in the name of Roy B. Mohr, 3417 Lexington street. Inquiry revealed that Prof. Von Klein, attached to the John Crerar library, lived in the flat over Mohr and used that phone. Nobody was sure of the connection, but persons were found who knew Prof. Von Klein had a son in the diamond brokerage business in Minneapolis. Sergt. George C. Pestka of the Evanston police visited the prisoner on Wednesday night and positively identified him as E. C. C. Von Klein. The prisoner laughed and said "guess again."

Yesterday E. M. Morries and other Evanstonians went to the jail and positively identified Von Klein. But again the prisoner laughed.

"Von Klein, why don't you admit your identity now?" he was asked after all the evidence was gathered.

"The cop's wrong, all the women are mistaken, and I'll convince you beyond all reasonable doubt tomorrow," he said quietly.

Von Klein's Evanston Career.

Young Von Klein arirved in Evanston nearly seven years ago, shortl yafter the slaying of Stanford White, the New York architect, by Harry K. Thaw. The date is recalled by the fact that Von Klein carried in his train two speedy black thoroughbreds which he said he had purchased from the White stables. They weer about the fastest in Evanston and Von Klein took considerable pride in them.

Another claim to fame in Evanston was Von Klein's erection of the first bungalow the north shore city had seen. It is still standing in Lee street, back of the old Christian church, and it was sold by Von Klein to Robert F. Miln, with whom the prisoner was in telephone communication after his arrest. That conversation included a request to "let Louis and C. A. know" he was in trouble again. Von Klein has a brother Louis.

Von Klein breezed around there for some time and then left for Minneapolis. Last fall he was back for a few days, telling his acquaintances he was prospering as a diamond broker. Last week he was there again.

Pranks Give Clew to Identity.

"I guessed his identity as soon as I read of his pranks," said O. M. Morris, an Evanston photographer. "I went down to see him. I stood in front of his cell and recognized him immediately. 'You don't know me, do you?' he said as soon as he had caught his breath—and winked hard. 'No,' I answered, 'I don't know you.' The fact is I hate to identify him now, even though he 'did' me out of a small bill.

"He always gave the appearance of wealth. A scarab ring he wore he said was from the tomb of one of the Pharaohs and could not be bought for $5,000. Last fall he was carrying a collection of diamonds loose in his pocket."

A dispatch from Minneapolis states that yesterday at the E. C. C. Von Klein residence, 3024 Irving avenue south, there was nobody home but Marie Von Klein, a sister, who just returned from a tour of the orient and the Philippines, and who was on her way to Chicago to marry a United States army lieutenant she met in China.

"If he married another woman—one besides the wife he married twelve years ago—he ought to be shot, but I don't believe he did," said the sister. "He was the sole support of his father and mother, and looked after all their wants. Father once was exceedingly wealthy, but spent his fortune in research work."

RICH MEMPHIS MAN MISSING.

John W. Martin Said to Have Had Large Sum of Money When He Disappeared in London.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 11, 3 a. m.—The Express makes a sensation of a story of the mysterious disappearance of Joseph Wilberforce Martin of Memphis, Tenn., whom it describes as a wealthy man.

The fact that he had a large sum of money in his pockets makes Mr. Martin's friends fear a crime. He was of abstemious habits.

DAVIES' OUSTING ONLY A STARTER

Rumor Asserts Similar Fate Awaits the State Food and Game Commissioners.

AX SWUNG BY BURDETTE.

Cipher Telegram from O'Connell Said to Have Ordered the Resignations.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., April 10.—[Special.]—James H. Burdette, president of the state civil service commission, made a personal demand last night that Edgar T. Davies, until this morning state factory inspector, offer his resignation immediately or that charges would be preferred against him.

Mr. Davies resigned rather than make a fight under the circumstances, and his resignation was accepted. Barney Cohen, chief deputy inspector, was placed in charge of the office.

There were repeated rumors that a like demand was made upon State Game Commissioner John A. Wheeler, who is also under civil service.

Reports are conflicting as to the facts. Gov. Dunne says he knows nothing of it. President Burdette went to Chicago without replying to direct questions regarding the Wheeler matter. As for Mr. Wheeler, he says his resignation has not been demanded by the commission and if it should be he will not resign without a fight and a trial on charges properly prefered.

Ousting of Others Rumored.

It is understood two more heads of departments, under civil service, are in the same category with Wheeler and are expected to quit without further ado. One of these is said to be A. H. Jones, state food commissioner, and the other Acting State Fire Marshal F. A. Mogridge.

Another rumor, which cannot be confirmed, is that the sudden activity with respect to the four civil service men began with the receipt of a telegram in cipher from County Treasurer William L. O'Connell, which said in substance that resignations of the four should be requested immediately.

Under the civil service law it will be necessary for the state commission to hold an examination and pending the certification of an eligible list the governor may make sixty day appointments.

Food Commissioner Jones already has offered his resignation to be effective at the will of the governor.

Mogridge Successor to Doyle.

Acting Fire Marshal Mogridge has been in his position since his predecessor, C. J. Doyle, took office as secretary of state by appointment of Gov. Deneen at the death of James A. Rose. It has been supposed a natural vacancy existed in that place.

In addition to the troubles of Game Warden Wheeler, Secretary of State Woods directed that the civil service commission take over the rooms in the capitol lately occupied by the game department, and without any notice the civil service folks moved in and Warden Wheeler's stuff was moved out. The Wheeler case, if pressed, is likely to develop a hot fight.

Secretary Robinson of the civil service commission said no official action has been taken by the commission in any of the cases mentioned.

SENATE CITES JOHN HILL JR. TO ANSWER CONTEMPT CHARGE

Chicago Broker Called Upon to Substantiate Allegation That Money Expedited Passage of Board of Trade Bill.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., April 10.—[Special.]—John Hill Jr. will be haled before the bar of the senate next Thursday to show cause why he shall not be punished for contempt of the senate for his intimation that a fund had been raised to expedite the passage of the so-called puts and calls bill.

Senator C. C. Clark, who feels personally grieved at the Hill statement, offered the resolution providing for such action, and it was adopted after a spectacular passage at arms between Senator Clark and Senator John E. Madigan.

"I want to call attention to the fact," said Madigan, "that this is an effort of Senator Clark to cover up the matter and not to shed light upon Hill's charges."

"I'd cut my tongue out or resign my seat in this senate before I would so impugn the motive of a fellow member," said Clark. "That man who has done so is a dirty cur." Clark stated, pointing his finger at Madigan. Both resolutions were adopted.

KIRBY LAWYERS ACCUSED BY JURY

Report Accompanying Doctor's Indictment Recommends Four Be Cited.

CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT

Attorneys Are Alleged to Have Conspired to Deceive Judge Landis.

A federal grand jury yesterday made a complete job of indicting Dr. William T. Kirby, the head of the wrecked Kirby bank, and reported recommending that his wife and their four lawyers be cited for contempt of court.

The four lawyers are accused of conspiracy to deceive Judge Landis by means of a fraudulent adjudication of insanity into throwing Kirby's estate into a receivership. They are: P. H. O'Donnell, Thomas B. Lantry, James Rosenthal, F. J. Houlihan.

When the contempt cases are disposed of, the lawyers will face an investigation by the Bar association. Some time ago Judge Landis made the charge in court there had been perjury in the Kirby case and intimated the lawyers knew all about it.

Bar Association Waits.

Rosenthal then asked for a Bar association investigation. Such an inquiry had been begun when it was learned the grand jury was considering the case of the lawyers. The Bar association then dropped its inquiry. It was stated last night, however, by John T. Richards, the Bar association's president, that the investigation was merely held in abeyance until after the court had taken action in the case.

"What we will do," said Mr. Richards, "will depend to some extent on what is done in the contempt matters."

The indictments and the report were returned before Judge Landis. Two indictments were returned against Dr. Kirby. One of the true bills charges that he concealed assets of the private bank from the Central Trust Company of Illinois, trustee for the bankrupt. The other charges that he committed perjury in testimony given as a witness in the bankruptcy hearing.

Judge Sets Contempt Hearing.

The judge by whose direction the grand jury action was taken, set the hearing of the contempt charges against the lawyers and Mrs. Kirby for April 21. He declared he would not hear the case himself, but would at that time designate the jurist.

Assistant United States District Attorney Elwood G. Godman, who has had charge of the inquiry, was instructed to continue the investigation. It was declared probable more will be involved before the inquisitorial body makes its final report.

On the subject of contempt the report charges that Dr. and Mrs. Kirby and Attorney Langtry conspired to perpetrate fraud on the County court by causing Dr. Kirby to be adjudged insane on Nov. 1, 1912, a few days subsequent to the closing of the bank.

The report says they "conspired, confederated, and agreed together unlawfully and fraudulently to file in the County court a petition praying for an adjudication of insanity of Dr. Kirby as a means whereby he might escape criminal prosecution and possible punishment on account of the felonious conversion by him of a sum of $10,000."

Asserts Lawyers Knew of Fraud.

The other three lawyers, the report states, were retained in behalf of Dr. Kirby in the bankruptcy proceedings, and it is alleged they knew his petition of insanity was fraudulent.

The assertion that Dr. Kirby had been of unsound mind for more than two years preceding the filing of the insanity petition were branded as false.

STORY OF BOY, 9, CONVICTS MAN WHO SOLD FATHER DRINK.

Saloonkeeper Mulcted Under Dramshop Law After Youngster Tells of Beer He Got for Parent.

The star witness in a case tried before Judge Gemmill yesterday was George Cronk, a 9 year old boy.

Mrs. William Cronk, the boy's mother, had caused Louis Rickert, a saloon man at 1528 North Paulina street, to appear in court on a charge of selling liquor to the boy. The case was prosecuted by the Citizens' league under the dramshop law of Illinois.

Mrs. Cronk testified that when she was returning from a grocery last Friday she met her son with three bottles of beer in his arms. He took one of the bottles away from him and permitted him to deliver the other two to his father. An hour after she went into Rickert's saloon and succeeded in taking a glass of whisky from her husband, who was drinking before the bar.

The boy took the witness chair and so convincingly told how he bought the beer while his father was at home, that the judge fined the saloon man $50 and costs. William Cronk is a mechanic able to earn $100 a month when he is not drinking, declared his wife. The saloon man admitted that Cronk had been in the saloon perhaps fifteen times.

JURY AWARDS WIDOW $5,000 IN SUIT AGAINST TWO MEN.

Woman Charged Conspiracy of Merchant and Farmer to Obtain Love Letters Latter Wrote Her.

Mrs. Savannah Maeder, a widow, secured $5,000 damages by the verdict of a jury before Judge Pope in the Circuit court yesterday in her conspiracy suit against Kary Stevens, a wealthy farmer and banker of McLean county, Illinois, and Leroy Hanna, a stockyards commission merchant.

Mrs. Maeder told the jury that Stevens had written her a number of love letters, and that, with the assistance of Hanna, attempted to regain possession of them.

She said Stevens made love to her following their meeting in the fall of 1907, although he has a wife and eight children at Bloomington. Several of Stevens' letters were introduced by her lawyers. They contained endearing messages.

FORMER POLICE JUSTICE HELD.

Fred Beiswanger Arrested on Charge of Selling Partnership and Retaining the Money.

Fred Beiswanger, former justice of the peace of Niles Center, Ill., was arrested yesterday on a charge of operating a confidence game. His arrest was caused by William M. Bansley, a resident of Riverside, Ill. Beiswanger, who was ousted from his position by County Judge Owens, for malfeasance in office, advertised for a partner in the slot machine business a month ago. Bansley answered the advertisement and formed a partnership with Beiswanger, but was not satisfied and demanded his money. When Beiswanger refused to refund he procured a warrant for his arrest.

KEPT OFF STAGE; SUES PAPA

Mrs. Mildred Cherrill Demands $100,000 of J. W. Considine.

MILLIONAIRE 'DAD' STINGY?

Woman Has Had $1,000 to Live On Fifteen Years?

John W. Considine, one of the vaudeville kings, and a Chicago vaudeville manager, Fred Lincoln, are made defendants in a suit for $100,000 which Considine's daughter says she has lost through her rich but "hard hearted" father's unwillingness to have her go on the stage.

The precipe of the suit was filed yesterday in Superior court. The daughter, Mrs. Mildred Considine Cherrill, declares her father not only prevents her appearing on his circuit or writing plays produced there, but also has entered into a conspiracy with other managers to bar her altogether from footlight fame.

"He doesn't want any of his family to go on the stage," she said. "At least he doesn't want any one to know about it."

There was apparently no stormy interview with the immobile father. The daughter has not seen him, she says, since he divorced her mother twenty years ago. But she knows his attitude. What proof she has, aside from her inability to obtain contracts, she will make known when the case comes to trial.

Her Father a Millionaire.

"My father is a millionaire," she continued, "but in the past fifteen years he has given me but $1,000. That is not enough to live on. And half of that was turned over to a Wesley hospital physician to assist in paying for an operation some time ago. When he would give me nothing I tried to make my way in the theatrical world, but he had me placed on a blacklist with the booking agencies."

Mrs. Cherrill is living in Chicago with her mother, now Mrs. Wallace Brown, her exact whereabouts not yet made known by her attorney. Considine is generally in Seattle.

Considine is the largest owner of the Princess circuit of low priced vaudeville theaters throughout the country. He owns two theaters in Chicago—at Sixty-third and Halsted and Sixty-third street and Cottage Grove avenue.

Some years ago he owned a saloon in Chicago. Later he went to Seattle, Wash. There he was acquitted of the slaying of Chief of Police W. L. Meredith. Afterward he entered the theatrical business.

Deserted Wife for Stage.

Her husband deserted her and went upon the stage, alleges Mrs. John H. F. O'Neil in a suit for alienation of affections. She names her parents-in-law, John Gerald O'Neil, a contracting engineer living at 5019 Calumet avenue, and his wife. The amount asked is $20,000.

At one time, according to Mrs. O'Neil, her husband engaged in the practice of medicine in Chicago. But he tired of the medical profession.

"My husband's mother was the cause of it all," said Mrs. O'Neil, at 5847 Calumet avenue. "She bought John monologues and music and encouraged him to go upon the stage."

O'Neil was booked as "Doc O'Neil, dispensing his original laugh prescriptions."

Mrs. O'Neil alleges her baby died in June, 1912, because her husband neglected to maintain her properly, despite a court order.

STEALS STAMP VENDING DEVICE.

Thief Walks Into Drug Store, Lifts Machine from Counter, and Departs.

The strange behavior of Americans is furnishing more and more surprise for Constantine Salopoulos, a druggist at 748 Blue Island avenue, brother of the Greek consul in Chicago. Last night a stranger entered his drug store, looked around casually, discovered the new stamp vending machine, lifted it off the counter, and dashed out the door. Salopoulos was too surprised to follow until the thief was out of sight.

M'DONALD TRUST TO STAND.

Judge Dever Refuses to Set Aside Terms of Will at Request of Two Heirs.

Judge William E. Dever in the Superior court yesterday refused to set aside the trust provisions in the will of the late Michael McDonald, who left a $1,000,000 estate. Casius and Harold McDonald, the two heirs, sought to have the estate distributed immediately. Judge Dever said that it was the duty of the court to carry out the intention of the testator. The trust estate will not terminate for twenty years.

CHIEF M'WEENY LEAVES CITY: MAY BE ON MARRIAGE BENT.

Rumor That Head of Chicago Police Has Gone to Be United with Mrs. Margaret Stahl—She Denies.

Chief of Police John McWeeny left Chicago last night, and word went through the department that he had taken a furlough to be married to Mrs. Margaret Stahl, a widow who resides at 4829 Vincennes avenue.

At midnight Mrs. Stahl denied the report over the telephone, but, like Barkis, she said she was "willin'." "I know he's out of town," she said, "and I'm here, so how could we be married?"

James McWeeny, a brother of the chief, also was skeptical. He said he saw the chief last Saturday and the latter said nothing to him about getting married or of his intention to leave the city on a furlough.

But he is gone. That much is certain. His daughter said she understood he went to St. Louis on "personal business." She knew the nature of his errand there, she said, but was not at liberty to reveal it.

"He will be back in a day or two," she said. "I know he did not go there to be married. He said he'd tell me if he decided to marry again."

If the chief intended to be gone only a day or two, policemen say, he would not have issued a general order relative to his absence. The order is as follows:

"To the Department: During the temporary absence from the city of General Superintendent McWeeny, First Assistant Deputy H. F. Schuettler will be in charge of this department."

SEES END OF CITY PARTIES.

Charles E. Merriam, Greeted by 500 Friends, Say His Election Heralds Doom of Partisanship.

Five hundred residents of the Seventh ward last night greeted Charles E. Merriam and celebrated his victory in the aldermanic campaign.

At a meeting at Masonic temple, Sixty-fourth street and Lexington avenue, Mr. Merriam's election was heralded as the opening wedge toward breaking up old political lines in municipal elections.

"I think in the future men will feel they can afford to take up the burdens of such a campaign as we made," said Mr. Merriam. "The voters of the Seventh ward have shown they believe in independence in municipal affairs.

"Our fight was with the old order of affairs. We won. Our campaign was novel, but in a few years it will be common. The Seventh ward deserves credit for the fight for independence which it made and won."

WOMEN BITTEN BY PET DOGS.

One Complains of Bulldog's Ferociousness—Other Tells of Ravenous Fox Terrier.

Mrs. C. Pollak of 5526 Prairie avenue, reported to the Fiftieth street police yesterday that on Tuesday afternoon she was bitten by a large bulldog at Fifty-sixth street and Prairie avenue. Her left hand was severely torn when she attempted to protect her fox terrier from the bulldog. Miss Margaret Hayes of 705 Oakwood boulevard also reported that on the same day she had been bitten on the left leg by a fox terrier belonging to Mrs. Isabelle Glavin of 3068 Langley avenue.

SHIPPY DYING, SAY DOCTORS

Has Stroke of Apoplexy Before Leaving Asylum.

FAMILY HOLDS TO HOPE.

Former Chief of Police Brought Home Near Death.

George M. Shippy, former chief of police, is said to be dying at his residence, 6424 Monroe avenue, a victim of apoplexy. It is believed he may not survive many days. Physicians in attendance assert there is no chance for recovery.

Shippy was adjudged insane last February, the proceedings taking place at the bedside. At that time he was violent and policemen from the Woodlawn station were detailed as guard in the residence.

Suffers Second Stroke.

"We had made every arrangement to bring him home," said Mrs. Shippy, "and there was to be a male attendant, when he had a sudden second stroke of apoplexy on last Sunday. We waited until Monday and then found we could move him without any trouble. He isn't violently insane now, but his condition is critical.

"Mr. Shippy wasn't brought home because of any trouble at the hospital at Kankakee. The homecoming had long been planned, and it was unfortunate he should have been stricken just at the time we were to remove him. He has had every care, and of course we feel there is still hope."

Physician Sees Little Hope.

Dr. Charles W. Morrow, 6334 Monroe avenue, a venue, who is attending Shippy, said there is but little hope.

"He has suffered a second stroke of apoplexy, and is in a grave condition," he said. "I am hopeful, but really I can't look for much improvement. Mr. Shippy may last for months, but it looks as though his time is numbered by hours. We are doing everything for him and he is getting the best of attention."

CO-EDS AROUSE ATHLETES' IRE.

Northwestern Girls Bestow "N" on Young Women Who Participate in Track Meet.

Northwestern co-eds have roused the wrath of the male students at the university by bestowing the letter "N" on girls participating in the tracks meets to which men are not admitted. The boys assert the letter is cheapened. The girls say they award a letter of old English design, quite different from that awarded the football and baseball teams, and will fight any effort to have the faculty athletic counsel change their program.

ACCUSED OF BURNING DOG.

Cases of Two Men Who Poured Oil on Poodle Continued During Honeymoon Trip.

J. C. Murphy of 5736 Ladin street and James Wier of 628 West Garfield boulevard yesterday were arraigned on a charge of having poured kerosene on a poodle dog and then set fire to the animal. The dog burned to death. The hearing was continued until April 24 because Murphy is away on his honeymoon.

INQUIRY AIMS AT CABARETS: DANCE HALL MEN CALLED.

Testimony Before Senate Committee Today Will Touch on "Shady" Cafes and Risque Vaudeville.

Chicago cabaret shows, "shady" hotels, dance halls, and levee cafés will be investigated by the Illinois senate committee.

As a first step proprietors of some of the places under suspicion have been summoned to appear this morning before the commission sitting at Hotel La Salle.

Lieut. Gov. Barratt O'Hara, speaking in the Presbyterian church of Aurora last night, made known the new angle of the inquiry. He attacked cabaret shows as a menace to young girlhood and asserted hundreds are started on wrong paths by cabaret influences.

The hearing will begin at 10 o'clock. Officers of the Juvenile court and the Juvenile Protective association will tell their experiences with girls who have fallen. The commission will inquire into the kind of girls who frequent the dance halls and the manner of conducting the halls.

The following have been subpœnaed to appear this morning:

Walter Bassett, East End Dance hall, 645 North Clark street.

William G. Schoenhofen, 1224 Milwaukee avenue.

Robert Philps, Vermont Dance hall, 923 West Madison street.

Prof. Frank Bement, Dreamland Dance hall, Van Buren and Paulina streets.

William Schinburg, 527 Milwaukee avenue.

Jacob Yondorf, 756 West North avenue.

F. A. Larson and F. T. McGuire, Columbia Dance hall, 1527 North Clark street.

Robert Novak, Maxim's, Twenty-first street and Wabash avenue.

Roy Jones, café, Twenty-first street and Wabash avenue.

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, Juvenile court officer.

Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton, Juvenile Protective association.

PAPER STANDS HELD LEGAL

Public Necessity, Corporation Counsel Tells McWeeny.

UPHOLDS CITY ORDINANCE.

Not Discriminatory, as Charged by Attorney.

Chief of Police McWeeny was told yesterday by the corporation counsel's office that newspaper stands on street corners are legal. The chief had asked for an opinion because Peter Sissman, a lawyer, had written McWeeny that he believed the ordinance permitting stands was unlawful because it was discriminatory in favor of daily papers published in Chicago.

The corporation counsel's opinion says in part:

"There is, in fact, a good reason for making a distinction between daily newspapers published in Chicago and all other newspapers. There is ground for the belief, and experience has demonstrated, that the sale and purchase of daily papers is a matter of widespread custom, that it may be regarded as universal in large cities, and the distribution of same as soon as printed is an immediate necessity.

"This is not the case with periodicals issued weekly or monthly, or papers published at a distance. Consequently there is no need of regulation except as to local daily papers. These conditions furnish the reason for the classification which Mr. Sissman calls a discrimination."

STUDENT'S DIAMOND STOLEN.

Pupil at Domestic Arts and Sciences School Leaves Gem in Wash Room, When It Vanishes.

The Chicago police have been called upon to make an investigation of the theft of a diamond ring, said to be worth $500, which was stolen from the washroom of the School of Domestic Arts and Sciences at 177 North State street some days ago. The ring was the property of Miss Grace Powers, a student at the school. She had gone into the washroom and had laid the ring aside for a moment. When she looked again it was gone.

WOMAN PUT OUT OF HOSPITAL DIES

"Drunk" Is Message Rhodes' Nurse Phones When Summoning Patrol Wagon.

OUSTED IN EARLY MORN.

Victim of Heart Disease Succumbs in Cart After Police Start Away.

Mrs. Helen McLean of 3132 Rhodes avenue died early yesterday morning while being taken to the Stanton avenue police station. Her death was the subject of a coroner's inquest held yesterday. The jury found that she succumbed to oedema of the lungs, complicated by organic heart disease. The husband, Archibald McLean, who is a roofer, was first held by the police, but later released.

The circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. McLean are variously explained. At about 2 a. m. she was taken from her home to the Rhodes avenue hospital, then sent in the patrol wagon to the police station, some one among her attendants believing that she was intoxicated. Before reaching the station her condition became serious. The woman was driven back to the hospital, where her death was reported by Dr. T. J. Jones of the residential staff.

Called "Drunken Woman."

Patrolman John White testified at the inquest that Sergt. John Crotty had received a call at 2 a. m. for a wagon from the Rhodes Avenue hospital to get a drunken woman. White said that the wagon crew had found the woman sitting inside the door of the hospital.

Miss Edith Smith, a nurse, told that she had called the station at the request of Charnley Long, a son of Mrs. McLean by a former marriage, who had brought his mother to the hospital. Miss Smith first denied using the term "drunken woman," but afterward admitted that she could not truthfully say whether she had used the term or not.

Frank Deacon, superintendent of the hospital, yesterday gave out a statement that Mrs. McLean had been brought by her son, who asked permission of the night nurse to let his mother sit inside while he went to the police station to cause the arrest of his stepfather, who, he said, had beaten his mother.

Husband Tells Story.

"The evening before my wife did not have supper for me," McLean told at the police station. "I left home again and came back intoxicated. My wife struck me with a milk bottle, but I did not touch her. She suffered from apoplexy and fainting spells. Later in the night my stepson took her to the hospital."

Next door to the McLeans, Allen Cole, on May 7 of last year, shot his wife and himself. Mrs. Cole recovered at the Rhodes avenue hospital, but Cole died.

VICTIM PLEADS FOR MASHER.

Woman Wins Parole for Man She Had Arrested for Calling Her "Dearie."

Because Mrs. Nora E. Howe of 1034 East Forty-third street pleaded for him, Carl Carlson of 4313 Cottage Grove avenue was paroled for six months by Judge Uhlir yesterday, instead of being fined $100.

Carlson was arrested on Wednesday night after he had called Mrs. Howe "dearie" and asked her to walk with him.

Mrs. Howe replied to his invitation by hitting him over the head with her umbrella. When he was arraigned in court she said she had heard that he was the only support of his mother in Sweden.

Four years ago, according to Charles Wollien, 1826 Cornelia street, his wife threw an egg shell at him. This is one of the indignities he alleges in the suit for separate maintenance he filed yesterday in Circuit court. A later offense he says he recalls is a slap in the face administered as he was quietly reading.

For Women
When buying clothes of course you wish first of all to secure unimpeachable quality.
There are a few things that ought to receive your attention.
(a) No woman should receive less intrinsic value than her money should buy.
(b) She should not pay more than is necessary to secure the value desired.
(c) Not only do we make it our business to see to this, but, furthermore, we want each garment we sell to add prestige to our shop and build confidence in the mind of the customer.
Our Price Range Runs From $25 to $125

You may smile a little when we mention $25 as the price of a good suit; a lot of men think they wouldn't wear a $25 suit; the price seems absurdly low; you're used to $40, $50, $60; you're inclined to "turn your nose up" at ready clothes at $25.
Every time you do that you turn your pocket book down. You may be able to afford to spend whatever you please for clothes; but it isn't good business to pay $40 or $50 for a suit made to measure, when you can buy as good a suit for $25 or $30.
It's wise to pay all you can afford if you are sure of values; the better the garment the more satisfaction for you.
Dont buy clothes that way. Look at our suits at $25, anyway. Our mark in them is a small thing to look for, a big thing to find.

DEMOCRATS SHOW TARIFF WEAKNESS

Opponents Point to One Section of Bill as Example of Haphazard Work.

WILSON FACES TROUBLE.

Trade Treaties Will Be Menaced; Fight Over Wool and Sugar Is Not Ended.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[special.]—That the Democratic leaders who framed the tariff bill realize the haphazard method of tariff making they pursued is shown by a section of the measure which hitherto has escaped public attention.

Under this section specific instruction is given to the president to ascertain each year the amount of imports and exports of every article and the amount of the domestic production and consumption of every article. If he should be satisfied that the imports amount to less than 5 per cent of the domestic consumption then he is required to advise congress as to the facts and his conclusions in a special message.

Here is a distinct confession that the Democratic party in congress was in error in opposing the plan for a tariff commission, their opponents say.

It is a further confession, they say, that the duties, which have been fixed arbitrarily by the president and the ways and means committee in the bill which is being jammed down the throats of the Democrats of the house and senate, are so much involved in doubt that they are to be subject to correction, in cases found inequitable or which fail to assure competition, which is today the Democratic slogan.

Must Depend on Uncertain Figures.

Unfortunately, the Democratic leaders were unwilling to go the whole length in getting scientifically at the facts in connection with the tariff. As no appropriation is made to pay the expenses of an investigation such as the bill contemplates, the president must depend upon scattered officials already in government employ to help him out.

Nothing is said in the provision as to foreign costs of production, which ought to enter into scientific tariff making, or of transportation costs, which today are a big item in the protection accorded to various industries.

The department of commerce will furnish the president with statistics on imports and exports, and the census bureau will supply him with figures as to domestic production and consumption. But these figures may be open to grave doubt, since no authority is granted by the proposed law to place witnesses under oath, to have access to books and papers, etc.

Underwood In for Grilling.

The Democrats desire to fix as a principle of tariff reduction that a duty shall be lowered when the imports amount to less than 5 per cent of the domestic consumption.

How the president and Mr. Underwood arrived at the conclusion that a duty should not be touched unless the importations were below 5 per cent of the consumption is a question which will be asked the Democratic leader when the bill comes before the house for discussion.

This principle did not always obtain during the preparation of the pending bill. The principle which guided the committee, if any principle at all was observed, was that enunciated by the president to decrease the rates on the necessaries of life and to hit especially at trust controlled products.

Tariff Commission Needed.

A scientific nonpartisan tariff commission, such as was urged originally by Senator Beveridge of Indiana, would have been of inestimable service in the preparation of a tariff bill.

This kind of a commission now is being advocated by the Progressives and by the Republicans. The Progressives already have presented their bill and a practically similar measure was introduced in the house today by Congressman Mann and will be introduced in the senate by Senator Cummins.

Both the minority parties realize there is no chance of a measure of this kind being enacted, but they intend to embarrass the Democrats by offering it as a substitute for the provision directing the president to compare imports and exports with domestic production and consumption.

Face Changes in Trade Treaties.

Also "for the purpose of readjusting the present duties on importations and at the same time to encourage the export trade," the president is authorized to make trade treaties with foreign nations. This would seem to lend promise of further reductions in duties and of similar reductions in duties abroad for American products.

As a matter of fact, there will be few treaties negotiated under this provision. Canada, for example, has practically everything it wants under the rates adopted by the president and the ways and means committee. With sugar coming in free, the best interests of Germany will be satisfied, and the manufacturing interests in that country will in many cases not be overanxious to let down their own tariff wall when they expect to do a better business as a result of the action of the United States.

See Trouble with England.

The provision which will cause the greatest international disturbance is that giving a discount of 5 per cent on all duties on goods imported in American ships. This provision is in direct conflict with a number of treaties in force, particularly that of 1815 with Great Britain.

The British ambassador has called the attention of the state department to this proposed violation of treaty. It is expected that measures will be taken by the administration to eliminate the objectionable provision from the bill. If not the treaty will have to be abrogated.

The senate's attitude toward President Wilson and the new tariff bill became fairly well defined today after another meeting of the Democratic members of the finance committee. Briefly, the senate committee will agree to accept the views of the president and the house as to free wool and 1 cent sugar with the free in three years attachment, but it will exercise its right to amend other schedules and provisions of the tariff bill as it thinks best.

Changes will be made in many schedules, however, the work having been started today with a consideration of the first schedule in the bill. Some of the changes regarded as necessary by the senate leaders may be carried over to the house and put into the bill in the Democratic caucus still in progress there.

Fight on Wool Continues.

The fight against free wool has become more acute at both ends of the capitol and several state delegations in the house are appealing to Democratic senators for support in the fight to retain some duty.

The Democratic caucus of the house had reached only the third schedule of the new bill at the end of today's work. Representative Underwood and the other Democratic tariff leaders were making no apparent effort to limit debate or hasten a party decision on the bill.

Representative Underwood said tonight he thought the caucus would be almost through with the bill by Saturday night and that he expected from the harmonious proceedings of the caucus that the house would pass the bill before the 1st of May.

The caucus adjourned shortly after 6 o'clock until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

SAYS LOWER TARIFF ON CLOTH MEANS END OF HOBBLE SKIRT.

Washington, D. C., Society Leader Asserts Tailors Will Use More Dress Goods to Keep Up Prices.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—The cotton and woolen schedules of the Wilson-Underwood bill spell the end of the hobble skirt, in the opinion of Mrs. Christian D. Hemmick, society leader. Mrs. Hemmick believes the real reason for the scanty hobble, with its consequent frank display of the feminine figure, was the high cost of dress materials.

"The manufacturers of dress goods control the styles," said Mrs. Hemmick today, "and when prices are up they favor styles that will not require much material, as the cost of making is a fixture. But if cloth cheapens they will favor designs that will utilize more cloth so their profit will continue."

Mrs. Hemmick declared working women should adopt trousers as being much better fitted for rapid motion. They would be most practical for the climbing of street cars and walking, she asserted.

PASSES BY ASHTON CHARGES.

Senator Owen Says Illinoisan Should Put Alleged Corruption in Lewis' Election Up to Senate.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Senator Owen of Oklahoma will take no action on the charges against the election of Senator J. Hamilton Lewis forwarded to him by State Representative Henry M. Ashton of Illinois.

Mr. Owen takes the position that if Ashton has knowledge of any evidence of corruption in the election of Lewis the complaint shou d be laid before the senate directly and referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

Ashton's charges were general and without specifications.

POSTAL SERVICE FACES UPHEAVAL

Postmaster General Burleson Plans to Separate Offices from Politics.

MERIT ONLY WILL WIN.

Fourth Class First to Change; If Successful Congress Will Be Asked to Change Laws.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Postmaster General Burleson has determined to effect the most radical reorganization of the postal service ever proposed in the history of civil service reform in this country.

The plan upon which he is at work is distinguished by these features:

All postmasters shall be placed under civil service and required to pass examinations for admission, retention, and promotion.

Postmasters shall be appointed and transferred without regard to locality, so that, for example, a resident of San Francisco could be made postmaster of New York and a resident of Duluth postmaster of New Orleans.

Would Ostracize Politics.

The new postmaster general has told his friends that his highest ambition is to take the postoffice department completely out of politics and make it an organization of the highest business efficiency.

He has submitted an outline of his plan to President Wilson, who has commended it enthusiastically and assured him that all the influence the administration possesses will be used to put it into effect.

The postmaster general believes postmasters should be a professional class, trained in their duties and devoted to the service as a life work. He thinks a postmaster should not be restricted to one locality, but should be promoted from the smaller to larger communities, according to ability displayed.

The postmaster general has decided to subject all fourth class postmasters to a civil service test. Those who pass it will be retained and those who do not will be removed. This examination will be open to outsiders also and an eligible list of fourth class postmasters will be established.

Plans Big Experiment.

It is Mr. Burleson's intention in the appointment of fourth class postmasters to experiment with the proposition of ignoring geographical considerations. Wherever a vacancy occurs the man at the top of the eligible list will be appointed, regardless of the fact that he does not reside in the community affected.

If this scheme works well Mr. Burleson will ask congress to enact legislation placing the first, second, and third class postmasters under similar civil service regulations, and subject to assignment without regard to locality.

PLANS TO HONOR DOUGLAS.

Joint Legislative Committee Arranging to Celebrate Centenary of Birth of "Little Giant."

Springfield, Ill., April 10.—The joint legislative committee which will make arrangements for the celebration in this city on April 23 of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Stephen A. Douglas met tonight and appointed a subcommittee to secure the appearance on the above date of some well known speaker.

WILL FIGHT FURTHER RECOUNT

Hoyne to Base Application on Cunnea Showing.

SAYS AVERAGE GAIN IS LOW.

State's Attorney Seeks Rinaker's Aid to End Contest.

An attempt to end the state's attorneyship recount on the ground that the remaining precincts will merely entail additional expense to the litigants and that William Cunnea, the Socialist candidate, has not made a showing sufficient to wararnt a continuation, will be made next week by Maclay Hoyne.

Judge Baldwin of the Circuit court suddenly postponed the recount on Wednesday for a week or ten days, after Cunnea made large gains in the Thirteenth ward. Yesterday Mr. Hoyne and his legal advisers held a conference at which the recount figures were tabulated. It was found that Cunnea had gained less than five votes a precinct instead of ten votes a precinct, which his followers claimed would be shown.

As the expense for the recount has been over $250 a day, to be divided by the litigants and the county, it was decided to make a final appeal to Judge Baldwin to stop the count.

Friends of Mr. Rinaker, the Republican candidate, will today be asked to urge him to agree with Mr. Hoyne to have the recount ended at once. Word of this effort, when taken to the Socialists, resulted in a statement that any attempt to end the recount before every vote had been scanned would be bitterly contested.

Judge Owens yesterday declared that the county would find funds to finance the recount as long as Judge Baldwin finds it necessary to continue.

HAWAIIANS WANT TO SECEDE IF FREE SUGAR IS ALLOWED.

Business Men Engage Lawyer to Prepare Petition to Be Presented to the United States Congress.

HONOLULU, T. H., April 10.—The Star Bulletin says today that a petition is being prepared declaring "Hawaii is commercially unable to exist under free sugar," and asking that it be allowed "to withdraw from the union and resume its previous status of independence if a free sugar provision be enacted by congress." The Star Bulletin says the petition is being drafted by an attorney engaged by leading business men.

HALLET DENIES MARITAL WOES.

Kenilworth Promoter Declares He and Wife Are Happy—She Corroborates Statement.

Harrison H. Hallet, former head of the defunct National Dry Products company, yesterday announced from his residence in Abbotsford road, Kenilworth, that he was home and had been all the week. This was in denial of the rumor that he and his wife had disagreed.

"I don't know any one who could be trying to injure me," he said, "but that is the only way I can explain the rumor. I was not at the house yesterday for the very good reason that I was with my wife in Chicago for the day. There is no trouble of any sort and we are quite happy."

Mrs. Hallet corroborated her husband.

SEEK NEW WAY TO ORGANIZE COUNCIL

Aldermen Trying to Make Up Committees Hold Nonpartison Plan Failure.

NO BREAK IN DEADLOCK.

Immobile Attitude of Party Divisions Results in No Progress Being Made.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Excelsior Springs, Mo., April 10.—[Special.]—By unanimous agreement of the six aldermen attempting the task of reorganizing Chicago's city council, the present method is a failure so far as obtaining nonpartisanship is concerned. It is probable they will urge the adoption of a new system for making up next year's council committees.

More emphatically than all the noisy quarrels and sensational outbreaks of former years, they say, the calm immobility of the members of the present organization committee demonstrates the futility of framing the council slate through the agency of three Democrats and three Republicans, each man representing the aldermen from his own party in his own section of the city. They say the plan never has brought nonpartisanship.

Drop Work; Go Sightseeing.

With the same calm that has marked all of their actions, they dropped their lists and pencils before noon today and set out for Kansas City to spend the rest of the day sightseeing. Although they will pick up their task again in the morning none is so sanguine that he will predict real progress for a day or two.

The essence of the difficulty this year has been labeled "Donahoeism," because of the attitude of Ald. James Donahoe, the west side Democrat, although it is said to characterize other members of the committee and to have been encountered in previous years. In brief, it is the contention that vacancies on committees must be filled by men of the same political party and of the same section of the city as the men whose retirement created them.

Democrats Want Majority of Places.

As the final result of the advancement and the support of that theory of "spoils division" they face the argument that the west side Democrats should be given more important committee places than all the Republicans, Progressives, and the one independent combined.

Brought up against such a proposition, the aldermen this morning took up the question whether there cannot be devised some more satisfactory manner of organizing the city's legislature.

BRYAN TO SPEAK HERE AGAIN.

Secretary of State Accepts Invitation to Attend the World in Chicago Exhibit.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Bryan will attend the World in Chicago exhibit and make an address. Representative Madden of Chicago transmitted the invitation to Mr. Bryan a few days ago and today went to the state department and obtained his acceptance.

HEARS THAW ON BRIBE PLOT

Grand Jury Questions Slayer on Alleged Efforts to Escape.

JUDGE RULES ON SANITY.

Holds Testimony Must Be Viewed as That of Unbalanced Person.

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—The grand jurors who are investigating the Thaw bribery scandal had Harry K. Thaw before them today. He came down from Matteawan with a doctor and two attendants and testified for nearly four hours.

Thaw appeared to be hugely pleased at an opportunity to testify. It was said the impelling motive was his hope of securing members of the jury as witnesses at forthcoming sanity hearings rather than any great interest in the matter under consideration.

Justice Seabury charged the grand jury with particular intent to head off any such plan before Thaw's testimony was taken. The justice said:

"I charge you that there is no legal reason why you should not receive the testimony of that witness, but that in weighing his testimony and determining as to the credence you shall accord to it you should take into consideration the fact that it is given by one who has been adjudged insane.

Jurist Regards Thaw Insane.

"He has several times been adjudged insane, and I know of no reason for questioning the correctness of these determinations. I charge you that you will not return an indictment against any person upon his uncorroborated testimony. If, however, his testimony is corroborated you may give credence to and act upon it."

Before Thaw went into the grand jury room at 11:10 o'clock he was asked if he had any statement for publication about his case. His reply was a more or less incoherent note, partly typewritten and partly in ink. It read:

"Here is some news. Not only did Mr. Clarke get no ideas from me, but when we talked together he did not ask me about the holdups. He may have heard some story about which he had questions put to the doctor. When the doctor began to talk Mr. Clarke and Mr. Norton followed it up. I happen to know one thing, that Mr. Clarke after the doctor testified did not know this Mr. Anheut's name, and that Mr. Clarke and Gov. Sulzer only learned it from him on Feb. 22.

Says Officials Betrayed Themselves.

"What I wanted to make plain was that I have not ever given any one away and never shall; but now that they have given themselves away it is another kettle of fish and it is proper for me to give my information.

H. K. THAW."

In the jury room Thaw is said to have been a fairly good witness, answering clearly questions on anything that did not relate to the killing of Stanford White, to Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, his wife, or a conspiracy to keep him in restraint. When anything was asked that might have a relation to those subjects, or that he thought did, Thaw became highly excited.

Mrs. Mary Copely Thaw, Thaw's mother, was also examined by the grand jury, but only for a few minutes.

Falls Thirty Feet; May Die.

While unloading grain from the F. M. Parent, a grain boat, at Wabansia avenue, in the north branch of the Chicago river, William Johnson, living at Godsich, Ont., lost his footing and fell thirty feet, fracturing his skull. It is said he will die.

LETTERS REVEAL FEUD OF SISTERS

Intimate Details of Culver Family History Are Disclosed at Court.

IN BATTLE OVER CHILD.

Lawyer's Wife Accuses Mrs. Winifred White of Trying to Die by Poison.

Evidence tending to show bitter relations existing between the sisters, Mrs. Morton T. Culver and Mrs. Winifred White, and disclosing some of the intimate inner history of both families was introduced yesterday in Judge Foell's court. Mrs. White is fighting to obtain possession of her 5 year old daughter, Dorothy Vera, now in the custody of the Culvers.

The afternoon was taken up with the reading of letters which had passed between the two women. Attorney Morton T. Culver, as counsel for himself and his wife, insisted on reading the correspondence in which Mrs. Culver attacked the character of Mrs. White and the manners of her children, and the letters of Mrs. White pleading for her child.

Says Sister Tried Suicide.

Mrs. Culver testified the reason she had forced Mrs. White to leave her house in Glencoe was that the latter had tried to kill her baby and herself by chloroform and had made threats of exterminating her whole family.

"She got down on her knees the next morning and cursed me until she was blue in the face," said Mrs. Culver. "I told her she reminded me of a nickel show, and she went and packed up. I gave her a $2 bill and she left. The children, Paul, Edith, and Dorothy, stayed with me."

One of the letters the witness admitted sending her sister was dated Nov. 24, 1908, and follows in part:

"The more I see of Paul and Edith the more I loathe them. They are the dirtiest, filthiest little beasts I have ever come in contact with. Paul is the worst—just like his filthy father."

Paul's father, incidentally, was Mrs. Culver's first husband. She divorced him and shortly after he married her sister.

"Must Get Rid of Other Two."

"I simply abominate the two," the letter continues. "I could half kill them. The baby is all right, but I simply must get rid of the other two, so come and take them as soon as you can. You could just as soon think of making a gentleman and a lady out of them as you could make a silk purse out of a sow's ear."

Culver insisted on reading the letters despite the objections of John J. Sherlock, counsel for Mrs. White, and the friendly advice of Judge Foell, who remarked that in his opinion they would not help his case any.

A second letter, written on Jan. 12, 1911, by Mrs. Culver, reflecting on her husband's credit in Glencoe, also was read despite Attorney Sherlock's objections. Mrs. White and her counsel smiled all through the reading of the missives.

Reads Letters from Mrs. White.

Culver then read several letters written by Mrs. White. One had been sent Mrs. Culver asking to have her child back. This letter remaining unanswered, the mother wrote to Culver asking him as a "good and honorable" man to use what influence he had with his wife.

With this letter there were excerpts from some of Mrs. Culver's correspondence which bitterly berated Mrs. White.

PEACE IN THE BALKANS NEAR; SERVIA TO WITHDRAW TROOPS.

Takes Advice of Russia and Plans to Retire Soldiers Investing Scutari—Blockade Still Effective.

LONDON, April 10.—Indications for a peaceful Balkan settlement continue favorable. The Belgrade correspondent of the Daily Telegraph asserts that Servia has decided, on Russia's advice, to withdraw all the Servian troops now investing Scutari.

The international blockade of the coast between Antivari and the Drin river began at 8 o'clock Thursday morning. All ships within the blockade were allowed forty-eight hours in which to depart.

The Russian government issued a long official communication last night explaining the efforts of the powers to arrange a settlement of the Balkan problem, and justifying Russia's consent to the annexation of Scutari to Albania on the grounds that this is necessary in order to preserve peace and because Scutari is purely an Albanian town, the annexation of which by Montenegro would only prove a source of embarrassment and difficulty, weakening, instead of strengthening, Montenegro.

CHICAGO GENIUS DROPS DEAD.

William Worth Burson, Inventor, Stricken While Visiting His Daughter in Chicago.

William Worth Burson of 6005 Sheridan road, who said he was the inventor of the first grain binder to tie the present binder knot, a universal automatic knitting machine, and fifty other devices conencted with the making of harvesters and knitting machines, dropped dead yesterday. Death came at the residence of his daughter in Rockford, Ill., where the plant of the Burson Manufacturing company was situated.

ONE FRIEDMANN PATIENT DIES

Disease Suddenly Develops Into Tuberculosis Meningitis.

CURE SEEMS TO HAVE FAILED

Physician Contended Its Great Value Was Inoculative Property.

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—Benjamin Temple, a Friedmann patient, treated for tuberculosis over three weeks ago at the Mount Sinai hospital, died today.

When his case was accepted for test purposes by the government physicians and Friedmann himself, Temple was suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis and tuberculosis of the wrist, neither of which was thought to be advanced. His death was caused by the sudden development of tuberculosis meningitis.

This case was one of ninety-four under the observation of doctors of the public health service from Washington.

Tuberculosis Form Changes.

The immediate cause of Temple's death was another form which his disease took after treatment. Dr. Friedmann's injection of the live turtle bacilli did not prevent this development. That point was emphasized by medical men whose attention was drawn to the case.

The significant fact was recalled that Dr. Friedmann has said that the greatest value of his discovery was to be found in its inoculative property. He has repeated often that the various kinds of tuberculosis could be prevented by inoculation with his bacilli.

Refuse to Comment on Result.

Whether Temple's injection was in any way the cause of the sudden appearance of the fatal tubercular meningitis, or the treatment retarded its development, was a matter which none of the medical men approached tonight cared to comment on.

In the minds of one or two it was a question whether or not the treatment did not aid in the extension of the disease.

OBITUARY.

MRS. ANNA G. MILLER, wife of Dr. W. Hubert Miller of 4145 Indiana avenue, died yesterday at the Frances Willard hospital. She had been sickly over a year and had taken a trip to Europe in an effort to recuperate. Mrs. Miller was the daughter of a German naval officer. She is survived by her son, Omer, 9 years old. Funeral will be held from F. M. Mueller's chapel, 1235 North Ashland avenue, on Sunday. Interment at Graceland cemetery.

MRS. SUSAN WIMP, mother of Jet Wimp, who headed B. L. T.'s list of "immortals," died Wednesday night at her late residence, 4355 Emerald avenue. Besides Jet, Mrs. Wimp had four sons, who classified as "immortals." They were Alger, Ardy, Laud, and Urse.

TELLS CHICAGO ROTARY CLUB WHY SO MANY FAIL IN LIFE.

Principal Cause Is Inability to Understand the Art of Human Approach, Says Dr. Charles B. Mitchell.

"Failure to understand the art of human approach is the direct cause of most of the failures in life of today," said the Rev. Charles Bayard Mitchell, pastor of St. James' Methodist Episcopal church, at the monthly dinner of the Rotary club of Chicago at the Hotel Sherman last night.

Dr. Mitchell spoke on "The Art of Human Approach."

"The first thing a man should do," he said, "is to get hooked up to a bigger job than the man is, so he always can look up to his work and not be following it.

"A man's value depends upon his relations, and his success upon the ability to make and keep friends. Be sincere and positive and not like a young woman with whom I recently shook hands. She gave me one of those high pump handle side shakes and her hand was clammy and felt like a package of wet cigarets. She is probably one of those women who wonder why men don't like to sit up nights with her."

UNABLE TO AVERT BELGIUM STRIKE

Walkout in Vote Struggle Planned for Monday by Leaders of Movement.

HAVE FUND OF $3,000,000.

Socialists Laugh at Fears of Disorder, Claiming They Have Warded Off Danger.

BRUSSELS, April 10.—All the hopes that the general strike for manhood suffrage would be averted have vanished one by one, and it now seems certain that the most sweeping attempt yet made in the world's history to apply the methods of organized labor for purely political ends will begin on Monday.

The leaders in the movement display the utmost confidence and the strike fund now amounts to approximately $3,000,000 and fresh contributions from home and abroad are pouring in hourly. The Belgian Cigar Workers of Boston, Olneyville, and Manchester, U. S. A., have sent $2,000.

Government Press Alarmed.

The bulk of the conservative middle class population, who up to the present because of the assurances of the government and clerical press that the strike was a bluff and a bogy, regarded it with unconcern, are now beginning to be sadly scared and their fears are increased by forebodings of disorders and brigandage, with which a certain section of the press is filled.

Many storekeepers, as a consequence, have announced that they would close their establishments and place their valuables in security. The rush to obtain stocks of provisions is increasing.

The Socialists, however, laugh at these terrors. They profess to believe that the measures they have taken are fully adequate to prevent serious trouble. They urge prohibition of the sale of liquors and the closing of the saloons and have themselves forbidden parades and meetings of their adherents.

Want One Vote for Each Man.

The strike is an attack on the present system of plural voting in Belgium, whereby citizens have one, two, or three votes, according to their station in life. The strikers demand that all male citizens shall have one, and only one, vote.

Under the present system every citizen over 25 years of age has one vote. Every citizen over 35 years of age, with one or more children and paying a dollar or more in house tax, has a supplementary vote, as has also a citizen over 25 years old who owns $400 worth of real estate.

Two supplementary votes are given to graduates of universities or men who hold office or are ex-officeholders. No person has more than three votes, and failure to vote is a misdemeanor.

In 1911 the number of voters was 1,700,000, of whom 995,000 had one vote, 395,000 two votes, and 310,000 three votes.

KAISER AND OLD FOE SHAKE.

German Emperor and Duke of Cumberland Have Formal Reconciliation in Public.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, April 10.—The kaiser and the Duke of Cumberland, who have been at loggerheads for years, had a prosaic meeting of reconciliation at the railway station at Homburg today. There were long handshakes all around and smiles and mutual greetings. Then the kaiser embraced the Duchess of Cumberland and the duke embraced the kaiserin. The duke and duchess are the guests of the kaiser and kaiserin. The wedding of the duke's son, Prince Ernest, and the kaiser's only daughter, Princess Victoria Luise, will take place on May 24.

UNIONS WANT LAW AMENDED

Would Forbid Interstate Transportation of Strikebreakers.

BUCHANAN TO OFFER BILL.

Cites Shipping of Telephone Girls from Washington to Boston.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—The latest invocation of the constitutional power of congress to regulate interstate commerce may be made by Representative Buchanan of Chicago to prevent the transportation of strikebreakers. He is considering the introduction of a bill to protect labor unions from strikebreaking methods.

"The fact that telephone girls in Washington have been shipped to Boston to break a strike in the plant of the corporation owning the telephones in both cities lends new emphasis to the need for legislation which will prevent any employer from forcing his employés to act as strikebreakers," said Mr. Buchanan. "Before the close of the present congress such legislation will be introduced and considered in the house.

"The interstate shipment of employés for strikebreaking purposes should be stopped. While I am not prepared to say it can be done under the constitutional rights of congress to regulate interstate commerce, we all know that clause of the constitution has often been strained to secure decisions hostile to labor."

Phone Girls' Strike Averted.

Boston, Mass., April 10.—A strike of the 2,200 telephone operators in the fifty-four exchanges of Greater Boston, threatened for the last few days, was averted by a compromise agreement reached early today.

Instead of the weekly wage increases averaging $1 each which the union demanded the agreement provides for the establishment by the company of a plan of anniversary payments. These payments are to be $25 at the end of the second year, $50 annually from the end of the third to the end of the ninth year, and $100 at the end of each succeeding year.

Deadlock in Strike Parley.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 10.—Negotiations for a settlement of the strike of the motormen and conductors of the International railway company through the mediation of Mayor Louis P. Fuhrmann came to a deadlock late today. The hitch between the strikers and the railway officials was upon the question of dealing with a committee of the union in the adjustment of wages and the working hours for which the men struck.

Both sides agreed upon all other points, including the acceptance of the mayor as arbitrator upon any question that could not otherwise be adjusted.

Street car service under military police protection was maintained on two of the principal thoroughfares for six hours. The cars were sent to the barns at nightfall and the military patrol withdrawn from the streets.

PRISON "HOLE" AND STRIPES GO

Warden at Michigan City Penitentiary Abolishes "the Solitary" and Plans Merit System.

Michigan City, Ind., April 10.—The "hole," otherwise known as "the solitary," and prison stripes have been abolished at the Indiana state prison. The prisoners in the future will wear light blue and plaids. A system of credits and merit braids have been introduced. One credit is given for each month of perfect conduct and twelve credits win a strip of braid for the sleeve. A gold braid means five years of perfect conduct.

RUMOR OF ROYAL BETROTHAL.

Report Revived That Engagement of Kaiser's Son to Czar's Daughter Will Be Announced.

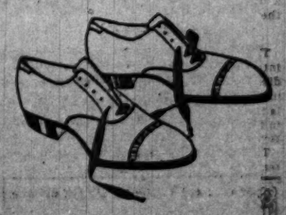

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, April 10.—The report is revived that Prince Adelbert, third son of the kaiser, is about to be betrothed to the Grand Duchess Olga, the eldest daughter of the czar.

A COMMISSION NEEDED

Senator Hurburgh's action toward reorganization of the state departments is highly commendable.

Illinois is suffering from the same trouble that afflicts Chicago.

The state's affairs are administered by a number of uncorrelated departments and commissions, some of them elected, some of them appointed by the governor, some of them temporary, and some of them appointed for terms of years.

Like the different taxing bodies of Cook county, they strive against each other to get the greatest possible share of the public revenues, and strive with each other to prevent economies which can result only by the elimination of some commissions and offices and the reorganization of others.

The Hurburgh commission will meet with vigorous opposition, but the opposition will have to be more or less open, and public opinion can be focused in the cause of good government and economy.

Chicagoans in approving this advanced step in state management will regret that no member of the legislature has made such an attempt to benefit this community.

THE FICTITIOUS OFFICE BOY.

A reckless confidence almost leads us to offer a 50 cent ticket to any ball park to any person who can produce any office boy who at any time went to a baseball game on other than Sunday or a holiday, who at any time suggested for the purpose of going to a ball game that any relative, young or old, near or distant, was dead, or who at any time intimated by word or look that he wanted to go to a ball game.

There ain't any such animule. He's as much of a myth as the unicorn. If he ever existed he's as extinct as the dodo. The only man in any office who ever debates the relative importance of baseball and work is the boss. He may not show up after lunch, but the help comes to work with no other thought than that of staying at work. The only man in any office who reads the weather forecast and regards the visible aspect for signs of rain and who wonders who's going to pitch is the boss.

We do not desire to depart from certain ground and step on the shaky surface of conjecture, but, nevertheless, we will risk the assertion that if bosses and office boys were examined on questions of batting averages, etc., the bosses would average along about 90 and the office boys about 65.

If proof of these general statements be asked we'll submit the following:

Washington, D. C., April 10.—Baseball almost broke up the Democratic caucus today, for at the outset a quorum was lacking, and, while a quorum was quickly found, the members kept slipping away to the game. Speaker Clark admonished members of the necessity of working as a unit to carry out the pledges of the Democratic platform and urged the caucus to stand by the bill exactly as reported by the ways and means committee.

A DIVORCE DEBATE.

A good deal more heat than light seems to have developed in the debate on divorce legislation, and it is not greatly to the credit of restrictionists that the talk about free love, an easy device, has been dragged in to discredit their opponents' views. So far as her views have been published, Dr. Blount has not said anything which justifies this charge except from an ultra reactionary point of view, and its use was unfortunate and unfair.

Judge Kavanagh, if correctly quoted, takes a rather extraordinary position in seeming to object to consideration of the physiological phases of marriage and divorce, as if they were not an inherent part of the "concrete and practical question" involved. When he says "what we need is a 50 per cent cut in the number of divorce cases and an end to legalized perjury," he is simply skimming the surface of the problem. Dr. Blount is a good deal nearer its vital realities when she speaks of the need for checking the social waste created by the intermarriage of the insane, epileptic, feeble minded, and venereally diseased. That divorce should be founded on these considerations ought to need no argument in this age, nor should any one contending for it be misinterpreted.

Furthermore, it should be freely admitted that marriage and divorce involve evils which weigh more heavily upon women than upon men. Therefore, those who have contended that intelligent women should be heard upon proposed legislation and should have a hand in its formulation are demanding only the obvious.

The best check upon the evils of divorce is a check at their source—the ill advised marriage. The idea that by clamping unhappily and mismated human beings together with multiplied legal fetters you are solving the divorce evil is naïve. There is nothing in the world to which the maxim better applies, that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, than marriage and divorce.

THE CONFLICTING AMENDMENTS.

"To talk of constitutional conventions," says the Chicago Record-Herald, "or amendments to the amending clause as compromises is to betray confusion of thought or ignorance of facts."

The finality of this verdict is not as staggering as probably it ought to be, possibly owing to the fact that it is a phrase unreasoned and a dictum unsupported.

THE TRIBUNE is content to observe the success of Gov. Dunne with the initiative and referendum amendment. The resolution for its submission is said to be assured of passage in the senate, but will be contested in the house of representatives. The governor's position with regard to it is well understood, and if he can persuade the legislature to submit it his success will be well deserved.

There is always the possibility that the tax reform advocates will succeed in stopping the initiative and referendum amendment to the complete loss of both. That happened two years ago and it may happen again. It is in view of such a contingency that THE TRIBUNE suggests the policy of a compromise to submit the amendment to the amending clause. The Record-Herald is but reluctantly coming to concede that the efforts to pass the initiative and referendum resolution might be justified. It and other papers have supported the divine right of way privilege supposed to be inherent in the tax amendment.

The very simple fact is that two important amendments are in opposition to each other because the constitution prohibits the legislature from submitting amendments to more than one article in one session.

The sensible procedure would be to remove that limitation. If a man were pinned down under a car his rescuers hardly would set an arm before they lifted the load that was crushing him.

THE TRIBUNE recognizes the right of Gov. Dunne to set the initiative and referendum before the other proposed amendments, but it fails to see anything except sanity in the proposal to clear the way for needed amendments, and then after two years obtain them all.

OUR MEXICAN RELATIONS.

For two years Mexico has felt that all the United States waited for was a little encouragement from Europe as excuse to jump in and grab Mexico. It ought to mean something, now that Europe has not only encouraged but urged Uncle Sam to come across, and still he said, Hands off!

The foregoing is a fair statement of the lesson which Mexican public opinion ought to draw from the attitude of the American government and people during Mexico's revolutionary ordeal.

Unhappily, the words are those of the editor of the Mexican Herald, himself a man of Massachusetts, his paper owned, we believe, by Americans in Mexico. They would be better augury of justice and amity among our neighbors if they had appeared in a Mexican journal. That such views are not likely to be held widely among Mexicans is sadly probable, and the charges of Maderistas against Ambassador Wilson will weigh heavily against us in spite of the larger considerations of our responsible official attitude and the spirit of the country toward Mexico.

It is due to our own standards of honor as well as to the rights of Mexico that the charges be thoroughly investigated and appropriate action taken upon them if established. But even if not established, it is evident that Mr. Wilson's usefulness to the government is at an end in Mexico or any other Latin American country. If he is guiltless, which we sincerely hope, he is, nevertheless, suspect in any of the sensitive capitals of Central or South America.

There are no embassies which should be more carefully chosen than those which represent us in these countries.

PROMINENT among yesterday's flood sufferers was Mr. Murphy, financial backstop of the justly celebrated Cubs.

FROM the daily consular reports one learns that Argentina is considering the project of importing camels for use in agriculture. In view of this startling fact it is time for the native farm beasts of South America to hump themselves.

THE people are mildly curious to know why anybody should seek to prevent a full investigation of that voting machine mystery.

A DOWNSTATE contemporary asserts that the farmers "want better roads." Illinois will have good roads when all its farmers unite in that demand—and not until then.

It is given out that there is to be no increase in the price of ice. Well, that will h—p s—e.

THERE are rumors, on the other hand, that you will have to pay a higher rent for the eligible flat you are about to start out to hunt.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Lesson from the Past.

Mahomet, seeing that the mountain had refused to come to him, had gone to the mountain.

"Makes less trouble," he said, "and doesn't muss things up. It's like a president dropping in on congress, instead of having congress calling on him and scattering cigar ashes and tobacco quids all over the floors of the White House."

But the prophet of Islam didn't make the excuse that he was reëstablishing a custom inaugurated by a more ancient prophet.

"Here's your money, Mr. Beanes; thank you for waiting on me so long. When I'm going to quit buying things at a store I always drop in and settle up."

"Mr. Roosterus, you're just like my dear old father; he hated to shave, and his face generally looked like a horse brush."

"I am going to take your medicines, doctor, even if I haven't a blamed bit of faith in them."

How to Keep Well, By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

WHAT TO DO FOR A COUGH.

THE first question to be answered is, Shall anything be done for a cough? The old policy of taking medicine for a cough, of having a favorite cough medicine, of generally shotgunning, beyond question was harmful. It made dope fiends. In most cases nature went ahead and cured the cough in spite of the dosing with morphine filled expectorants. The expectorants got the credit because nobody thought to try nature without expectorants, and therefore nobody was able to say which cured the quicker.

The proper answer to the question depends on the cough and the cougher. Coughs are divided into useful and useless. Useless coughs should be discouraged. How? If the cause can be removed, the way to discourage the cough is to remove the cause. If the cough is due to warm, bad air the proper procedure is to get into fresh air—not to take cough drops. If you doubt this, go to any fresh air consumption hospital and listen for coughs. Fresh, cool air is a better cough allayer than paregoric.

But not all of the freedom from coughs at a sanitarium is due to fresh air. The patients are trained not to cough uselessly. They learn to cough when they need to in order that the tubes may be cleared out. They also learn not to cough when there is no need for it.

How do they tell? Nobody can tell. But there is a little different "feel" when the something is in reach. Any one can speedily learn this "feel"—and then comes the effort to resist the impulse to cough when the "feel" is not present. Ofttimes the force of will is sufficient. When it is not there comes the question of cough medicine. There are times when the hair trigger state can be calmed down better by a dose of cough medicine than in any other way.

There is a field for cough medicines. The mistake comes in promiscuous doping for coughs. There is even a field for cough medicines containing opium. But they do more harm than good if they are used longer than a few days, or habitually, or indiscriminately. The so-called consumption cure cough medicines are safer now than they were before the food and drugs act of 1907. The amount of opium, codeine, or heroin contained is printed on the label. In the olden times some of them had more opium inside, but whether more or less none of them told on the label how much opium was contained or that any was present.

The answer to what to do for a cough should include an answer to what to do with the sputum. The answer is to burn it or cook it regardless of the cause of the cough.

WHERE TO GET BOOKS.

J. T. D. writes: "Will you please inform me where the books, Sadler's 'Philosophy of Faith and Fear' and 'Dubois on Nerves' can be bought?"

REPLY.

Any large book store will have them in stock, or will order them for you.

AFFLICTED WITH WORRY.

S. F. writes: "I am a boy nearly 16 and I am never happy. I am always worried. I always fear I have harmed some one or will harm some one. I worry so it nearly drives me insane. All this talk about contagious diseases has affected me. I fear I sometimes haven't been as careful as I might have been. I believe we have most of us made mistakes when it comes to such diseases as measles, whooping cough, mumps, etc. I pick up things that happened when I was a child, and worry. Do you believe people should worry about contagion? I remember I once had scarlet fever. A man came to see me. He got it and I am dreadfully worried lest he spread it, and some one died. I don't believe I was quarantined when I had the measles, and all these things worry me. Suicide is always in my mind. Can you help me?"

REPLY.

You are not well or you would not worry so needlessly and so foolishly. Go to the public library and see if you cannot get "Why Worry?" by Walton, or "The Control of Nerves," by Courtney, or "The Physiology of Faith and Fear," by Sadler.

Go to see a good doctor and get him to examine you carefully. Tell him your story as frankly as you have written it here.

You must get your mind off yourself. You must train yourself to look at the bright side and not the seamy side. These books will help you. The right sort of a physician will help you. One who merely writes a prescription for you will not.

CAREFUL CONSUMPTIVE PATIENT.

X. writes: "A member of our family who has tuberculosis is in constant fear of being a source of infection to others. He uses a sanitary cuspidor for expectoration and holds cheese cloth before his mouth when coughing. But he thinks he ought to have either a clean cheese cloth every time he coughs or uses his cup, or that he ought to wash his hands every time. At times he is even afraid to write letters or read books unless he has just washed his hands. He coughs often with the mouth closed. Is there danger at such times of spreading the infection by way of the nose? Should cheese cloth be held before the nose to prevent this? He is constantly out on a porch, except for meals and a few hours in the morning."

REPLY.

I am sure this patient is doing all that should be done to protect his household. In fact, I am sure he is over doing. Certainly he has nothing to chide himself about.

MOST RELIABLE TEST.

C. J. O. writes: "What is a Wasserman or a Wasserman test? How is it made, and for what purpose? Is it considered a reliable test for what it is intended for?"

REPLY.

A Wasserman is a test of the blood for a specific disease. About a teaspoonful of blood is used and about a day is required for the test. It is the most reliable test we have for this disease. It is of most service in those cases that have passed through the early and more typical stages.

HOW TO TAKE AGAR.

L. W. L. writes to know how agar is taken.

REPLY.

Chew it up and swallow it. Eat four or five handfuls during the day.

APRIL.

[From The Old Librarian's Almanack.]

Fair April, slander'd Month, whose balmy days
Less censure oft deserve, & more of praise,
A wayward maiden fain to weep, or sing,—
The sweet enchantress of the budding Spring,
'Neath thy soft rule what book so fit to read
(When seeking rest by brook & verdant mead)
As thine, old Flaccus, safe from War's alarm
And hous'd in plenty on thy Sabine farm!

"WHY not make room for daddy?" queries the editor of the Emporia Gazette, with a break in his voice. Daddy, we hardly need say, is the silently suffering member of the household who hasn't a large closet all to himself, with rows of shiny hooks on which to hang his duds.

AH, yes, why not make room for daddy? It is impossible to contemplate daddy's pathetic condition without bursting into tears. Votes for women? Huh! Hooks for men!

REMINDING US OF THE FLAVOR THAT WAS GREECE AND THE AROMA THAT WAS ROME.

During the receiving hours an Italian orchestra from Chicago discovered music and about the whole affair was an aroma of grandeur that could be felt by all the ladies attending.

OR possibly the grandeur was garlic, provided by the Italian orchestra.

ADMIRERS of Ezra Pound who were so fortunate as to read his verses in the April number of Poetry must have felt, with us, that they were too few. Happily we are able to supplement them with others in the same manner, by a valued contributor.

Let us write poetry.
No; let us write squish and swosh.
When the end of the line of squish
Falls west of the easterly edge of the page,
"Poetry" will call it poetry.
The Friday Literary Supplement of the Chicago Evening Post
Will call it great poetry.

Let us not write it by the foot,
Let us not write it by the metre;
That would be traditional.
Let us write it by the yard.
Let us write it by the hectare.
Let us not write by the yard of three feet.
Let us write by the back-yard.
Let us write a back-yardful of squish and swosh.

I saw an Ethiopian in a back-yard at night.
He looked like the horse-chestnut in a farmer's pocket.

I have a friend who has a hectare in his back-yard.
His back-yard is in France.
His front-yard is in France.
This is because he lives there.
If he lived here
His back-yard would be in America.
And there would be no hectare in it.

Let us run the lawn-mower over the hectare.
It is now a nude hectare.
It is now a naked hectare.
It is a French hectare.
Is not this suggestive?

This is poetry à la "Poetry."
This is poetry à la d'Elle.
This is poetry by the yard.
It is also poetry by The Pound.

THE COMPLEAT GOLFER,
Or, The Idle Man's Recreation.

SCHOLAR. On my word, Master, it were a rare feat to hold so many things in mind at the one moment.

GOLFATOR. My good Scholar, it is not to be compassed, yet do we see scores of hapless creatures endeavoring the impossible; for it is the way of many teachers of this game to bedevil the novice with a multitude of instructions, so that the poor wretch is at his wits' end. Therefore I commend to you the learning of one thing before another, and the thing you are first to come by is a free wrist; for in tennis, or in handball, or in bowls, as in this golf, it is a supple wrist that puts pace on the ball and gives it direction. And you are to observe this principle again in the fine art of casting a fly for trouts, and in the play of foils, so that a man that has reached to three score and ten, though the vigor of his prime is past, is yet able to take trouts or to wield a rapier with the youngest.

SCHOL. Sir, I am heartened by the thought that there is a likeness between the casting of a fly and the swinging of a club, for I have some skill with the rod.

GOLF. Then, Scholar, you must know that the rod itself does the work, guided by the wrist, so that a man may throw a fly for hours without fatigue; therefore you have but to conceive yourself as casting with the left wrist, and you have the secret of every stroke in golf; for it is all of the putt and the beginning of the drive.

SCHOL. I take your meaning, Master. You would have me to swing in this fashion.

GOLF. Marry, sir, that had been a sorry performance on a trout river, for you were forward with your cast before ever your line had straightened behind you. Whip back your clubhead, as a brown hackle on a leader, pause until all is straight behind and free of kinks, then forward with the wrists, and the arms will follow.

SCHOL. Sir, your words are as a torch in a dark night.

GOLF. Practice then this back cast diligently, let the ball fly where it will. And I would I were at (this moment in a little river, knee-deep in sweet running waters, and casting here and there for trouts; for that, Scholar, is a game worth two of this.

"WHEN I first heard that wheeze about the 'new religion,'" writes R. C., "I kicked the slats out of the cradle." No doubt. And when we first heard that wheeze about kicking the slats out of the cradle we larfed so that we burst every safety pin.

WE have a sensation in our osseus framework that one of these days we shall fall for the far-famed valve-handle wheeze. We dropped for the "new religion" fossil, and the "salt and pepper suit," and the prayer meeting wheeze—all within three days.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1913: By the Brentwood Company.]

PREPARATIONS are now being made in Europe for the next international peace conference at The Hague, which takes place two years hence, that is to say, in the summer of 1915.

Preliminary meetings have already been held in Paris, Rome, and St. Petersburg, as well as in London, for the purpose of formulating proposals for consideration at the conference through the respective governments taking part therein.

Those in London have been presided over by Lord Loreburn, who was lord high chancellor until a year ago, and attended by Lord Avebury, the banker, formerly known as Sir John Lubbock, Sir Ernest Satow, for so many years British envoy at Peking and Tokio, and Sir John Macdonald, master of the Supreme court of Great Britain for the last quarter of a century and one of the leading authorities in England on international and mercantile law.

Lord Loreburn's conference appointed two subcommittees, one to deal with all matters relating to naval warfare, including the abolition of the right of private capture at sea, blockade, and contraband, while the other committee will consider all questions outside those affecting naval warfare.

Another vacancy is created in the ranks of the representative peers of Ireland through the death of Lord Lifford, fifth viscount of his line, and who is succeeded in his honors and estates by his brother, Capt. the Hon. Archibald Hewitt, R. N., a man of 70 with grown-up sons in the army.

The modern Lords of Lifford must not be confounded with the former earls of that name who took their title from the Irish town of Lifford in County Donegal.

The first Earl of Lifford was, curiously enough, a Frenchman, Count Charles de la Rochefoucauld of the great French ducal house of La Rochefoucauld, who received his peerage as a token of royal favor from James II.

Having sided with that king in the revolution at the end of the seventeenth century, his earldom was attainted, but was created anew by William III. in favor of his fourth son, who was a Protestant and had gone over to the new regime.

For some reason or other this second earldom was not enrolled in the peerage of Ireland, but it figures in many contemporary records, is vouched for by Luttrell, and is to be found inscribed in the burial certificate of the grantee and also on his tomb at Bath. He left no heir.

The next Lord Lifford and first of the present line of peers of that name was of far more obscure origin than the Rochefoucaulds. He was James Hewitt, son of a draper who was mayor of Coventry.

From an attorney's clerk in that city he rose to be sergeant at law, member of parliament for Coventry, justice of the king's bench, and lord high chancellor of Ireland.

It was as such that he received the barony of Lifford in 1768 and the viscounty twelve years later. The second viscount was dean of Armagh.

The late peer was by profession a soldier.

Every reader of Thackeray's novel "The Virginians" will be interested to learn of the advertisement for sale of Quebec house at Westerham in Kent, the historic home of Gen. James Wolfe, the hero of the battle on the Heights of Abraham at Quebec, and who lies entombed at Greenwich hospital and not, as generally supposed, in Westminster abbey, where a beautiful monument has been erected in his honor.

In "The Virginians" a description is given of Harry Warrington and Col. Lambert riding into Westerham, their welcome by their hosts, a stately matron, an old soldier, whose recollections and services were forty-five years back, and the son of this gentleman and lady, the lieutenant colonel of Kingston's regiment, then stationed at Maidstone.

The house has only been in the possession of the Wolfes since the beginning of the eighteenth century, when it was purchased by Gen. Wolfe's father, Col. Edward Wolfe.

It was known up to that time as Spiers, and dated from the reign of King Henry VII., whose armorial bearings still figure on the overmantal in the dining room, along with the date 1507—that is to say, but a few years after the discovery of America by Columbus. It was not until after the battle of Quebec that the place received its present name.

The house is full of relics of Gen. Wolfe, including his bunch of seals, a lock of his hair, swords and pistols, as well as other military accoutrements used by him and a number of volumes on military subjects annotated in his handwriting.

Quebec house has always been a bourne of pilgrimage to Canadians visiting the mother country, and, now that it has been put up for sale, there is a movement afoot for its purchase with its contents and for its transfer to the dominion for use as a Wolfe museum, preferably at Quebec.

Incidentally, it may be mentioned that Gen. Sir James Wolfe-Murray of Cringletie, in Peeblesshire, has just announced his impending marriage to the widow of Sir Donald MacFarlane.

The general, who has held the office of master general of ordnance for several years, and who is a man of 60 and a widower with grown up children, is descended in the direct male line from Col. Alexander Murray of Cringletie, who commanded the Black Watch, or Forty-second Highlanders, in the taking of Quebec, and in whose arms the mortally wounded Gen. Wolfe expired on the Heights of Abraham.

Since then, and in memory of that battle, all the children born to the Cringletie Murrays have borne the compound name of Wolfe-Murray, and the general about to wed is the chief of the Cringletie branch of the Murrays of Blackbarony.

The chiefstain of all the Murrays of Blackbarony is half an American, his mother having been Miss Helen Sanger, daughter of Gerry Sanger of Utica, N. Y.

I never like to mention the Murrays without calling attention to the extraordinary beverage on which the members of this historic clan thrive, and which is found at its best on the broad acres of the great chieftain of all the Murrays, the Duke of Atholl.

It is known there as "Atholl brose," and elsewhere as "Murray brose," and its principal ingredients consist of honey, cream, and whisky, especially whisky, strong and plentiful.

One hardly knows whether the proverbial sturdiness of the Murrays is due to the fact that they and their ancestors have been drinking this brew for 600 years, or whether they are fine specimens of manhood in spite thereof.

Lord Wolseley's death recalls a memorable conversation which he had with the late Queen Victoria on the subject of the doubts which exist as to the authorship of Shakespeare's plays. She was indignant concerning the skepticism about the matter, and when the field marshal broached the controversy in conversation with her exclaimed, with a considerable amount of impatience and even irritation:

"O, don't talk to me about that! That was Lord Palmerston's silly nonsense."

From this it would appear that that celebrated prime minister of the Victorian era not only believed in the Baconian theory but also that he had communicated his convictions to the queen.

ASPHALT FOR MONROE STREET.

Chicago, March 31.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Will you kindly tell me when the city expects to pave Monroe street, west of Fifty-second avenue, Austin?

A SUBSCRIBER.

We have just ordered estimate of cost for paving this street with asphalt from Fifty-second avenue to Central avenue, but it is doubtful whether or not the proceedings can reach the point of confirmation in time to have the improvement made this year. EDWARD J. GLACKIN, Secretary.

A TROUBLESOME TENANT.

Chicago, April 1.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—We are the owners of a two flat building and live in the first apartment. A tenant occupies the second and his lease expires April 30. He is doing everything possible to prevent us renting it by refusing us or our agents admittance to show the flat to prospective tenants.

If flat is not rented by May 1 on account of inability to show same can we start suit for damages?

A SUBSCRIBER.

Your right to enter this flat depends on the terms of the tenant's lease. If the tenant refuses to allow you to enter as provided for by the lease, you can sue him for damages.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DEED FOR A LOT.

Chicago, April 7.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—1. If two people purchase a fifty foot lot together (in a small Illinois town) and pay a small amount down, balance to be paid in monthly payments, should they receive a deed when they pay such amount down and give their notes for the balance, one payable each month?

2. If they do receive a deed, how should such a deed be written and notes signed? (Each party wishes to pay one-half of the first payment, one-half of the amount of notes, taxes, etc.)

3. Should we receive an abstract or guaranty policy with the deed?

4. If we receive a guarantee policy, what is the usual charge for same?

5. If one of the parties should have a judgment rendered against him, exceeding his one-half share in the property, can such amount be taken out of the other party's one-half share, in case the property is sold?

6. Is it always advisable to have abstract examined.

Thanking you in advance, I remain,

N. H.

1. This is best for the purchasers, but the seller would undoubtedly prefer giving a contract for the purchase with stated payments. Such a contract protects the purchasers if they have it recorded.

2. The deed should be made out in the names of both of the purchasers. The notes should be signed by both purchasers.

3. Yes.

4. We cannot advise you without knowing the value of the property and the condition of the title. The agreement of purchase should provide whether the expense should be paid by seller or the purchasers.

5. No.

6. Yes. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NOT IF HE HAS A LEASE.

Chicago, March 31.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—If a tenant has a lease on a flat for a specified time and wishes to leave before the lease expires can he properly do so by giving thirty days' notice? A. B.

No. The tenant is liable for rent for the whole term of the lease unless the landlord releases him. The tenant can be released by giving a thirty day notice only where there is no lease or the lease has a special provision in this regard.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

QUESTION OF REPAIR.

Chicago, April 7.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A leases a building from B to be used for storing automobiles, which also have to be washed. Owing to a settlement of the concrete floor the portion where the drain is located is 3 inches higher than the front, so that water settles all over. The owner being notified of this condition, which is injurious to the business of A, insists that it is the duty of A to repair this defect. A objects. How can A have this repaired and make building habitable and sanitary? Can A withhold rent until repairs are done? Can A have repairs done and charge B for same by reduction in rent? Would the health department condemn this condition as injurious to health? If health department condemned this condition would they close up the building? If building was closed through this proceeding would A be liable for rent? would it break the lease? Would B be liable to A for damages if building was closed through destroying the business of A? Is it the duty of A to make this repair?

INQUIRER.

A's rights depend on the terms of the lease by which he holds the premises. This lease probably has a provision as to who shall make such repairs, the landlord or the tenant. Under ordinary circumstances, the landlord is under no obligations to repair unless the lease so provides. In the event that this condition is reported to the department of health and they order repairs made the obligation to remedy this condition probably will fall on the landlord unless the lease provides otherwise by special or general terms.

If there is no written lease and rent is paid by the month A can vacate the premises by giving B a thirty day notice before a rent day.

ADJUSTING A FIRE LOSS.

Chicago, April 7.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I carried quite a bit of insurance on my interior furnishings in my home, and unfortunately had a fire. Inasmuch as I had my policies, I felt happy to know that I carried insurance, but the insurance adjusters wanted me to furnish a detailed, itemized list of every article, together with the proof of value of every article. This was difficult to do after the fire, and consequently I was the loser and had to take what the insurance companies offered me. The only satisfaction I got was that I should have had my home appraised. It seems strange that the insurance people do not tell this to a person before a fire and not after the damage is done. What is the use of carrying insurance if a person derives no benefit?

F. L. W.

Under the ordinary form of insurance policy you are entitled to recover money sufficient to compensate you for the damage to your furniture as a result of the fire. The insurance company does not have control of your property, so you must show what this damage amounts to. For this reason it is advisable to have an inventory of your belongings with each item valued. Then in case of loss you can prove definitely the value of each article damaged and recover accordingly.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

HOLDING CHURCH PROPERTY.

Hooppole, Ill., April 2.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—(1) I belong to a church the rules of which provide that three or more trustees, elected for three years, shall hold the property. There are five of them. Is this provision legally binding, or should they hold for five years? The trustees are elected by the local congregation; the rules made by the church at large. (2) Is it necessary to have the names of the newly elected trustees recorded in the county, and, if so, with whom? A. M.

1. This provision is proper.

2. The names of the newly elected trustees should be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county where the church is located.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

FIRST CAST AT BOHEMIAN THEATER.

Chicago, April 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—You published a short note of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Bohemian theater in Chicago, which, brief as it was, brought pleasure to me and undoubtedly to all your many Bohemian readers. Every word of it is correct, but the one statement—that Mrs. Novak was the first woman to take part in Bohemian plays in Chicago. The first play given in Bohemian in this city was on Feb. 22, 1863, on the second floor of the building now standing at the southwest corner of Van Buren and Canal streets. The play was a translation from the German of a three act comedy written by R. Bendix under the title of "Mr. Uncle." The cast comprised in all six male and two female parts. Miss Katie Dvorak, now Mrs. Tomisek, residing at Cary, Ill., and Miss Petronilla Lusk, now dead, played the two female parts. Mrs. Novak, then Miss Chladek, did not appear in the first play at all. Mr. Novak was the prompter at the first play. Of the gentlemen who played the male parts then only one lived to celebrate the occasion, Mr. Fred Klimt, who appeared in one of his favorite parts during the celebration held last Sunday afternoon and night. Mrs. Novak first appeared about two years after and was undisputably one of the best actresses on the Bohemian amateur stage in Chicago. Her "Deborah" will long be remembered by those who had the good fortune to see her grand rendition of same. JOSEPH JURKA.

FROM A MERRIAM ADHERENT.

Chicago, April 5.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Friends of THE TRIBUNE in all parts of the city have been pained and greatly disappointed at the attitude of this paper during the recent aldermanic election in our Seventh ward, and especially are they disgusted with the enclosed editorial appearing in last Thursday's edition. This attempt to minimize the effect of Merriam's victory and to throw a wet blanket over the whole affair is positively nauseating to all right thinking people who know the facts.

THE TRIBUNE knows well that Seventh ward boundary lines are different now than in previous elections, that Merriam's present victory is a striking one because he fought both old party machines and all the money both could pour into the ward and with the newspapers against him, too. THE TRIBUNE also knows that this fight was the last struggle for its very life of the old Lorimer-Busse machine in this ward; and also of the whole Democratic machine which saw a chance to add another alderman of its own faith as a result of the three cornered fight. I have been practicing medicine in this ward for twenty years and I know how the people in this part of the city feel on this question. The best element among our people were for Merriam, the citizens who hope for better things politically, the people who are fighting for decency, honesty and political righteousness.

If THE TRIBUNE cannot better reflect the feeling of a community or respond to such aspirations, but must truckle to the interests and to the gang politicians, as such an editorial indicates, then I cannot longer tolerate such a paper in my family and I will stop it at once.

I have been a great admirer of your newspaper but until it can again impartially present the news I shall get along without it.

Very truly yours, DR. H. W. CHENOWE.

THE DUKE AND THE DEVIL.

Chicago, April 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The First ward of Chicago is said to be the richest ward in the world. A large part of its population identified with its business affairs resides outside of its limits. A large proportion of the voters of the ward represents the floating or lodging house element. In 1910 the Law and Order league found that 3,552 of the 10,906 names in the registry list of the First ward were of persons who did not live at the addresses given and these "dead" names cast one-third of the total vote of the ward.

The present mayor of Chicago in the primary election of Feb. 28, 1911, had a plurality in the city of 1,420. In the First ward the primary vote was: Harrison, 2,979; Graham, 570; Dunne, 521. That is, Harrison's plurality over Dunne in this ward was 2,458, or 1,000 more than his plurality in the entire city.

This lodging house vote furnished a large proportion of the majority in the election of the mayor. The same kind of voters seem to have given the majority for the bonds at the recent election.

The aldermen of the First ward and their followers seem to be the dominating power in this city. Can nothing be done to end this dominion? During the reign of one of the kings of England a notorious duke wielded the power behind the throne. The people were indignant over the fact that their king should be under such an evil power.

One morning the walls of London had this placard:

"Who rules the kingdom? The king. Who rules the king? The duke. Who rules the duke? The devil." DUNCAN C. MILNER.

SOCIAL SERVICE NURSES.

Chicago, April 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I was much interested as many others were in your editorial entitled "The Hospital and After," which appeared in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE April 6. Your readers may care to know further that the same follow up service is mention as being given to the departing patients in the Presbyterian hospital. New York, is now being given in Chicago by the Children's Memorial, the Presbyterian, and the Cook county hospitals. In the Cook county hospital the service is rendered through the social service department of the Illinois Training School for Nurses, which furnishes all the nurses for the hospital. This work was instituted and carried on for some time by the United Charities of Chicago, which placed two social workers in the county hospital. It was taken over by the training school as part of its regular hospital service, and this department was modeled closely upon the wonderful work inaugurated by Dr. Richard Cabot in the Massachusetts general hospital, Boston.

The social service department of Cook county hospital in addition often finds work for destitute men and women, friends for friendless, homes for the nameless babies and shelter and work for their often homeless mothers. It cooperates with every charitable association in Chicago, and with the county agent's offices, and if there is no organization to get the case the department takes care of it. There is no duplication of effort, since every case is registered daily with the central bureau of the United Charities. MRS. IRA C. WOOD, hat's Indiana Humorist's dvice When Asked Opinion of Turkey Trot.

DANCE ANY WAY, IF IT'S FUN"—ADE

EVER TRIED IT, BUT—

eople, Especially Public Offi- cials, Are Inclined to View New Dances Too Seriously.

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—Does the rkey trot worry George Ade? Not even e fact that it has reached Indiana un- ly disturbs the American humorist. One ettates to mention it, but there may be a son in his attitude for other folk (even ayors) on the danger of taking orgies too eriously.

Mr. Ade was en route from Bermuda to diana when sought in an effort to discover e moral indignation on the score of New rk's much criticised dance steps. It didn't ouse a little bit, or else it was held nobly nder control for fear lest it should explode an epigram that might point a moral or dorn a fable in slang.

"I can't speak at all as an expert," he monstrated. "You know, it's been months nce I've stopped in New York. And it's a ast that I've not been in one of those trot- ing places. I suppose I should be decorated ith a medal for that, shouldn't I?

Not Keen for Cabaret Shows.

"I don't much care for stage managed erriment, and that's the sort one is apt find in New York restaurants. The fun pretty cut and dried, pretty much ar- anged on schedule time. And the funmak- s work so hard there's nothing spontaneous, nything leisurely about their enjoyment. I n't say that I like that kind for myself."

"But do you really mean that you've never en the turkey trot or the tango?"

"O, yes, I've seen them," he conceded, ncommittally. "I've seen them on board hip and I've seen them at Palm Beach. For hat matter, the turkey trot was danced in diana a year ago. All I can say is—it ever shocked me.

"I never danced it myself," he rambled on. But that's only because my dancing day is thing of the past. I don't believe I could ven dance the two-step.

Dance Any Way, So It's Fun.

"I've never seen any dance," he added riefly, "no matter how old fashioned it as, that hadn't the partnership of two as its asic idea. His arm steals around her waist, at least his hand presses hers in all the ysichorean activities, new or old. It seems o be a case of inevitable juxtaposition."

"And do you think the tendency blame- worthy?"

"Not for a moment. It's a perfectly nat- ral one for all young things. And personal- as I've said, I can't see anything special- reprehensible or improper about the turk- y trot. I can't, really. I have enjoyed oshking it, and I consider it graceful. And certainly seems to exhilarate the dancers. he fascination it holds for them is of the ture of enchantment; they might be so ny whirling Dervishes."

NORSE COMMISSION TO GADE

Former Consul Vindicated; Appointed to Reform Board.

TO IMPROVE FOREIGN CORPS.

Radicals Decide to Reform Diplomatic and Consular Service.

F. Herman Gade, former Norwegian consul in Chicago, who for a long time met with opposition to his desire to re-acquire his Norwegian citizenship, has been vindicated by receiving an appointment on a royal commission, according to Christiania newspapers received in Chicago yesterday.

His vindication followed the victory of the radical party, whose cause he espoused in the last parliamentary elections. By royal resolution of the new radical cabinet Mr. Gade was made a member of the commission created by the storthing for the purpose of reforming and reorganizing the entire diplomatic and consular service in the department of foreign affairs.

Reformation of the foreign office was an issue raised by Mr. Gade at the time the former conservative government turned him down on the question of his citizenship. When he resigned his consular office in Chicago three years ago he renounced his American citizenship and went to Norway with the intention of entering the Norwegian diplomatic service.

His case has become celebrated in the annals of Norwegian political history. During the recent parliamentary campaign he stumped the country for the Radical party, keeping the foreign office issue constantly before the voters.

Mr. Gade is a Harvard graduate and was mayor of Lake Forest several terms. Mrs. Gade is a sister of Charles Garfield King of Chicago. Mr. Gade is planning to visit Chicago next June. One of his sons is a student at Groton, where he is preparing to enter Harvard.

Y. W. C. A. PLANNING FIGHT FOR GIRLS

General Secretary Explains to National Convention Welfare Idea.

DRESS EVIL DENOUNCED.

New York Woman Blames the Society Butterflies for Bad Example.

Richmond, Va., April 10.—Problems affecting the welfare of young girls were discussed at today's sessions of the fourth biennial convention of the Young Women's Christian association. How the association hopes to deal with them was explained by Miss Mabel Cratty, general secretary of the national board.

"Two things with which we contend," said Miss Cratty, "are conditions and sin, and there is a constant interplay between these two factors. We must make the conditions under which women live safe; we must educate their sense of values, and help them to get their bearings among the circumstances of modern life."

Tribute to Miss Dodge.

An unusual tribute was paid Miss Grace H. Dodge of New York, president of the national board, who presented her report. At her request the delegates refrained from applause, but when she was introduced the entire convention arose and remained standing for several minutes. Miss Dodge's report dealt with the growth of the association throughout the world.

In reporting for the committee on thrift and efficiency Mrs. Samuel J. Murtland of New York dwelt upon the social aspects of extravagance, explaining how the society girl of wealth buys lavishly abroad and the daughter of the business or professional man of measurable income feels that her social success depends upon her ability to obtain the best American duplicate.

Dress Beyond Means.

The salaried woman, she added, adopts a mode of dress relatively beyond her means, while the girl in the shop would be more than human could she withstand the force of the ever present temptation to keep the pace.

"Different causes contribute to the growing disinclination to marriage," said Mrs. Murtland. "Business opportunities have made women more independent. The stress of competition and the demands of more expensive standards of living have made it increasingly difficult for men to marry.

"Such signs of the times, with the rapid increase in divorce and the scarcity of real homes, must claim the consideration of every thinking woman."

ILLINOIS ATHLETIC CLUB SUES C. H. GENSLINGER FOR $22,600.

Charges Former Secretary Failed to Live Up to Organization Agreement—Injunction Also Is Sought.

Difficulties which beset the new Illinois Athletic club in its attempts to build a clubhouse and recruit 10,000 members are set forth in a bill filed yesterday against Charles Henry Genslinger in which he is asked to render an accounting and pay back to the club $22,600.

Genslinger is the former secretary and is now seeking in the Municipal court to recover $200,000 for his services as organizer of the club.

An injunction to restrain him from prosecuting the Municipal court suit is sought in the bill.

The new suit is based upon the alleged failure of Genslinger to comply with his contract to devote his time and services to the work of organizing the club, building a clubhouse, and recruiting members. Genslinger tendered his resignation on Aug. 15, 1906, at the request of the club officers.

The clubhouse never would have been built and the club would have gone bankrupt if members had not assisted in financing the building, it is contended.

JUDGES MEET TO END COURT TANGLE

Session Will Be Held Today to Unravel Calendar in Criminal Courts.

WILL DEBATE NEW RULES

Anxious to Find Solution of the Controversy Begun by Maclay Hoyne.

Cook county's Criminal court procedure will be brought up for adjustment today when the judges of the Superior and Circuit courts, who are ex-officio judges of the Criminal branch, will meet to decide on rules which have to do with the assignment of cases for trial. The issues have been in controversy ever since Maclay Hoyne became state's attorney.

The entire question depends upon the issuance of a trial calendar by the clerk of the Criminal court, as was done under the administrations of former state's attorneys and discontinued by Clerk of the Criminal Court Schubert in the latter part of State's Attorney Kern's term of office. A new set of rules have been drafted, chief of which is the following:

"The clerk shall at least twenty days prior to the September term of each court year and prior to the December term, 1913, distribute in rotation among the judges assigned for one year, all cases then pending and thereafter distribute in rotation among the judges regularly assigned all cases as the indictments are filed, and will place upon the wrapper the name of the judge to whom the case is assigned, and the clerk shall prepare printed calendars thereof from time to time as the judges of this court shall direct."

CONSTRUCTION BOND

The Paper that Makes Impressive Stationery at a Usable Price

Every man who receives one of your letters should look upon it as a vital part of his day's mail. The order you ask him to sign, the bill you want him to pay, should seem the most important thing he has to do that day. But do your letters look important enough? Do they impress a man, as he hurries through his mail, as worth reading? Unread letters bring no business. Make your letters seem as important as they are. This seeming important is a matter of using the right kind of stationery. The kind you need and should have—a handsome letter heading, on a substantial paper, at a moderate price—can be easiest secured on Construction Bond from any of the Chicago concerns named below.

Construction Bond is a product of modern economics. It is sold only in large quantities direct to the most responsible printers and lithographers in the 170 principal cities of the United States. It carries no jobbers' profit, no expense of handling small lots, no losses on questionable accounts. You can secure the benefit of all this saving by insisting that your letter heads be produced on Construction Bond. It is the national standard of value in business correspondence paper. Construction Bond comes in white and eight dignified colors, in four finishes, with envelopes to match. Whatever color, weight or finish you select, you can rest assured that you are securing the best value for your money.

Trade Mark—Water Mark
CONSTRUCTION BOND

Why fine business stationery costs less when produced on Construction Bond

The picture tells the story. Construction Bond is packed and delivered direct to responsible printers and lithographers only in lots of 500 pounds or more at a time. Other fine bond papers are sold through jobbers in any quantity; 500 pounds is frequently delivered in 20-pound packages to as many as 25 different printers.

Obviously it costs ten times as much to pack and distribute 500 pounds among 25 printers as to deliver the full quantity to only one printer. Look at the picture and compare the labor involved. And remember that the jobber who distributes these small lots also makes a profit.

This expense and profit must be added to the price you pay for finished stationery—unless you specify and secure Construction Bond. If you specify Construction Bond and insist on getting it, you are sure to secure impressive stationery—on a paper possessing unusual strength, bone and character, and with a crisp crackle that tells of quality—all at a price that makes it usable even in large quantities.

Phone Harrison 7951 for our free portfolio of 25 splendid examples of modern business stationery.

The Chicago concerns named below buy Construction Bond in quantities and carry it constantly in stock just like our more distant customers. Yet a score of paper jobbers are willing to deliver them ream orders of any other bond paper, the excessive cost of which is always passed along to you. It is plain that by eliminating this unnecessary expense and profit the concerns named below can give you better value for your money.

You will also find that they are specialists in producing the highest class of business stationery—stationery that is not only good enough to write letters on, but that will help build prestige for you.

CITY TREASURER RUNS INTO SNAG

Obstacles Arise to Division of Profits of Office with James A. Long.

INTERESTS MERIT BOARD.

Aldermen Talk Informally of Doing Away with Place of Assistant.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Several obstacles to a division of the profits of the city treasurer's office during the next two years arose yesterday. Treasurer Elect Flynn may have some difficulty in appointing his fellow Democratic committeeman, James A. Long, from the Thirty-first ward, as assistant treasurer. The latter place is under civil service. The man who gets it should pass a public competitive examination and get at the top of an eligible list. Some of the aldermen in the committee rooms yesterday discussed informally the advisability of abolishing the office as useless.

In addition some political complications arose. Jacob Lindheimer, the present assistant treasurer, said he had been promised the job before the election. He is allied with the Hearst-Harrison combination. On the strength of this alleged promise Lindheimer was active for the election of Flynn during the last campaign.

Politics in Situation.

The new treasurer elect is classed as a Dunne Democrat. The head of that division of the party in Chicago is William L. O'Connell, county treasurer. It has been gossiped about that the Dunne contingent would not be averse to having Daniel O'Connor as assistant treasurer. He is private secretary to O'Connell.

O'Connell and Lindheimer are both residents of the Third ward, and although they worked together in harmony for Ald. Elect Nash, it is no secret the Harrison-Hearst crowd would like to have control of the ward organization.

Long has been allied with the Sullivan interests. He denied yesterday there had been any agreement with Flynn to divide the profits of the treasurership. He added he did not even know there was any "excess interest" attached to the office.

Flynn May Be Forced Into Line.

It is probable that before Flynn places any one of the three on the job with any assurances that they will get any salary he will be forced to agree to work in harmony with the city administration.

As related, the job of assistant treasurer belongs under civil service. The records show that technically it has been recognized as such for two years, although the spirit of the merit system has not been carried out.

To start at the beginning of civil service in the treasurer's office, it will be necessary to return to the time when the treasurer was placed on the so-called salary basis. John E. Traeger, now city controller, was treasurer at the time. His assistant was Harry Hildreth, who was classed as a holdover.

At the next election Hildreth and Isaac N. Powell were the candidates and the latter won.

Banks Become a Factor.

Powell did not want his campaign rival as his assistant, and the banks which signed Powell's bond insisted William A. Moulton be given the place. Marquis Eaton, attorney for the treasurer, held the position was not under civil service. The merit board ruled otherwise. It refused to approve of the treasurer's pay roll by the adoption of the following order on July 7, 1909:

"Ordered that the request of City Treasurer Isaac N. Powell that the commission approve and certify to the controller pay roll No. 8 containing the name of William A. Moulton, assistant city treasurer, as exempt, be not allowed, as such position has heretofore been classified as coming within the provisions of the civil service act requiring certification from an eligible list and can only be filled by certification or by a temporary appointment pending an examination."

Powell Appeals to Court.

Powell started a mandamus suit to compel the merit board to approve of the pay roll. The records in the corporation counsel's office show that the city demurred and the case finally was dismissed. Moulton got his salary in some way and the matter rested until Henry Stuckart was elected treasurer. Moulton had retired with Powell.

The civil service commission again held up the pay roll. Mr. Stuckart had his lawyer, now Gov. Dunne, appear before the commission. Mr. Dunne had the case reinstated and it never has been heard. Its reinstatement, however, did not amount to anything.

If it had ever been called up for hearing the judge would no doubt have said it was a moot case—the officials involved having retired—and dismissed it. It is pending, but there is practically no chance of a decision.

Stuckart Recognizes Merit Rule.

But the legal fiction of a moot case pending worked out in this way: The treasurer, Henry Stuckart, recognized the right of the civil service commission to create an eligible list for the position. Therefore when he appointed Jacob Lindheimer as assistant he had to make a requisition to the commission for a man.

The board replied it had no list and granted him temporary authority to select any one he desired. That temporary authority has been renewed every sixty days for the last two years because a case was pending which probably would have been thrown out of court if it ever had been permitted to come to a hearing.

The power to cause the new treasurer trouble lies principally in the city administration.

BOYS TO VIE AT OLYMPICS

Entry of 10,000 School Children Expected for Chicago Meet.

TEACHERS SHOW APPROVAL.

Mrs. Young Enthusiastic Over Uniform Marching.

Competition of 10,000 Chicago public school children in the American Olympic games, to be held in this city in June, practically was assured yesterday, when representatives of the schools met with officials of the recently formed athletic organization and discussed plans for the affair. As a result of the meeting it is likely the movement to build a permanent mammoth stadium in Grant park will be carried out.

It is proposed to have the school children open the week's games with exhibitions of calisthenics, competitive athletics, playground exercises, and uniform marching for prizes. Superintendent of Schools Ella Flagg Young is enthusiastic over uniform marching. The need of an adequate stadium was pointed out by Assistant Superintendent of Schools John B. Shoop, who asserted no fewer than 100,000 school children would attend the games as competitors and spectators.

Calls Baseball a Savior.

Chicago sportsmen yesterday discussed summer plans at the weekly luncheon of the Electric club at the Hotel Sherman. In doing so they concluded that, whether for land or aquatic sports, the lake front is the natural recreation ground for the city, and that by building a stadium, bathing beaches, and lagoons it should be further developed for the purpose. Baseball, Olympic games, and yachting were advocated as "city builders."

"Baseball is the savior of America," said David B. Gann, president of the Chicago Athletic association.

Chicago Leads in Aquatics.

"Fifteen years ago, when I was alderman, I predicted that before this year our city would have provided more playgrounds to its children than any other community," said William Hale Thompson, commodore of the Associated Yacht and Powerboat Clubs of America. "Today I dare forecast that within another fifteen years Chicago will be the leading aquatic city in the world. At present $300,000 worth of new boats is in transit toward Chicago, more than have arrived in any other season."

FACES ANOTHER $100,000 SUIT.

Miss Esther Quinn Brings Second Action Against Dr. Harry Thurston Peck, Charging Libel.

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—A new suit for $100,000 by Miss Esther Quinn against Dr. Harry Thurston Peck was filed in the Supreme court today. The complaint alleges that Miss Quinn was libeled in the letter written by Dr. Peck to the trustees of Columbia university concerning her claim against him, in which he wrote:

"This charge against me represents blackmail, backed up by perjury and forgery. I shall fight it to the last."

Miss Quinn's suit against Dr. Peck for $100,000 for breach of promise has not been tried. The defendant filed a petition in bankruptcy several months ago.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Not in session; meets at noon Saturday.

HOUSE.

Representative Mann introduced bill for tariff board of five members. Representative Hobson introduced joint resolution for constitutional amendment for direct election of president and single seven year term; Representative Bartholdt one to limit presidential tenure to two four year terms; Representative Neely one to provide popular election of United States district judges every six years. Representative Bartholdt introduced resolution for commission to fix boundaries of North and South American nations. Representative Clark introduced resolution for special committee to investigate various legislative and executive committees; Representative Austin one to investigate tobacco pool at Henderson, Ky.; and Representative Lobeck one to investigate prices paid by government for elevators. President would be authorized to invite foreign nations to participate in naval parade at opening of Panama canal by resolution introduced by Representative Copley. Representative Flood introduced resolution for government bureau of tobacco industry. Survey and estimate of ship canal between Lakes Erie and Ontario by La Salle-Lewiston route is directed in resolution of Representative Mott. A Lincoln memorial highway, Boston to San Francisco, proposed in bill of Representative Taylor of Colorado. Representative Murdock introduced bill for labeling of clothing and textiles and making misbranding a misdemeanor. Representative Palmer introduced bill to permit national banks to loan money on real estate to 50 per cent of combined capital and surplus. Progressives selected Representative Kelly of Pennsylvania for rules committee in place of Representative Chandler, who declined to serve. Adjourned at 1 p. m. until noon Monday.

SEES MARKETING AS U. S. PROBLEM

Farmers' Conference Urges Government to Spend More Money on Bureau.

SAYS $50,000 WON'T DO.

"Matter of Millions" of Dollars, Says Head of Resolutions Committee.

The national conference on marketing and farm credits strongly hinted at its session yesterday that it was dissatisfied with a $50,000 bureau of marketing recently established in the department of agriculture.

The conference upheld the report of the resolutions committee which asked the national government to establish a bureau or other effective agency for the study of the problem of marketing and "for the distribution of information as to conditions and needs and rational methods of meeting these needs."

When the report was read W. J. Spillman, special representative of Secretary of Agriculture Houston, asked that the wording be changed to an indorsement of congress in establishing a bureau on marketing.

"Matter of Millions of Dollars."

"This is not a matter of $50,000," said E. W. Kirkpatrick, of Texas, formerly president of the Texas farmers' congress and chairman of the resolutions committee. "It is a matter of millions of dollars. Nothing can be accomplished if we go about this in a half-hearted way. It is well known the cost of taking the products of the farm to the ultimate consumer is unnecessarily large, and the methods wasteful. Economic and efficient methods and agencies for the distribution of these farm products are of preeminent importance in reducing the cost and raising the standard of living of our citizens. It is a problem that cannotn be solved with $50,000."

The committee urged that the state governments take up the study of the problem as well as the universities, colleges, and farm journals. Col. F. P. Holland of Dallas, Tex., permanent chairman of the conference, will appoint a committee to take the matter to President Wilson and to congress in an effort to get the needed legislation.

Indorses Parcel Post.

The national government will be urged to extend and improve the parcel post as a potent factor in reducing the cost and facilitating the distribution of farm products.

The committee on farm credits urged the enactment of state and federal legislation to provide for the organization and proper supervision of coöperative credit associations for both farmers and wage earners; for coöperative long time land mortgage associations, and for joint stock long time land mortgage banking.

SUFFRAGETS DEFY NEW BILL

Women at London Meeting Give $75,000 to "War Fund."

AMERICANS MAKE GIFTS.

Speakers Urge Militants to Continue Destruction of Property.

LONDON, April 10.—"Our answer to the government's cat and mouse bill is £15,000 added to our war chest," said "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond today in closing the suffragist meeting at Albert hall over which she presided. It was the biggest meeting ever held by the Women's Social and Political union.

The subscriptions included two for $7,000 each and two for $5,000 each. Among the American contributors were Mrs. August Belmont and Mrs. J. J. White, of New York, and Miss Scott-Troy of San Francisco.

Great laughter greeted the announcement of a subscription of half a crown, accompanied by a bogus note signed by the chancellor of the exchequer, David Lloyd-George. The note read:

"I have great pleasure in presenting to you my first dividend from my Marconi wireless shares."

Tells Suffragets: "Fight On!"

In opening the meeting Mrs. Drummond said: "Fight on! Fight on! That is the message that Mrs. Pankhurst would send us from Holloway jail were she able to get it out—and fight on is what we intend to do."

Mrs. Drummond made a great hit by quoting incendiary passages from the speeches of Sir Edward Carson, Andrew Bonar Law, and Frederick E. Smith on the Ulster question, substituting for "men" the word "women" and for "Ulster" "votes for women."

"Since the government did not arrest these politicians for such incitements to violence," she said, "I presume it is safe for me to repeat what they said, with the slight changes made."

When the bouquet from Miss Zelie Emerson was handed to Mrs. Drummond there was an outburst of cheering.

Urges Destruction of Property.

George Lansbury, former Socialist member of the house of commons, demanded the immediate release of Mrs. Pankhurst and her fellow prisoners and abandonment of the "torture of forcible feeding." He urged the militants to continue to burn and destroy property.

"If a leader is taken away," he said, "let a dozen women step forward and take her place. This is a war in which we shall do our best to preserve human life, but show no regard for property of any kind."

The whole audience rose and responded lustily to a call for three cheers for Mrs. Pankhurst.

Dr. Mansell-Moullin, the well known suffragist physician, declared today in discussing the health of Miss Zelie Emerson, the American suffragist, that her nervous system is completely shattered.

ETIQUETTE CLASS FOR DEAF ASKED

Petition for Improved Conditions in Schools Read to Education Board.

TABLE MANNERS LACKING

Afflicted Pupils Need to Be Taught Amenities of Life, Document Says.

A petition, signed by 1,300 persons, was presented to the school management committee of the board of education yesterday, asking for better conditions in deaf education in the public schools. The petition was introduced by H. E. Wood, president of the Society of Parents of Oral Deaf Children.

Among the special requests are that there be established "three or four centralized schools for the teaching of deaf children; that the children be graded just as other children in the elementary schools are graded, and that they be given a greater amount of manual training and gymnasium work.

Wants Table Manners Taught.

The petition asked that the children be taught table manners.

"In general," says the document, "the deaf children, on account of the difficulty of home training, need to be taught the amenities of life, including table manners, as the conditions under which they are at present compelled to eat their luncheon tend to hinder rather than to help them along these lines."

Board at Work on Plan.

"Most of the things asked for have been planned," said Mrs. Young, "and steps were started to carry them out before the board received the petition."

The committee accepted the resignation of Miss S. Cecelia Wells. Miss Wells was dean of girls at the Medill High school. She was recently arrested on a charge of swindling.

AUTO TRUCK KILLS A BOY.

Pupil Run Down on Way Home from School—Dies Within Few Minutes.

Fred Sheady, 6 years old, living at 7238 Bond avenue, was killed by an auto truck at Seventy-seventh and Coles street while returning from school yesterday. The chauffeur, Lloyd Aiets, employed by the Star Motor company, was arrested and charged with involuntary manslaughter. According to the chauffeur the boy had been riding on a wagon and at Seventy-seventh street he jumped off and ran directly in front of the auto truck.

Mr. Alfred Uihlein
Schlitz Brewing Co.
Milwaukee, Wis.

Dear Sir:

Answering your favor of recent date in regard to the influence of light on the quality of beer, will say that our observations, extending over the last twenty-five years, have convinced us beyond a doubt that exposure of beer to light has a very detrimental influence on its quality generally, but especially upon the flavor of the beer.

* * *

We have tested beers repeatedly in this direction placing the bottles into direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable on account of the peculiar odor developed.

The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are therefore recommendable.

* * *

Yours very truly,
RW/B

Extract from letter to Mr. Alfred Uihlein, written by Robert Wahl, President of the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology, Inc., Chicago.

"Beer bottles should be manufactured from reddish-brown glass, inasmuch as same will to a much higher degree than any other kind of glass, minimize the influence of the rays of light on the quality of beer, and will protect the latter against acquiring the disagreeable taste (Sonnengeschmack) due to the chemical action of the light. **

"In white and green glass bottles the beer is most affected by the action of the light. Such bottles are, therefore, absolutely inappropriate and should never be employed by brewers." (Signed) Prof. Dr. F. Schonfeld.

From the Illustrated Brewery Encyclopedia, p. 99 (Illustriertes Brauerei Lexikon). Published by Dr. Max Delbrück, Privy Councillor, Professor at the Royal Agricultural College and Director of the Institute for Fermentology at Berlin. Berlin: 1910.

"Bottles of strong glass should be selected. They should never be of colorless glass, inasmuch as through the influence of light the beer will not only take on a disagreeable odor and taste, but will also become turbid." (Lintner.)

Extract from Die Malz und Bierbrauerei. Published by E. Leyser, Director of the Brewing Academy in Augsburg. Tenth Edition. Stuttgart. 1900. page 668.

"The beer in the white glass bottle had taken on disagreeable odor and taste and was absolutely undrinkable. The beer in the dark bottles did not show this peculiar odor and taste." (G. Beck.)

Translation of Extract from Zeitschrift für das Gesamte Brauwesen, 1882—page 370.

"It is interesting to note the observation that beer in colorless bottles exposed to diffused light will undergo a change, precipitating a heavy sediment and taking on a disagreeable odor and taste."

Extract from Die Theorie und Praxis der Malzbereitung Biefabrikation. Published by Director Julius E. Thausing, Leipzig, 1899. Fourth Edition, page 920.

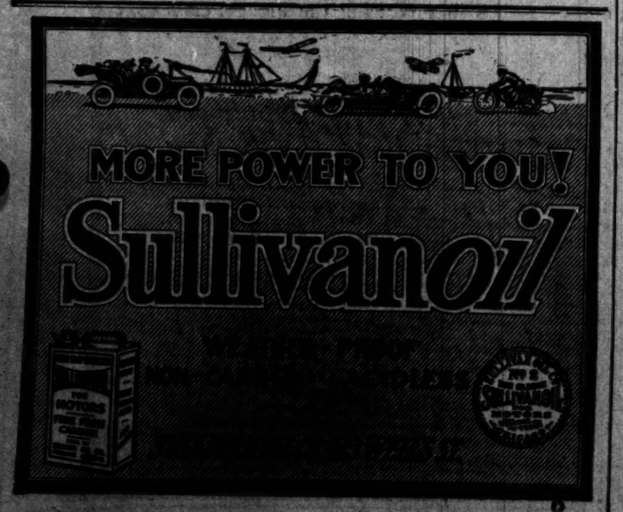

"It is a known fact that sunlight and daylight influence unfavorably the taste and flavor of the beer and care must be exercised in the selection of the bottles."

GIVES FLOOD LOSS IN THIRTY TOWNS

Commerce Association Agent Makes Detailed Report of Conditions.

4,000 HOUSES DEMOLISHED.

Million People Affected, but Only 75,000 Need Material Assistance.

The following statement covering the entire situation in the flooded districts of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and other states was presented by Sherman C. Kingsley before the flood relief committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday noon at the Union League club. The report of Mr. Kingsley, who had returned from Columbus, O., where he was sent by the Association of Commerce to direct the association's work in cooperation with the American National Red Cross, shows the extent of the disaster wrought by the flood and indicates the amount of relief work that still remains to be done. The report in part follows:

"The best estimate that we could get at the time I left on April 4 was this: There were over thirty towns and cities affected by the flood. Those thirty towns and cities aggregated a population, according to the 1910 census, of about 1,000,000 people, and the best estimate we could get was that one-fourth of the population of those cities was in the flood or their houses flooded. That would mean 250,000 people, and the best estimate that we could get out of that 250,000 people was that about 75,000 people would need rehabilitation.

About 4,000 Houses Gone.

"Divide that by a little over four and you get about the number of families. There were something like 4,000, as near as we could get to it, houses completely destroyed. In Tiffin, for instance, there was one point where there were a lot of workingmen's homes out on a little flat tract of ground, and something like thirty-five or forty of those houses have gone down the river.

"A workman with a large number of children, with a small income, who has lost all his furniture, needs help to get furniture. Others will need some tools. In the whole aggregate of people there are lots of small storekeepers, selling papers and little articles in a given little neighborhood, women doing it, perhaps, and in that way taking care of their children or a sick sister. That woman cannot get on her feet to save her life without some help. If she is not helped she will become a charge on the community. If she is rehabilitated with a little stock of goods she can go on and take care of herself as she did before.

"That is the big problem now of the Red Cross. It is a tremendous problem, because his area covers parts of five states with a circumference of about 2,000 miles. Many little cities of 10,000, 15,000, and 25,000 were practically all under water, and immediately they had the relief problem on their hands, a number of people to handle, to deal with.

Villages Suffer Most.

"Those little towns of 10,000, 15,000, or 1,000 inhabitants would have more to deal with than a city like Cleveland or Buffalo would in a year, and of course not expecting it at all.

"Those little interior towns were the hardest hit. Along the Ohio that river has a way of getting on a rise nearly every spring and the people along its banks have a kind of flood habit; they expect it. Somehow or other in many places the current is not so swift and the damage not so great because the water squeezes out without any very great current and it does not sweep the homes away, so that those towns, even though the flood was unprecedentedly high, did not sustain the terrific percentage of damage that was sustained in places like Hamilton, Dayton, Zanesville, and some of the other towns.

"That in brief is now the situation; something like 75,000 people, aggregating perhaps 15,000 or 16,000 families, in a serious condition, and in order to have these funds do the thing which you would like to have them do they need to select from all this large number of people those who are in the most need."

Shoots Himself in the Head.

Samuel Francisolo of 710 South Center avenue committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself in the head at 100 South Halsted street.

The Rev. Yutaki Minakuchi.

For the first time in the history of the Sunday Evening club a Japanese has been engaged for the principal address in Orchestra hall. The speaker is the Rev. Yutaki Minakuchi, independent religious worker and lecturer, who will talk on "The Vital Needs of the Age" next Sunday. His uncle was a celebrated diplomat who represented Japan at St. Petersburg during the period just preceding the Russo-Japanese war. As a boy the present evangelist spent three years with his uncle at St. Petersburg and it was soon after his return to Japan that he embraced Christianity. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina.

MORE SAG CANAL WORK LET.

Sanitary District Trustees Decide to Go On with Construction Despite Federal Mixup.

Protests of Trustees Wallace Clark and George W. Paullin against letting any further work on the Calumet-Sag channel until the federal government gives permission for the use of more water from Lake Michigan were ignored by the drainage board at its meeting yesterday. The board decided to go on awarding contracts for the work and settle the federal difficulty later. Clerk McGillen reported that forged sanitary district checks aggregating more than $250 had been discovered. They were drawn in amounts ranging from $25 to $75 and signed with spurious signatures of various trustees.

FLOOD DESTROYS MINE IN ILLINOIS

Inrushing Water Causes Three Explosions in Big Colliery Near Shawneetown.

PLANT A TOTAL WRECK.

Congress Asked to Set Aside Fund of $100,000,000 to Relieve Future Disasters.

Shawneetown, Ill., April 10.—[Special.]—Perhaps the greatest individual loss by the flood in this county has been sustained by the Gallatin Coal and Coke company at Equality, twelve miles west of this city. The mine was flooded yesterday. The rush of water caused explosions and the mine was totally destroyed.

At the first explosion the water shot out of the shaft 200 feet in the air, carrying with it coal, cars, mine props, timbers, and parts of the superstructure. The gush lasted three minutes and subsided. Within a few minutes another explosion came and the building, engine house, and the tipple were all destroyed. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $100,000. The east side mine was also flooded and there another explosion occurred.

The water has fallen twenty-two inches all told at Shawneetown.

The relief committee appointed by the citizens met this morning and issued an appeal for public aid to restore the loss to those who suffered most. All remittances should be made to the treasurer, who will make official acknowledgment of their receipt.

Asks Flood Fund of $100,000,000.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—A permanent federal fund of $100,000,000 for relief and reconstruction work in localities laid waste by flood, fire, earthquakes, and other catastrophes was proposed today in a resolution introduced in the house by Representative Cary of Wisconsin. The resolution would authorize the treasurer of the United States to issue $100,000,000 notes to be held subject to the orders of the secretary of the interior.

A clause in the bill provides that congress shall immediately authorize the building of dikes and levees, the strengthening and dredging of streams and reforestration.

Proposes Loans to Stricken Cities.

In the event of catastrophes, the bill authorizes the secretary of the interior to make from the reserve fund loans to counties, towns and municipalities affected to the legal limit of their taxation, making the taxes of the locality security for the loan, and providing for payment in annual installments covering not more than twenty years. The loans would be made with the approval of the president and his cabinet.

A bill to appropriate $1,000,000 for the relief of the flood district of Ohio was introduced by Representative Claypool of Ohio.

ATTORNEY FILES AS BANKRUPT.

Samuel B. Wringer Places Liabilities at $6,132 and Assets at $6,003.

Samuel B. Wringer, an attorney with offices at 230 South La Salle street, yesterday filed a petition in bankruptcy for himself. His liabilities he scheduled at $6,132 and his assets at $6,003. The largest asset was his home, valued at $4,000. Mr. Wringer said he had an interest of $3,000 in the Citizens' Cement and Lime company, which failed in 1908, and that he had never been able to recover from his losses in connection with this failure.

ARSON UP TO WOMAN EDITOR.

Mrs. Knute Sandum, Owner of Minnesota Weekly, Charged with Attempting to Burn Plant.

Blue Earth, Minn., April 10.—Mrs. Knute Sandum, owner and publisher of the Bricelyn Sentinel, a weekly newspaper published at Bricelyn, in Faribault county, was brought here today to answer a charge of arson. Mrs. Sandum is accused by Deputy State Fire Marshals R. J. Martin and C. F. Heimbach with having attempted to set fire to her printing plant on April 3.

SOUTHERN WOMEN GET SCARE

Actually Forget to Draw Color Line in Club Bylaws.

MEND FLAW WITH A RUSH.

"White" Qualification Forever Shuts Doors on "Dinah."

Hundreds of Chicago women, entitled by birth and parentage to membership in the Southern Women's Club of Chicago, were barred forever from that organization yesterday by the insertion of a single word in its bylaws. The word was "white." From this time forward no colored women will be posted for membership in the club.

The amendment was offered by Mrs. Hunt Breckenridge. Mrs. Breckenridge was apprehensive lest one of her negro servants apply for entrance to the organization. If this had been done before yesterday the club would have been placed in an embarrassing position. Of course, membership would have been refused, but the club would have had difficulty in explaining why, without going outside the constitution and just vulgarly drawing the color line.

"I have a negro servant named Annie," said Mrs. Breckenridge. "She is a trifle blacker than the inside of a chimney. Nevertheless, her claim to southern birth and parentage is unassailable. In fact, she is perhaps more southern than myself. If Annie should apply for membership in our club she would place us in a difficult position. I don't see how, under our present membership bylaw, we would be able to keep her out and remain consistent.

"The bylaw at present opens the door of this club to any 'woman of southern birth.' I suggest that we insert the word 'white' before woman. That may some day save us from a lot of trouble."

Mrs. Breckenridge's suggestion occasioned some surprise, but there were points that recommended it to the members. They adopted it without a dissenting voice.

ACTRESS MAY BE DEPORTED.

Former London Music Hall Star Arrested in San Francisco on Morality Accusation.

San Francisco, Cal., April 10.—[Special.]—Edna Loftus Rhinestrom, former London music hall star and purported wife of Harry Rheinstrom, scion of a rich Cincinnati family of brewers, was arrested last night by United States immigration inspectors and is held at the city prison awaiting proceedings leading to her deportation to England on the charge that she is an alien in this country for immoral purposes. The government has been investigating information to the effect that her marriage to Rheinstrom was not legal, because she has never obtained a divorce from her first husband, Jockey Winnie O'Connor, an Englishman.

ROSES MARK LAMPERT RECORD.

Friends Pay Tribute to Vice President Who Has Been with Fort Dearborn Bank Twenty-five Years.

Twenty-five years ago Nelson N. Lampert entered the service of the Fort Dearborn National bank as telephone boy. Yesterday, when he completed ten years as a vice president, his desk was covered with roses—tributes from fellow officials and employés.

When Lampert started to work for the bank the institution employed ten men and had a capital of $500,000. Today there are 180 employés and the capital is $2,000,000.

"Opportunities for young men are better today than ever before," said Mr. Lampert. "Business is being conducted on a much bigger scale and bigger and better men are required to direct and control it."

Attorney Argues Range of Bullet Was Upward, Showing Death Struggle.

Robert Francis Webb, robber and gunman, yesterday "stood pat" in the shadow of the gallows.

While the state presented evidence in support of a demand that Webb's life be the penalty for the murder of Detective Peter Hart, the defendant, composed and apparently self-satisfied, directed his lawyers to proceed with their arguments to the jury without the presentation of any evidence in defense.

Webb Grants Sister's Wish.

It had been expected Webb would take the stand and contend he killed Hart in self-defense. His decision not to become a witness is said to have been in accordance with the wishes of his sister.

Assistant State's Attorney Fleming in his argument laid stress on the absence of defense and predicted Webb's lawyers would seek to free their client by arguments and not by evidence. He anticipated the attorneys would plead Webb shot Hart in self-defense and not with the knowledge Hart was an officer of the law.

Defense Counsel Denounces Prosecutor.

Attorney Francis Borrelli took up the defense of Webb. He first upbraided Prosecutor Fleming.

Borrelli argued Webb acted in self-defense when he killed Hart.

"That hole in the wall of Cassella's flat shows from what point the gun was fired," said Borrelli. "The course of the bullet was up. The bullet entered the wall not two feet from the floor. The men were struggling on the floor at the time. Cassella, the only eye witness, says the shots came quick, fast, close together."

Borrelli will continue his argument this morning.

ROBBERS FIND VISITORS EASY.

Men from Steger, Racine, and Hillside Pay Tribute—One Gets Watch Back as "Too Cheap."

Three visitors to Chicago from Steger, Racine, and Hillside were held up in rapid succession yesterday and cleaned of all they had except for the watch of Stanley Butler, the Racine visitor. That was returned as "too cheap," and Butler was a trifle offended at the insult. Frank Jaycox of Steger was in search of a hotel. A new friend took him to a vacant lot, pounded him violently about the head, and left with $25. Richard Zimmerman of Hillside was threatened with a revolver at Desplaines street and Jackson boulevard and robbed of $35. Burglars cut through door panels and escaped with $500 of clothing and jewelry belonging to Elmer and Percival Johnson of 1801 West Adams street and S. O. Whitman of 1588 Jackson boulevard.

Dr. Hall in Divorce Court.

Dr. J. L. S. Hall of 7000 Normal avenue yesterday was ordered by Judge Gemmill to pay his wife, Mrs. Louise B. Hall, 4735 South Ashland avenue, $10 a week. Attorneys said the case had been taken into the divorce courts, and Judge Gemmill ordered a dismissal.

VALENTINE'S VALSPAR
The Varnish That Won't Turn White

For Better Boat Protection

The beautiful glossy finish Valspar imparts to the hull, deck, spars and cabin woodwork will last the entire season without revarnishing, if the Valspar is properly applied.

Valspar will never turn white from water.

It outlasts ordinary spar varnishes, and, unlike them, dries hard over night.

Valspar costs very little more, and it is well worth the difference.

Yachtsmen all over the country who have used Valspar swear by it. Try it this year and you will never use a substitute.

Valuable Hand Book of motor trucks

A "boiled down catalog" giving photographic reproductions, specifications and the essential features of over 60 American made trucks has just been issued by the makers of

GOODRICH WIRELESS DEMOUNTABLE TRUCK TIRES

This book gives you in handy, easily available form the things you are interested in knowing about various trucks, for comparison or other purposes.

To get this information, ordinarily, means wading through a mass of catalogs and specification sheets. This book is a digest of everything you want to know. You can look over it in your office or the quiet of your home and keep it as a reference book.

We compiled this Hand Book with the co-operation of the various manufacturers. Each submitted the specifications and equipment of his own car. It's authentic and up-to-date for 1913.

It cost us almost $3000 to get out this book. No charge to you if you send your request on your business stationery.

PLAN TO PREVENT FLOOD DISASTERS

Experts Advocate Creation of a National Department of Public Works.

DRAINAGE MEN SEE NEED.

Proposition to Be Formulated at Their Congress in Session at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., April 10.—Sentiment of the delegates to the national drainage congress, which began a three days' session here today, crystallized around the plan for the creation of a national department of public works.

The executive committee met this evening to shape definitely the proposal that will be submitted to the delegates.

Gov. Major of Missouri suggested that David R. Francis of St. Louis would make an ideal head for that branch of the government service.

Mr. Francis suggested that Col. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, would be the man for the place.

Randolph Favors the Plan.

Isham Randolph of Chicago, former chief engineer of the Chicago drainage canal, made an analysis of the flood prevention and reclamation problems confronting the people of the Mississippi valley and emphasized that the problem of flood control is one primarily for the nation and not for the separate states.

"The tribute levied by the floods," he said, "mounts up to thousands of human lives, and into millions upon millions of property destroyed."

Mr. Randolph said there are not enough army engineers adequately to supervise the flood prevention and reclamation work that should be done, and pressed the plan for a new government department.

Cost of Flood Prevention.

R. B. Oliver of Cape Girardeau, Mo., said eminent engineers had given assurance that the flood waters of the Mississippi can be controlled and the levees made safe at an expenditure of $60,000,000.

"We feel that attempts to get a bill through congress providing for the creation of a department of public works," said J. H. Nolen of Jefferson City, Mo., a member of the executive committee, "will meet with early success.

"This department would have supervision of all land reclamation work and the regulation of flood waters. It is our desire that the department have nothing to do with the improvement of the rivers for navigation, leaving that to the war department as it is now."

POINTS OUT GREAT WEAKNESS OF NAVY OF UNITED STATES.

Capt. Hood of General Board Says We Are Far Behind Other Nations and by 1920 Will Be in the Ruck.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—Not one of the 31 battleships and 24 destroyers that constituted the fighting force of 127 vessels which assembled for review in New York harbor last October was ready for war, Capt. John Hood, then captain of the dreadnought Delaware, told the Navy league today. Capt. Hood, now a member of the navy general board, gave his views on a desirable naval policy.

"Not counting the British fleet, with which no conflict need ever be feared," he said, "in 1920 Germany can put to sea 41 battleships, of which 25 will be dreadnoughts, and also 15 battle cruisers; France will have 38 capital ships, of which 23 will be dreadnoughts; Japan will have 36, of which 17 will be dreadnoughts or dreadnought cruisers.

"Nothing short of the general board's policy of forty-eight battleships for the United States can even approach adequacy, and a fleet inadequate is a burden without protection. At our present rate of growth we in 1920 could put out against those armaments thirty-three ships all told, of which only sixteen will be dreadnoughts.

"The nations of today most likely to challenge our rights and policies and with whom our interests most conflict are the strong men of the nations, armed and ready. The habits of expediency that we have followed must cease if we are to hold our place among the nations."

Eight cities have sent invitations to the league to hold its convention next year within their borders. They are: St. Louis, San Francisco, Buffalo, Nashville, Milwaukee, Boston, Denver, and San Diego, Cal.

DEATH CHAIR FOR CHICAGOAN.

Frank Kinney Convicted at Cleveland of Murder of a Retired Lake Captain.

Cleveland, O., April 10.—Frank Kinney of Chicago was convicted here today of first degree murder for killing Ralph E. Byrns, a retired lake captain, on the night of Feb. 2. As the jury made no recommendation of mercy Kinney is doomed to die in the electric chair.

CHICAGO'S TAXES CHINESE PUZZLE

With the assessed valuation raised from one-fifth to one-third of the real, 2 mills on each dollar would have produced a much greater sum, so the thrifty legislature cut down the maximum for the West park board to 1.2 mills on each dollar.

HOWEVER, there seems to have been something sacred about the South park board, or perhaps the legislature simply got into a deadlock, or a jackpot, or something, and forgot it. At any rate, the limit of tax levy for the South park board before the assessed valuation was raised was 3 mills on the dollar. After it was raised it was still 3 mills on the dollar, which, when added to the fact that the south park board has the exclusive right to levy taxes for park purposes on all property inside the loop, is extremely nice—for the South park board.

That was not the only hair raising feat which the legislature performed at the same time. It reduced the tax limit of the city from $2 to $1.20 on each $100 of assessed valuation, and it let the county of Cook alone to enjoy its old privileges in the taxing line.

All up and down the line of tax levying bodies the legislature skipped, alighting now and again on some head with crushing force, and missing many others entirely.

PASSING now a few steps to the left, your attention is invited to what is probably the largest and plumpest political fat lady to be found in the entire list of officeholders in Chicago. This, ladies and gentlemen, is the county treasurer, and it is the present complication of taxing bodies which permits her to play so many parts, and take, in what is now a legal and legitimate manner, financial toll from so many different sets of taxes.

The county treasurer is, in fact, the original Koko of Chicago politics. In the first place, as treasurer; he draws a merely nominal salary of $4,000 a year. In the second place, he is, as county treasurer, ex-officio town collector for the towns of Hyde Park, Jefferson, South Chicago, Lake, North Chicago, and West Chicago. For his labors as collector for each of these towns he is allowed by law to retain 2 per cent of the total taxes collected, provided the sum shall not amount to more than $1,500.

Strangely enough, it practically always amounts to exactly that sum. With $1,500 coming in from each of six towns, the emolument or honorarium of the office begins, it is apparent, to be worthy the attention of a fairly sizable statesman, there being now $13,000 in sight.

Nor does that begin to tell the tale. The county treasurer also handles the large sum of money which comes in to the state in the way of inheritance taxes. Of all such taxes collected, he is again allowed by law to retain, in payment for his exertions, 2 per cent.

This adds another $10,000 to his annual income, making close to $25,000 a year in full view.

The interest on millions of public funds which remain for months in the custody of the county treasurer is quite another and even more disputed and debatable question.

THE whole matter of taxing bodies in Chicago is so involved and tangled that this imperfect and doubtless inaccurate glance at them can serve only to give a faint idea of the situation.

There are now in the legislature bills which provide for the consolidation of many of the taxing and administrative bodies, including practically all of them but the sanitary district, the school board, and the county.

So far as the towns are concerned they are still to retain their separate identities for tax collecting purposes, which would apparently allow the county treasurer to collect his $1,500 from each.

DOUBTLESS the passage of these bills would help. But there would still remain what seems to be an unnecessary duplication of high salaried officials performing much the same service for both city and county. The six or seven clerks of the courts, all with big salaries, and long lists of straw bosses and clerks, would be unchanged. There would still be much duplication and complication all along the line.

It would, however, be necessary to amend the constitution of the state to consolidate Cook county and the city of Chicago. That is a job for a big man.

"L" SETTLEMENT READY TOMORROW

Only Minor Details Prevent Signing of Agreement by the Arbitrators.

MEETING CALLED TODAY.

Men Oldest in Service Are Given Preference Runs and Largest Pay Boost.

Minor details prevented the elevated road arbitrators from signing an agreement yesterday. A meeting of the arbiters, the railway officials and labor leaders will be held this afternoon and a final settlement made. The terms will be made known to the 4,000 employés on Saturday.

Although it was expected the agreement would be signed last night minor clauses had not been settled and the meeting for today was called. Jacob Le Bosky, one of the arbiters, worked over the contract late at night and the terms are ready for the signatures of the officials. Wallace Heckman and Le Bosky have been busy on the problem for four months.

Increase for Older Workers.

According to the new terms, which will be signed tonight, many of the older men in the employ of the elevated companies will get an increase of 5 cents an hour, with a ten hour working day. The terms also stipulate that the men must be employed ten consecutive hours or be paid for overtime work.

The elevated companies proposed to abolish the overtime pay clause, but the men demanded double pay. After considerable study of the situation the arbiters have compiled a wage scale which gives a uniform rate to the men in various positions. Those who are older in the service are given the preference runs.

The ticket agents, repairers, platform and track men, and porters are given an increase of 2½ to 4 cents an hour, but the hours have not been shortened. The wage scale will apply to all the men employed by the five elevated companies.

Painters' Strike Unsettled.

All efforts to effect a settlement of the painters' strike have failed and it is believed an appeal will be made to the United States commissioner of labor. The employers declare they are willing to give an increase of 5 cents an hour, but the men rejected the offer. An ultimatum will be issued by the Painters and Decorators' club to the striking painters today.

In the ultimatum the employers declare they will withdraw their offer of 5 cents an hour increase unless the men accept their terms before Monday.

Attempts have been made by some of the men to hold a massmeeting and repudiate the action of the painters' district council in calling a strike.

TO TEACH CIVIC CLEANLINESS

Prominent Citizens of Washington Arrange Lectures for Public School Children of City.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—Civic cleanliness is to be taught in the public schools of the capital as a result of the activities of a "clean city" committee of prominent citizens.

Each day when the schools open a brief address will be made to the pupils, either by their teachers or by members of the committee, and the importance of municipal sanitation will be impressed upon them.

It is expected in this way that the general health and comfort of the community will be advanced materially.

Aged Man Accused by Girl.

Matthew Birk, who is 72 years old and lives at 6334 Union avenue, yesterday was arrested, charged with enticing Emma Deleue, 6 years old, 649 West Sixty-third street, into the basement of her house. The child's screams frightened Birk and he fled into the street.

For Age-Marred Skins and Dull, Streaky Hair

Fine lines and that aged condition of the skin are caused by pore-clogging powders and creams. These should be discarded for a spurmax-lotion which seems a part of the skin when on and is easily made at home at little cost by dissolving 4 ounces spurmax in ½ pint witch hazel [or hot water] then adding 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This face-lotion protects the skin against the ravages of sun and wind, removes tan, freckles, oiliness and other upsets and lends an indefinable charm to the complexion.

An invigorating and pleasing shampoo can easily be made by dissolving a teaspoonful canthrox in a cup of hot water. This creates an abundance of rich, cleansing lather which is a positive benefit to your scalp and hair. After rinsing, your hair will dry quickly and evenly, with a brilliance and silky softness truly charming. Canthrox, which costs little at the druggist's, removes dandruff, makes the scalp healthy and promotes an abundant growth.—Advertisement.

CENSOR BARS "THE MIRACLE"

O'Connor Objects to Maeterlinck Play in Film Form.

SERGEANT GIVES REASON.

"Depicts Immorality and Is Insulting to Religion."

Police Censor Jeremiah O'Connor, who some time ago forbade the exhibition of "September Morn" on the ground that it is immoral, yesterday issued an order prohibiting the exhibition of moving pictures depicting Maeterlinck's mystery play, "Sister Beatrice." The film is known as "The Miracle."

Censor O'Connor pointed out in his order the objection was not to the play itself but to the manner in which it has been arranged on the moving picture film.

"Insulting to Religion."

"The film," said O'Connor, "is prohibited because it depicts murder, drunkenness, and immorality, and is insulting to religion. My bureau last year prohibited the display of nearly sixty miles of films and approved of more than 900 miles. In none of these was there anything so objectionable as this 'The Miracle.' There is no excuse for making such a picture.

"The bureau has adopted a policy of disapproving of any films depicting pictures of crimes or openly insulting to religion. We have prevented the display of many which caricature or insult the Jews."

Story of "The Miracle."

The story of "The Miracle" is that of a nun lured from a convent by a visiting knight who carries her to his castle. When the knight wearies of her he sells her to another noble in payment of a gambling debt. Her new owner carries "Sister Beatrice" away with him. Soon she falls into the hands of a robber. In this part of the film many scenes of brawling and murder are shown. Meanwhile in the convent a statue of the Virgin has disappeared. It has become vivified and has put on the vestments of the faithless nun and taken her place among her sisters.

At last, heartbroken and disillusioned, the nun returns. The Virgin greets her and bids her don her habit and take the place she had deserted.

EX-GOV. DOUGLAS AGAIN A BENEDICK

Former Massachusetts Executive Weds Housekeeper; Surprises Friends.

OVERCOME LEGAL WAIT.

Gets Special Permit to Avoid Five Days' Delay; Bride Talented Musician.

Brockton, Mass., April 10.—[Special.]—Former Gov. William L. Douglas, whose home is in Brockton, and Mrs. Alice Kenniston Moodie, a widow, formerly of Portland, Me., were married today. This was also Mr. Douglas' second marriage. After the death of the first Mrs. Douglas, who was Miss N. Augusta Terry of Plymouth, Mrs. Moodie became Mr. Douglas' housekeeper.

The marriage came as a surprise even to business and political associates of the former executive and to friends of both him and his bride. Mr. Douglas is 67 years old. The ceremony took place at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Henry B. Russell, one of Mr. Douglas' two daughters.

Mrs. Douglas is a talented musician and had presided over the Douglas mansion hospitably. But no one suspected any romance was budding between the former governor and the widow. In order to avoid the five days' wait which the law imposes between the issuance of a marriage license and the ceremony Mr. Douglas invoked the aid of Judge Warren A. Reed of the Brockton District court. Judge Reed issued a permit for the marriage to take place before the five day limit had expired.

Mr. Douglas and his bride departed for Providence, where they planned to catch a train for New York. They will stay in New York a few days. Then they will start for a long honeymoon trip through England and the continent.

Drops Dead While Cooking.

While preparing dinner for her children yesterday Mrs. Alice M. Bauley of 1811 West Huron street, dropped dead.

THE young fellows who don't as yet worry about the "income tax" have a right to look as though they were "assessable"—we've always cared for the young man's wants in just that way. But we haven't asked him to be content with mature styles—we've designed models that are as easy, breezy and young as he wants them and likes them. In the college room on the second floor we're displaying fancy effects that are undeniably smart—on the third floor we've assembled blues and blacks for the young man who appreciates their serviceability.

Double Wedding for Two Chicago Sisters.

MRS. K. JORDAN HEWITT of 5315 Kenmore avenue has issued invitations for the double wedding of her daughters, Miss Edith and Miss Lucile, the former to Augustus Maxwell Rode of Chicago and the latter to Frederick Goodenow Holcomb of Preston, Cuba. The ceremony will take place on Wednesday, April 30, at 8:30 o'clock at Edgewater Presbyterian church.

The marriage of Miss Mary Cleland, daughter of Mrs. Jonas C. Cleland of the Del Prado hotel, to Dr. Robert A. Black, son of Dr. and Mrs. James A. Black of 7623 Union avenue, will take place at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of April 16 at the Del Prado. Only the immediate families will be present owing to the recent death of the bride's father. The bridegroom's father will perform the marriage ceremony. There will be no attendants.

The marriage of Miss Frances Louise Birney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Birney, to John D. Martin Jr. will take place on the evening of June 11 at the residence of the bride's parents, 3839 Monroe street. The Rev. James Rowe will officiate. The bride will be attended by her cousin, Miss Bertha Mansfield of York, Neb., as maid of honor and by the Misses Pearl Young and Gretchen Danz as bridesmaids. Dorothy Lee will be ring bearer. Fred G. Watson will be best man.

The marriage of Miss Mary Helen Shank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles a Shank of 4339 Hazel avenue, to Edgar Gilbert Collins of Lafayette, Ind., will take place Tuesday evening, April 22, at 8:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents. The Rev. R. J. Young of Detroit will perform the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. L. P. Cain of Edgewater. The bride will be attended by Mrs. W. F. Jones of Washington, D. C., as matron of honor and Louise Thompson of Evanston as flower girl. Prof. Severance Burrage of Indianapolis will serve as best man. After Sept. 1 the young people will live in Lafayette.

The marriage of Miss Mabel Nelson, daughter of J. Fred Nelson, 4818 Forrestville avenue, to Ralph Boyer Kilmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Kilmer of Rockford, will take place tomorrow at 8:30 o'clock at the family residence, the Rev. William Chalmers Covert officiating. Miss Irene Nelson, sister of the bride, will be the maid of honor and Ruth Volts will be flower girl. C. H. Willett of Louisville, Ky., will attend as best man. They will be at home after June 1 at 5481 Greenwood avenue.

Miss Elizabeth Stokes, 6042 Ingleside avenue, will give a musical tomorrow afternoon in honor of Miss Grace Hickox and Mrs. Lulu Jones Downing. Miss Jeannette Rubidge, Miss Alice Hillman, Miss Mary Harris, and Miss Ida Patterson will pour.

Col. and Mrs. Williard Block left yesterday for Washington and Atlantic City. Mrs. Block goes to Washington to attend the annual congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, of which she is a national chairman.

Alumnæ of Sigma Phi sorority will give their annual dance at the Colonial club this evening. Miss Loretta Dooley and Arthur Warnick will lead the grand march. Miss Doris Smith and Frank Jay will lead the left wing. Among the patronesses are Mrs. H. Bong, Mrs. F. Jones, Mrs. Charles A. Stevens, Mrs. J. Dooley, and Mrs. H. Vassey.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Ginsburg, 3133 Washington boulevard, who recently announced the betrothal of their daughter, Anabel, to Norman T. Brenner, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Brenner, 5839 Sheridan road, will be at home Sunday, April 13, from 3 to 5 and 7 to 10.

New Suffragan Bishop Chosen.

Boston, Mass., April 10.—The Rev. Samuel G. Babcock of Boston, archdeacon of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts, was today elected suffragan bishop by the diocesan convention. The other candidate was Dr. Herman Page, rector of St. Paul's church, Chicago. The vote was: Babcock, 103 clerical and 66 lay delegates; Page, 63 clerical and 32 lay delegates.

MISS MAIDA SEARLES

Miss Maida Eloise Searles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Searles of 1315 East Fifty-second street, will become the bride of Albert Nathaniel Butler, son of Dr. Nathaniel Butler of the University of Chicago, at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow evening, the ceremony to be performed at the residence of her parents.

Begin Fight for D. A. R. Presidency.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—With delegates arrived for the twenty-second annual congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution beginning next Monday, politics of the organization began to move in earnest and three candidates for president-general took up their campaigns actively. Teas and receptions are being given by supporters of the various candidates.

Mrs. Charles B. Bryan of Tennessee, Mrs. John Miller Horton of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mrs. William Cummings Story of New York are in the field for president-general to succeed Mrs. Matthew T. Scott.

Two vacancies in the list of thirteen honorary vice presidents-general will be filled, besides the officers on the regular ticket, for which two factions have candidates in the field.

Registration of the incoming delegates will begin at Continental Memorial hall tomorrow and meetings of several committees will take place during the day. The national board of management will meet Saturday and several social functions will be given, principal of which will be a reception by the regents of the Smithsonian institution.

The congress opens Monday with an address of welcome by the president-general, Mrs. Scott, and in the afternoon President Wilson will extend greetings to the congress.

Society in Nation's Capital.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. Wilson, after her usual custom, gave a tea to guests this afternoon. The "relays" of two score or more men and women who have had tea with Mrs. Wilson since her arrival at the White House now form a substantial background of friendly acquaintanceship.

Mrs. William Jennings Bryan was guest of honor at a luncheon given today by Mrs. Hamilton Wright. Among those asked to meet Mrs. Bryan were Mrs. Powell Clayton Jr., Mrs. Albert Janin, Mrs. John W. Foster, and Mrs. James W. Pinchot.

Mrs. Thomas Riley Marshall, members of the cabinet, and practically the entire roster of the Congressional club's membership were guests today of the president of the club, Mrs. Duncan U. Fletcher, who gave a luncheon in compliment to her predecessor in office, Mrs. Ernest W. Roberts. Mrs. Charles R. Davis, Mrs. Charles E. Townsend, Mrs. Lemuel P. Padgett, Mrs. Thetus W. Sims, and Mrs. Edward T. Taylor were among those assisting.

Col. and Mrs. Spencer Cosby gave a dinner tonight in compliment to Miss Margaret and Miss Eleanor Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page gave a dinner tonight for their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hopkinson Smith.

The vice president and Mrs. Marshall were given a dinner tonight by Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont.

Mrs. Richmond Pearson Hobson gave a tea this afternoon complimentary to Mrs. Franklin Haven and the Misses Endicott of Boston. Countess de Peretti de la Rocca and Mrs. John W. Dwight assisted.

Mr. Justice and Mrs. Joseph R. Lamar were among dinner hosts of the day.

Capt. E. E. Capehart, U. S. N., and Mrs. Capehart gave a dinner tonight for the postmaster general and Mrs. Albert S. Burleson. Other guests were Rear Admiral Victor Blue, the former minister to Spain and Mrs. Hannis Taylor, Mrs. Deloss Blodgett, Mrs. Charles Graves Matthews, Miss Bennett of New Bedford, Mass.; Capt. Harry Knapp, U. S. N.; and Ensign E. D. Capehart, U. S. N.

How to Earn Money at Home

The purpose of this department is to find profitable employment for women in occupations which they can carry on at home without interfering with their domestic duties. To stimulate suggestions. The Tribune will award $1 each for every help published. Address—Sally Joy Brown, care The Tribune, Chicago.

The exhibit room in The Tribune building is open from 9.30 a. m. to 4 p. m., except on Saturday, when it closes at noon.

Are You an Imitator or an Originator?

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

ARE you an imitator or an originator?

It is the man or woman who does the new thing, the novel thing, who makes the really big success!

Have you read of the success of other women who have done certain home work in a certain way and have tried to do the same thing in the same way yourself?

Have you failed to win the success that they have won?

Why not try to do something that is your own idea—something that uses your best talents, meets the demands of the people near you?

Why try to shape your talents into the same mold that another woman has shaped hers?

Don't you think that it is the home woman who uses the best talent that she possesses is the one who finds her little home business growing into a big home business?

Don't you appreciate originality in other people?

Don't you think that they appreciate it in you?

The people who want to buy the home products that you can make want to have a touch about them that is different.

They want home cooked foods that taste like home cooked foods, hand made waists that have an individual and exclusive touch, handicraft that is artistic in line and harmonious in color.

What among the many branches of home work can you do the best?

Won't you use your one best talent and see what a success you can make in your own home?

Here is a letter that came to me from a home woman who has used her originality:

"I had been reading your department for a long time and had never thought that the problem of earning money would ever confront me. One day it did confront me very suddenly. I started to study the ways that other women had made money and found that none of them just suited my abilities and my situation. I had to use my own talents and my own resources if I expected to make a success. I could play the piano and I could talk entertainingly, so I combined the two and let some of my old friends know that I was ready at a half hour's notice to entertain every one and any one who came within their gates. I have made a success of the work, and it has grown in the two years to a home business that brings me a regular income."

Do you want a home business that will bring you a steady income?

This department is to help you to establish just such a home business!

The young woman who wrote the letter to me was fortunate in having wealthy friends who were in need of the kind of service that she offered to them.

But if you are absolutely unknown in the city you can reach the same people without first knowing them personally.

You can have a little messenger go to their door every morning at small cost and tell them of the work that you can do.

An advertisement of your work in The Tribune Home Workers' Market Place will help you wonderfully—more than you could ever imagine.

Won't you write to me and let me tell you of the wonderful work that such a little messenger can do for you?

Handy at Making Fancy Knots.

I am employed as a stenographer in a manufacturing establishment. As I am quite handy in making fancy knots and bows, suitable for calendars and folders, I decided to let the firm know of my ability and see if I could not make a little pin money in that way. They at once gave me an order of 1,000 cords to tie into a certain knot. For this work I received $3. I received so many orders to tie different knots and bows that I took mother into partnership to help out on rush orders. We found the work interesting and profitable for our spare moments. Many women could make money at home without interfering with their home duties by letting their talents and ability be known.

Recipe for Fruit Cake.

I have been baking fruit cakes and selling them for the last five years, which has brought me a fine income. The recipe is as follows: One cup of molasses, one cup brown sugar, one cup butter, one cup raisins, one cup currants, one cup figs, one cup dates, one-half pound citron, one cup cold, strong coffee, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon ground cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves, three cups flour, two eggs. Cream the butter and sugar and then add the molasses and coffee. Sift the soda and flour three or four times and then mix all ingredients. Then add the cinnamon and cloves. Put in the oven to bake.

Made Paper Dolls.

An artistic Northwestern college student one year made quite a bit of pin money in the manufacture of a delightful series of doll families. Charming little faces were drawn in ink and tinted, and the little bodies cut out of substantial white heavy paper. Dresses were then manufactured for the little individuals, whether delicious blonde, stately brunette, or Titian haired doll, the artist suiting the colors to the complexion of the dolls with stunning effect. In trimming her little gowns she picked out effects in ink, like ruffles, etc., getting delightful tones in all the delicate shades, and combining them in a way to make real mammas envious for similar wearables for little flesh and blood mites. The artist got many ideas for "children" dolls from the French dresses depicted in fashion books, with like results when fashioning adult dolls. One doll with two changes of dress sold for 25 cents, and she made them in all sorts of combinations. Sometimes it was a whole family—father, mother, little brother, and sister—each with individual wardrobe complete with hats, muffs, etc. Sometimes she made a wedding party—bride, groom, and bridesmaids—deliciously dressed a la mode. Sometimes it was one doll with complete lingerie for every occasion. It may be well to state that these dresses were merely outlined in shape on the water color paper and then tinted, etc. Sometimes tiny baby ribbon was run through slits cut in the flounce of a ruffle on a French dress.

The fascination of dressing the little paper manikins in their fascinating toggery appealed even to grown-ups and the student had all she could do in spare hours on orders for shut-in children, etc.

Neatness and dispatch in dressing for early morning kitchen duty makes the kimono dress appeal to all women. The dress of percale, gingham, etc., is cut like the kimono aprons, only a bit fuller, and seamed to fit the figure. It is sewn straight to the bottom in the back with no opening, slipping over the head like a man's shirt. The neck is shirred on tape white elastic, and a wider piece holds in the waist when on, making a perfect fitting house dress when adjusted, without buttons, placket, or hook and eyes to bother one. Its simplicity in laundering and neatness of appearance when on recommends it to all, the rubber giving when putting on and slipped out when laundered. Six yards of percale at from 6 to 8 cents a yard will make one, and three-fourths of a yard each of rubber tape is all that is required. A dollar asked for them would net almost half that in clean profit.

TRIBUNAL MAKES BIG RECORD AS HEALER OF MARITAL WOES.

Court of Domestic Relations Reunites 50 Per Cent of Couples Who Go to It with Their Troubles.

Reuniting of 50 per cent of married couples coming to court and planning divorce or separation is one important result of the work of the Court of Domestic Relations. Judge Gemmill, who is about to retire after his year of labor, is now compiling his report for that period.

"We have a good record system in effect," said Judge Gemmill, "and know that we have been able to bring about reconciliations in half the cases brought here. Men and women who have come fully believing the divorce court their only remedy have left arm in arm or walking beside their delighted children.

"It has been a trying year and I am glad to be relieved. But the work is increasing in usefulness and it is apparent a second court of the sort must be established shortly. The results are most encouraging."

The record shows nearly half the family difficulties due to excessive use of liquor, with immorality, at 14 per cent, as the second most important factor.

FORTUNE ESTATE IS $560,000.

Son and Daughter of Wealthy Brewer Who Died Intestate Will Share Riches.

An inventory of the $560,000 estate of Peter Fortune, who died on Nov. 28, 1912, has been filed in the Probate court. The estate comprises 387 shares in the Fortune Bros.' Brewing company, 355 shares of the defunct Chicago National bank, and stocks and bonds of the Metropolitan Fire Insurance company, Northwestern Gas Light and Coke company, and the Chicago Auditorium association.

His daughter, Joanna Fortune, 43 East Burton place, and a son, John L. Fortune, are sole beneficiaries.

The estate of Henry Bilharz has been appraised at $243,000. It consists of stocks, bonds, real estate, mortgages, and other holdings.

ANTI-FLY CAMPAIGN BEGUN BY CHICAGO CLUB WOMEN.

Lectures on Prevention of Conditions That Lead to Multiplication Will Be Given in 100 Schools.

An anti-fly campaign yesterday was launched by Mrs. William B. Owen of the Woman's City club with the coöperation of the health department.

The campaign is to be carried on in conjunction with the agitation for a cleanup week beginning May 5. Mrs. Owen has arranged to have lectures given in 100 schools on preventing the fly nuisance. Doctors from the health department will give some of these lectures.

Mrs. Owen says the idea that will be brought out is to remedy conditions that lead to the multiplication of flies rather than to "swat 'em" afterward.

After the lectures the pupils will be asked to write essays on the subject and prizes will be awarded.

To help the campaign, Dr. Young has decided to introduce an ordinance into the new city council containing more stringent regulations as to the disposal of waste.

Marshall Field Chorus Gives Annual Concert.

BY GLENN DILLARD GUNN.

THE seventh annual concert of the Marshall Field Choral society took place last night in Orchestra hall before an audience that filled the auditorium and that gave many evidences of its cordial approval of the program. This organization, the first of its kind in the city, has made remarkable advances during its brief career. Founded with the intention of enriching the lives of its members by those rare pleasures that come from the practice of the only art that engages the mutual effort of many to the expression of beauty, it has reached standards of excellence that make possible the augmentation of those pleasures by imparting them to the public.

The audience that applauded Conductor Pape and his singers last night paid just tribute to a choral art that was distinguished by the soft sonority of the tone as well as by the disciplined enthusiasm that animated the performance. Other choruses in the city display a greater precision, notably in the matter of attack. Some of the older organizations of similar size have attained greater flexibility in the control of dynamic contrasts and sustain the rhythmical pulse with greater variety of accent. But none has produced a more attractive quality of tone either as a choral unit or in the individual choirs.

With such notable advances one may expect more from the society in the future. Its present attainments are ample for the requirements of such a work as Goring Thomas' "Swan and Skylark," which opened the program. The big opportunity of the cantata is accorded the tenor and Evan Williams made it one of the most appealing and convincing examples of song which the season has offered. It had to recommend it a tone of ample power, of rarely sympathetic quality, the subtle agent of an interpretative art that comprehended every expressive inflection from simple lyric eloquence to dramatic intensity. Mrs. Herdien, Mrs. Gannon, and Mr. Boroff, the remaining soloists, made the most of their lesser opportunities and fully shared in the honors of the evening.

Members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra supplied accompaniments that were models of sympathetic efficiency. Elgar's cantata, "The Light of Life," was the concluding number of the program.

Wilhelm Middelschulte will be the soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra this afternoon. He will present his own passacaglia for organ. Another Chicagoan—Thorwald Otterstrom—will be represented with the performance of his chorale and fugue. The symphony will be the D minor of César Franck. The program will include further the overture to d'Albert's "Der Improvisator," Sibelius' symphonic poem, "Finlandia," and Ertel's symphonic prologue, "Nachtliche Heerschau."

Plan Big Celebration of Peace Centenary.

THE international committee for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of peace among English speaking peoples will visit Chicago May 16 and 17.

The committee will be accompanied by Joseph H. Choate and Alton B. Parker. The purpose is to meet with the state and local committees and to make plans for the approaching centenary anniversary of the ratification of the treaty of Ghent on Feb. 17, 1815.

About thirty delegates from England, Canada, Australia, and South Africa will arrive in New York on May 4, and will visit Boston, Washington, D. C., and Philadelphia before coming to Chicago. They will tour the United States and Canada, perfecting plans for the international peace celebration.

Some of the things already under way are the placing of a statue of George Washington in Westminster abbey and the gift to the American people of Sulgrove Manor, the ancestral house of Washington, in Northamptonshire; the erecting of peace monuments of identical design in London and Washington; the erecting in New York of a monument to Queen Victoria; the building of a museum of peaceful arts; the building of a peace memorial bridge at Niagara Falls; and the erection of peace monuments throughout the English speaking world.

A monument will be erected on the battlefield of New Orleans, the last battle in the war of 1812. There will be an international exchange of reporters, students, in secondary schools, professors, and lectureships, financed by the committee in the interests of peace.

A preliminary international conference will convene in New York or London some time this year, with representatives from each English speaking nation or colony to forward the movement.

The centenary of the signing of the treaty of Ghent, Dec. 24, 1814, will be celebrated in Ghent and also in the churches, schools, societies, organizations, clubs, legislative bodies, and parliaments wherever English is the mother tongue.

On Feb. 17 the date of the ratification, at a given time will be silence all over the English world, so far as practicable, and all the wheels of industry and social and business activity will cease to move.

The celebration will conclude, it is planned, with international congresses, opening in New York and ending at the Panama exposition in San Francisco in 1915. There will be pageantry celebrations in connection with the international local celebrations and a general day of Thanksgiving.

The delegates from Great Britain who will be in Chicago next month are: Lord Weardale, chairman Interparliamentary union; Sir Arthur Lawley, Sir George Houston Reid, Earl Stanhope, the Hon. Neil Primrose, Charles Thomas Mills, Arthur Shirley Benn, Moreton Frewen, Lord Cheylesmore, Sir Herbert Maxwell, and H. S. Perris, secretary of the British peace committee.

Live Sane, Happy Lives.

I notice that one man subscriber rather ridicules the housewife for taking her basket and going forth in quest of food bargains. He tells her to make a stand for the ballot and correct existing conditions through legislation.

Obviously this is a sensible suggestion for an ultimate remedy. However, we have not yet reached the ultimate. We live today in the midst of these high priced living conditions and each day's need must be met.

Ultimately women will remedy the evil through legislation, but that does not help the housewife right now. She has just so many dollars with which to supply the table, clothe her family, etc., and she must, if she makes ends meet, look for bargains, and opportunities to save 3 cents here and 5 cents there. The average prudent housewife realizes this and accordingly goes forth.

I have been a housekeeper but six months, and the first three of them were financially most unsatisfactory. I had no specified amount with which to run the house; I made no plans for the day; I arranged no menus; I bought this and that, and many meals were poorly balanced and unsatisfactory. I did my own cooking and had the washing, ironing, and cleaning of all kinds done, paying $2.85 a week for them. I knew my household expenses were too heavy, so I suggested to my husband that he start a bank account for me.

Hitherto our checking account had been a mutual affair, but I didn't like that arrangement.

I wanted an account of my own so I might know how I stood and might watch and manage my own finances.

Accordingly, my husband deposited to my credit $100. Each week he adds $15 and I still have the family account to draw upon if need be; but for these three months I have never touched it.

Out of my money I set our table and pay for the laundry and cleaning. Now, at the end of these last three month, I have $130 in the bank, or $30 saved; whereas before I never had a cent. This present year I will do better, for these first months have been largely experimental with me.

Some things I have learned and always adhere to. I buy only soap, starch, and cleaning powder in quantity, and watch for sales and thus save a good deal.

Everything else I find it better to buy as we need. At first I did buy canned goods, sugar, etc., in large quantities, but it didn't pay; they were in the way in our small apartment and then my inclination was to be too bountiful when I had a large quantity to draw from.

Now I plan my menus for the week on Sunday night and make my list of the week's staples and articles that will keep. Then there are only the fresh vegetables and fresh meat to buy during the week. Thus my days are freer and my expenses are much reduced, for this way I never lose my grip on them.

I do all my own baking and I know that cakes without eggs can be made as delicious as cakes with eggs. I make rolls and bread—in fact, I never enter a bakery.

We entertain a good deal, but I do nothing extra for guests. Our meals are always good—good enough for us, therefore good enough for our friends.

Our recreations cost us comparatively little. We are both fond of good music, good drama, and good lectures, and whatever we attend is something really fine. We read aloud much, walk a great deal, and, altogether, live sane, happy lives, controlled by what we consider best for us, not by what others may think.

We are contented people, but if our circumstances became less prosperous we could and would spend less and still be happy, for the material things we have are not the source of our happiness, but rather what we have within ourselves.

MRS. M. E. P.

Low Food Bill.

We live in a small town whose excuse for being is the university on the hill, where my husband is a member of the faculty. As is usual in the profession, my husband's salary is small. However, having been a business woman before my marriage a few months ago, I make the systematic management of the household affairs one of the chief duties of my side of our partnership.

The marketing I usually do myself, seldom trusting to the telephone. The grocery and meat bills are paid monthly. With each purchase our grocer's slip totals the month's expenditure up to date—a most efficient check and guide.

By using even the smallest remainders of food in nourishing "surprise dishes," as we call them, the weekly table expense is kept within $3.50. Usually within this average I am able to cover the extra provision for the simple suppers at which it is our custom to entertain in small groups the members of my husband's classes.

A real help to me as a young housekeeper trying to solve the problems of the comparative nutrition of foods I have found in the farmers' bulletins published for free distribution by the department of agriculture and which may be procured by writing the congressman of one's district or the superintendent of documents, Washington, D. C.

From bulletin No. 293, "Use of Fruit as Food," I decided that stewed dried fruits should be a part of our winter's diet, because, first, for example, a pound of dried apricots contains over five times the food value of an equal amount of fresh oranges, and, secondly, because of the low cost.

Other equally valuable information has been gleaned from the dependable statistics and discussions in the other bulletins in my cookery library. When it seems wise for economy's sake to substitute a cereal or vegetable for meat it is not quite safe for the family's health unless one has as a guide an authoritative statement of the nutritive value of the proposed substitute. The bulletins serve as just such a guide. The numbers and titles of the most helpful bulletins follow below:

34—Meats: Composition and Cooking.
98—Sugar as Food.
128—Eggs and Their Uses as Food.
142—Principles of Nutrition and Nutritive Values of Food.
183—Poultry as Food.
203—Canned Fruit, Jellies, etc.—Methods of Preparation.
240—Cereal Breakfast Foods.
256—Preparation of Vegetables for the Table (Recipes).
293—Use of Fruit as Food.
296—Food Value of Corn and Corn Products.
332—Nuts and Their Uses as Food.
345—Bacteria in Milk.
359—Canning Vegetables in the Home (Methods).
363—Use of Milk as Food.
375—Care of Food in the Home.
389—Bread and Bread Making.
391—Economical Use of Meat in the Home (Recipes).

MRS. I. S. K.

Puts Up Things for Winter.

In cutting down expenses one must know where the money goes. I have worked for ten years steady, for from $2.05 a day to $2.70. When I first got married I did not have a cent, and the birth of four children and the death of one and the cost of two operations kept my nose to the grindstone for six years.

I take advantage of sales, where I pay cash. In the fall I buy fruit and the wife and I put it up for winter. Since I began doing that I have been doing well. I have my own home and my payments come easier than rent.

I have a small garden, which keeps up the table in summer, and put up all our tomatoes for winter. Last year we put up seventy quarts. That was enough to last over winter. I go to the truck farmers in summer and buy onions for winter. I pay 50 cents a bushel, and I buy my potatoes in the fall if they are not too high. Last year I paid 55 cents. I have lots of them left this year.

From Near and Far

Why They Are Called "Silhouettes."

It is to Etienne de Silhouette, an unpopular French minister of finance of the eighteenth century, that we owe the word "silhouette."

He owed his unpopularity to the fact that he was economical of expenditure, and introduced strict reforms to replenish the French coffers after they had suffered severely during the British and Prussian wars. His methods were wise and admirable, but his acts soon degenerated and became foolish and shortsighted, and he fell from power after a rule of four months.

There are two stories as to the exact relationship our word "silhouette" bears to this French minister. Having fallen from favor, his name became a by-word for miserliness and niggardliness, until any mode or fashion that was plain or cheap was said to be "à la Silhouette." At last the word became exclusively applied to a popular method of reproducing portraits by outlining the shadow projected by candle light on a sheet of white paper, and filling in the outline with black.

Another explanation of the origin of the word tells us that M. de Silhouette, after his fall from office, spent hours in making shadow portraits, and that several rooms of his château were adorned with these pictures.

This process of portraiture was very old, but only at the time of this story, about a hundred and fifty years ago, did these shadowgraphs become known as silhouettes.

Complete, I grow within a field
And pleasant pasture often yield;
Behead me once, a suitor then
Is quickly brought before your ken;
Behead again, I am a word
That on the cricket ground is heard.
Restore my heads, cut off my tail,
To name a spice you'll not then fail.
Behead me new, and you will find
The master passion left behind.
Put on my head, my tail restore,
Complete me as I was before.
My second letter take away,
An envelope I am, you'll say;
But now curtail me just once more,
I am an inlet on the shore.

Stone Age Men Still Exist.

In the little English town of Brandon the most ancient English industry, that of flint knapping, is still carried on by workmen who are believed to be direct descendants of the Neolithic makers of stone axes and arrowheads. They make gun flints and tinder flints, for which there is still a considerable demand in North Africa, the Congo Basin, and certain parts of Asia and South America, and the flints used by them in quarrying flint from the chalk is a single pointed pick almost identical in shape with the picks made of red deer's antlers found in the prehistoric quarries at Grimes Graves. The Brandon knappers are adepts at making axes, arrowheads, and other stone implements which are difficult to distinguish from genuine prehistoric relics. One of them lately succeeded in making a ring of flint, a thing no one is known to have done since the Stone Age in Egypt. One well known gun flint maker undertakes to supply facsimile models in flint of all kinds of stone implements, including Eskimo and Fuegian hide scrapers, Greenland harpoons, Lake Dwelling daggers and fishhooks, and Early Egyptian axes.

Answers to Yesterday's Puzzle.

SOLUTION TO LABOR PUZZLE.

In the story of Bill Sykes, who was engaged to work for 16 shillings a day, but to forfeit 20 shillings for every day he loafed, it will be found that he worked 16 2-3 days and loafed 13 1-3, so that at the end of the month he had earned nothing. The problem may be reasoned out in this wise. The number of working days times 16 shillings must equal the number of loafing days times 20 shillings. As the working and loafing days combined equals 30, we must divide 20 into two parts bearing the proportion of 16 to 20. Thus we get 13 1-3 and 13 1-3.

LICENSE OF MORE HOSPITALS HELD UP BY HEALTH OFFICE.

Commissioner Young Asks McDonnell and Ericsson to Have Fire Prevention Regulations Enforced.

Licenses of eight more hospitals were withheld yesterday by the health department because of alleged nonobservance of fire prevention regulations. A few days ago the department held up the licenses of eighteen hospitals for the same reason. Health Commissioner Young has requested J. C. McDonnell, chief of the fire prevention bureau, and Henry Ericsson, building commissioner, to see the defects are remedied.

The hospitals tested by Dr. Young are as follows:

Union Park Maternity hospital, 1520-22 Carroll avenue.
St. Mary's hospital, 1120 North Leavitt street.
Presbyterian hospital, 1758 West Congress street.
Passavant Memorial hospital, 340 West Superior street.
St. Anthony de Padua, West Nineteenth street and Marshall boulevard.
Provident, Thirty-sixth and Dearborn streets.

City Ordinances You Should Know.

'Ignorance of the law is no excuse.'

ALL vegetables, fruits and vegetable products, meats and nonliquid animal products, butter, cheese and other similar dairy products, sold or offered for sale for delivery within Chicago shall, in the absence of a contract or agreement in writing to the contrary, signed by the parties thereto, be sold by standard avoirdupois net weight or by numerical count.

Provided, however, that seeds, grain, flour, meal and other cereals or cereal products and vegetable roots which by common custom are sold by the bunch, and commodities in the original packages, shall not be included in the provisions of this ordinance.

The term "original packages," as herein used, shall be taken to mean packages in which commodities have been packed before shipping by the grower, producer or original packer thereof, and the contents of which have not been disturbed or diminished, except for the purpose of ripening, or of replacing spoiled goods.

THE HON. MRS. CRAVEN LOSES GEMS SHE VALUES AT $50,000.

English Woman Misses Jewels After Returning Home from Stay at Hotel—Offers Reward of $2,500.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 10.—The Hon. Mrs. Charles Craven, widow of the late Hon. Charles Eric Craven, a brother of the Earl of Craven, who married Cornelia Martin of New York, lost or has been robbed of jewels valued at $50,000, as well as $1,500 in gold and notes.

The jewels were in a green leather jewel case and Mrs. Craven was staying at the Hotel Savoy during the spring cleaning at her home. When this was over she left the hotel in a taxicab. She believes she picked up the jewel case, which she had laid aside for a moment on the hotel desk while paying her bill, but on her arrival home the case was missing.

She does not know whether she left it in the taxicab or whether it was stolen either at the hotel or during the journey.

MUSICAL DIRECTOR THE PAULIST CHORISTERS of CHICAGO, WRITES OF THE

CONOVER PIANO

MR. J. T. LEIMERT, Vice-Pres. Cable Piano Company.

Dear Mr. Leimert: I take great pleasure in attesting the splendid merits of the Conover piano which has recently been installed in my choir hall.

You can appreciate how important it is for my choristers to rehearse to d cantabile tone. The sustaining, singing tone quality of the Conover is perfectly suited to the unusual demands which we make on a piano. After a few rehearsals with the Conover, I began to notice the freedom of vocalization which it assists.

Candidly, I am delighted with the choice we have made. Incidentally, your Conover graces any room.

Very sincerely yours,

March 3, 1913.

By Jane Eddington

Torta Pasqualina (Easter Tart).

GENOA.

CAKE, meat in pastry, puff paste with fillings of all sorts—these and many other things are made in rounds and baked in rings, or round pans, or round molds all over Europe. But here in Italy a climax in round things is reached. Here they have the largest round tins ever seen, except in the eastern portion of the Riviera, and the cooking of the common people there is really Italian, just as the country used to be.

The great, flat, round tins, with a rim about like that of the ordinary tin tray of the waiter, which are used for the largest of the Italian torte (the singular is torta) are called "teglie," and many sorts of things are cooked on them, in great covered hearths—flour and meal mixtures, meat and vegetable mixtures, meat and crust, and especially cheese mixtures.

Until the advent of gas there were no real ovens in Italy. For the charcoal stoves they had and do have something called "forno di campagna," or country oven. This is shaped something like a wash bowl, and has a cover. A lid is placed over a charcoal fire, and this oven is set on it. Some of the best of cooking can be done over charcoal.

One of the most famous of the torta—at this season of the year at least—is said to be the Torta Pasqualina, or Easter tart. The top crusts are always in irregular billows and look like brown tissue paper in several layers. The bottom crust is thin, and the vegetable filling nearly two inches thick. A half or a quarter of one of these, and even three-quarters, is commonly seen in the food shops, for a small triangle of the tart can be purchased.

EASTER TART.—Take twelve artichokes and strip off the first hard leaves. Then cut in small slices and put them in the saucepan with a piece of butter. Cook twenty-five minutes. Take two pounds and three ounces of flour and mix it with tepid water and two spoonfuls of oil. Leave the paste for ten minutes. When the artichokes are cooked and cold add to them two eggs, a spoonful of grated cheese, a little salt and pepper, a little bread soaked in milk, a slice of ricotta (this is a cheese that seems to be closely related to our cottage cheese), and mix all together. Grease the round tin plate; then roll out thin sheets of the paste made and line the dish with it. Put three layers on the bottom (this makes it look like puff paste). Put the prepared mixture into this, and make little holes at intervals in it, into which put whole eggs. These come out whole when the tart is cooked. Sprinkle over this cheese, salt, and pepper. Then take the paste which remains and roll out as thin as possible twelve coverings. After each is put on the tart smear oil over it. Cook in a hot oven for thirty minutes. Serve either hot or cold. More commonly this is eaten cold.

This tart is illustrative of certain sorts of dishes, dishes for a season or a festival, that are made all over Europe. No trouble is spared in the making of them, although the ordinary every day dishes may be those which can be most easily put together.

The artichoke here in Italy shows that it is a true thistle. Each one of its leaves has a spine, and these have to be cut off before the whole is cooked. Usually the whole round top is chopped off, but when it is cooked whole one has to be careful in eating the tender inner leaves, for each of these has its needle, too.

This variety is not as agreeable as that which is so much used in other regions of Europe and in the southern part of the United States. In our northern markets it is one of the luxuries because of its expense, but it will surely become less expensive as we learn to use it more often. Quartered, dipped in egg and bread crumbs, and fried, it is much used in Italy.

They also have several ways of stuffing the artichoke here. The literal translation of one method is "stuffed artichokes with their shirts on." By another method they are boiled, a stuffing made of any cold meat and cold vegetables is laid on each quarter, and the whole is then dipped in egg and bread crumbs and fried.

The method of the common people is to put quarters of the boiled artichokes on one of the great round tins, cover the whole with a stuffing, and then bake it.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

By Lillian Russell

Sincerity.

[Copyright: 1913: By Lillian Russell.]

THE only way to prove your sincerity is by actions; you may profess deep and profound friendship for a person, and you may mean every word of it, and when it comes to a point of proving it, utterly fail by hesitation.

There should be no consideration, no hesitation, in true sincerity.

Foreigners consider American women insincere. They say they find few women who go below the surface of things in thought, and that few American women are able to discuss the social or political affairs of their own country intelligently.

This is a hard rap at us, and we should prove the lie to the statement.

It is sincerity alone which proves knowledge. The trouble is accounted for by the unfortunate fact that some women do not take the trouble to go to the bottom of things, I mean in learning. A great many women do not even care to learn, and plead ignorance upon vital subjects, such as the suffrage question and the inaugural speech of the new president.

How can women think or speak sincerely upon such questions without learning thoroughly the subjects?

That is what the foreigners mean when they say Americans are not sincere.

In all other countries politics and social affairs are part of the education of both men and women. They are well informed upon all such subjects and furthermore they have a sacred interest in their own country and its government; they speak from knowledge, while American women speak from hearsay.

It should be the duty of every woman to read the papers either morning or evening, just to keep in touch with the true state of affairs, so that she can speak sincerely upon things of moment.

What is the use of beauty without some intelligence?

Remember: There can be no sincerity without knowledge, otherwise what is there to be sincere about?

Lillian Russell's Answers.

K. L. H.: You did not use enough almond oil in making your cream. That is why it is hard. If you wish to make a success in making the creams you must have the exact amount of ingredients. Be sure and get fresh ingredients in making up these creams.

LOUISE: If you massage your scalp regularly each night I think the oil would become more evenly distributed, and your hair would become less oily. I shall be glad to send you a formula for a tonic for oily hair and also a shampoo, if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

HARRIET: Dimples do improve one's looks when one is young. They are attractive and bewitching, but when one grows older they form into deep holes or wrinkles. There is no possible way of acquiring dimples. The difference between the cold cream and the skin food is the cold cream is a cleanser and the skin food is used for building up sagging tissues and for feeding the skin. I shall send you the formula for cold cream if you wish it.

L. B. A.: To keep blonde hair in good condition it should be washed about every three or four weeks. If you feel that your hair needs washing, take a scalp treatment instead. Washing the hair so frequently is not good for it. Be sure and get all the soap out of your hair when shampooing it, for there is nothing that will spoil the golden glints so much desired by the blonde girl as soap if it is allowed to remain in the hair. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you a formula for an excellent shampoo for blonde hair.

MISS R.: I cannot give you the name of a cold cream. There are several on the market, but what agrees with one person's face may not agree with another's. However, if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you a formula for a cream which I use almost constantly. This is not a greaseless cream. While some people prefer a greaseless cream it must be remembered that it is the oils in the cream that do the skin the most good.

S. W.: Dark circles under the eyes are sometimes caused from lack of sleep, eye strain, kidney trouble, or anaemia. Sometimes they are hereditary, but usually are caused from internal trouble. The external treatment is sometimes effective temporarily, but cannot be permanent while the cause exists. Bathe frequently with cold water and use friction. Massage gently under the eyes with a good skin food, but be very careful when you do this that you do not touch the eyeball. Bathe the eyes every morning with a good eye wash and an eye cup. Place the eye wash in the cup, then hold the face down, fit the cup to the eye lightly, and throw the head back and open the eye. Plain water, not too cold, is also good for washing the eyes, but boric acid water is best.

ELMIRA: The first thing for you to do if you wish to get rid of superfluous flesh is to look well to your diet. Eat only simple, nourishing foods. Stop eating so many sweets. This tends to make one stout. Take plenty of exercise. It is hard for one to reduce flesh, as few people are willing to give up the rich foods and take the exercise necessary to do it. I shall send you a dietary for reducing flesh and the rolling exercises for reducing the hips if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

Frizzled Beef.

HAVE the beef cut thin, melt a lump of butter the size of an egg in your frying pan, lay in the beef, and cook until it is crisp. This is about as good as boiled ham cooked in the same way, and is very appetizing. If you do not like it quite salt, lay it in warm water for half an hour, take it out and dry it well before cooking.—Request of M. K.

Frizzled Beef with Egg.

Cut the beef into strips, put a tablespoonful of butter in the frying pan, lay in the beef, and cook it until it begins to crisp. Have ready as many eggs as you need for the number of persons to be fed—a cupful of beef will season from four to six eggs—beat them just enough to mix the whites and yolks; stir them in with the beef, pepper to taste, and cook until the eggs are set.

Mild and Appetizing.

"To 'Housewife's' question concerning chile con carne, mild and appetizing: Leave out an excess of flavoring, and, above all, cook your beans right, then everybody will enjoy this dish. To prepare beans, boil a four gallon kettle of water, pour off about half into another vessel, set away to get cold. In the other half put an even teaspoon of soda, let it foam up, set away to cool. Pick over a cup of dry Mexican beans, wash well in some of the cold soda water, set to swell in the rest of the soda water in a cold place for two nights and a day; drain, rinse once in part of the plain boiled cold water, set to cook in the rest of the boiled cold water; cook slowly six hours in an earthen bowl to prevent sticking to the bottom. Keep beans covered with liquid, replenish with boiling water. At the same time that the beans go on the fire take 10 cents' worth of upper shank bone (three to four pounds), put into boiling water and boil slowly at least five hours. Take out the meat, allow the broth to boil rapidly away, while you remove bones; trim the meat and cut into one-fourth inch pieces, or pass through the coarse meat grinder. Put a tablespoon of butter in the gravy pan, melt, add one medium minced onion, one small clove of garlic, one peeled minced tomato, or one-half cup of canned. Toss about to heat; do not brown; add meat, mix again, and put all with beans; now salt to taste and add one-quarter teaspoon of good chili powder, dissolved in a little cold water and the meat broth. Simmer ten minutes. Taste; if liked stronger add more chili. If you don't want so many beans take out one or two cups before adding the meat, set in a cool place, and use again inside of three days; for bean soup add rice or potatoes if scant. Bean soufflé, bean chops, in place of meat, or bean salad are all good.

"J. D."

It is a man correspondent who has sent us these full and excellent directions for chili con carne. We thank him and hope that the housewives whom he would help will keep his recipe for future reference.

Recipe for Spanish Chicken.

"Here is the recipe for Spanish chicken E. A. asks for: Cook up a fowl as if to fricassee it, and put it on with enough hot water to cover it. Take a dozen red peppers, cut out the seeds, cut into small pieces, and boil half an hour, or until tender. When cooked moisten them with a little of the chicken broth and put through a sieve. In a saucepan put a large spoonful of hot lard, into which slice two large onions, and fry until brown. Add the peppers and the chicken which has been salted in its cooking, and which must be thoroughly cooked and tender; add also a half cup of the chicken broth. Thicken the rest of the broth, pour all into a saucepan, and allow to simmer for fifteen or twenty minutes. Serve on a hot platter.

"I never heard of tutti frutti cake, but send my recipe for tutti frutti icing: Boil a pound of sugar in a gill of water until the sirup will hair off the spoon. Take from the fire and add, slowly, the beaten whites of two eggs. Beat all together, adding half a pound of blanched and chopped almonds, a quarter of a pound of fine raisins swelled in hot water, and a quarter of a pound of chopped citron.

"Will you please publish recipes for both Chinese and American chop suey?

"MRS. C. H."

I have but one recipe for Chinese chop suey, and that has appeared many times in the Corner. Has any reader a really good recipe for this dish, and, if so, will she send it? And, as I have no trustworthy formula for American chop suey, I shall be glad to receive that also. When I secure both of these formulas they will appear in the Corner.

How to Make Scrapple.

"Will you not print a recipe for scrapple? I enjoyed eating it in New Jersey, where I attended school, but have never tasted any since. All recipes seem call for such large proportions, and I don't know much about cookery.

A NEW HOUSEKEEPER."

Although you enjoyed the dish in New Jersey it is known as "Philadelphia scrapple." To prepare it, boil a cleaned pig's head until all the meat slips from the bones. Remove bones and chop the meat fine. Set the liquor in which the head was boiled aside to get cold, then skim off all the fat. Return the liquor to the fire, and, when it boils, stir in the chopped meat, season with pepper and salt, and bring again to the boil. Stir in slowly enough cornmeal to make of the consistency of mush. Cook an hour, stirring constantly at first, then setting the pot where the contents will cook gently. At the end of an hour pour into a long, narrow pan to form. When ready to cook slice and fry in butter or dripping.

Some Things for Little Folks.

"Can some one tell me how to make a 'fragrant jar' with dried rose leaves, using spices? I have a number of sheets of colored paper dolls and numerous 'pretties' to interest children from 6 to 12 that I will gladly send when needed; also some magazines.

"MRS J. M. W."

The formula for a "fragrant jar" or "rose jar" was printed last Tuesday. We thank you in the name of the children who will be eager to claim the "pretties" you offer. It is not often that something is offered for the little ones only. And we have many children among our readers. I know we have, because I receive so many letters from them. It is good of you to remember them. They will write for paper dolls, "pretties," and magazines, and their joy in all will be unaffected and full.

Laura Jean Libbey's Advice

By Laura Jean Libbey

Why Men Pass Some Girls By.

[Copyright: 1913: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

ALMOST any nice looking girl is capable of attracting a good, sensible, marriagable young man. It usually rests with her as to whether their acquaintance shall ripen into love or end in casual friendship. Some girls are so thoughtless that they pay no heed whatever to the kind of young man that he may be whom they meet; whether he is a rattle brained young fellow who takes no care upon himself, sports clothes in the latest fashion, with his bills paid by "the governor"; or if he is a serious young man who has his own way to make in the world and knows of the value of saving the pennies.

The fellow who whistles care to the winds may think a girl most delightful in laces and frills, ribboned, and bejeweled, with a new frock on each time he calls. He may be vastly amused by her small talk and outspoken mimicry of the different girls they both know. It does not take much to amuse him. The serious minded young man of slender means is likely to feel out of place when calling upon a girl who is rigged out like a Parisian doll. The same mimicry which entertains the other fellow completely fails with him, for the reason that he sees none of the faults that she is trying to describe to him of them. He is aware only of their sweetness and goodness. He cannot laugh at this girl's speech or that girl's halting walk, the size of her feet, or that of her oversensitive bashfulness.

The sensible young man is one who feels quite sorry for the unfortunate young woman who is being made fun of behind her back. It has the effect of nipping in the bud all of the admiration and respect which he had in his heart for the narrator.

Witticism is delightful now and then, even to the ears of the sternest of men; but they soon weary of it if offered for a steady diet. Unconsciously the sensible man finds himself comparing these girls with the one who has ridiculed them. Somehow the scale in his heart turns in their favor. Out of curiosity he may make the first call upon them. He knows they are expecting him, yet he finds them in their simple every day attire. They talk to him sensibly on every day matters.

The sensible young man leaves the presence of such a girl deeply impressed with her goodness, with a sense of her charitable disposition and her good will toward all. He passes by the home of the frivolous girl to call again at the home of the other girl. It does not take a strain of long drawn out eloquence to entertain a sensible man. He appreciates a girl who will let him get in a word edgewise now and then; or, in fact, do his share of the talking.

It is positively irksome to most men to have to sit and listen to the small talk which many girls subject them to. This kind of girls should understand the reason why many sensible, marriageable men pass them by. Girls should have a care in regard to not overdressing, to speak kindly of others, if they would gain respect which deepens into love.

He Is Fond of Girls.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 22, very fond of the girls, and I like to keep company with them. About a year ago I became acquainted with a girl by the name of Mary and kept steady company with her for awhile. She introduced me to several girls up in her neighborhood and I was especially taken with two of them—namely: Ethel and Blanche. Through some little misunderstanding Mary and I quit and I started to go with Blanche and Ethel, but not much, as I could not forget Mary, because I loved her dearly, and I think I made a pretty good impression with her. Now, I would like to go with Mary again, but I cannot bear to give in and apologize, ask her forgiveness, and all that, as I know Ethel and Blanche will twit me about it. What would you advise me to do—drop the whole afair or try and make up with her?

PUZZLED."

I don't think you are much of a man or you could stand a bit of twitting. If you were responsible for the misunderstanding with Mary write her a note of apology and ask her if you may come and see her. There is no sense in letting foolish, stubborn pride spoil your friendship.

"He Was in High Class Society."

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 18. Have been going with a young gentleman for almost a year. Before he met me he was always in high class society. He comes to see me twice a week regular, takes me to all amusements, and is in for showing me a good time. The other night one of their customers took him to a dance. He has a hardware store and this young girl's parents deal there. He says he had to accommodate her for their trade. Do you think he did right and does he still love me?

M."

The fellow's story is plausible enough. You better give him the benefit of the doubt. If you are not engaged to him he is at perfect liberty to go about with any other girl.

He Winks at Her!

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a high school girl of 15. There is one boy that always winks at me. I detest him. How can I make him stop winking at me?

LOUISE."

Don't try to make him stop winking. Just look the other way. He'll soon get tired of that performance if you ignore his actions entirely.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Chicago and vicinity, cloudy Friday and Saturday with probable showers Friday. Colder.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

A smallpox scare at Cub park which may handicap the Trojans by applying vaccination to the entire team, the elimination of James Tilden Sheckard, one of the four time pennant winners, from the local team's roster, and the wreck of the National league inauguration in this city, furnished almost as much local fan fodder as if the Trojans had met and licked the Cardinals according to schedule.

The smallpox scare started with the report from Minneapolis that Pitcher Comstock and Second Baseman Killifer of the Millers were victims of the disease and had been sent to the isolation hospital on the arrival of the train in its home town. The Minneapolis team had players here on Tuesday mingling in a nine inning scrap with the Cub regulars. Here were the seeds of a lot of trouble.

Instant orders were issued from Cub headquarters to fumigate the clubhouse occupied by the visiting players and the visitors' bench at the west side park. Supt. Kuhn was instructed to mow the grass around second base and incinerate it, then sprinkle disinfectant all over the park. The board of health was notified and got busy, with resultant prospects that the team will be crippled by a bunch of lame wings—or legs.

Vaccination for Cub Players?

Dr. Heman Spalding, chief of the bureau of medical inspection, commanded the vaccination of all the Cub players except those who previously had taken that precaution. Dr. W. K. Murray was detained to examine the Trojans from manager to bat boy today. The dressing rooms for both visiting and home players were ordered fumigated under the direction of the board of health.

The Trojans themselves, who went out for a little batting practice on the high spots in the afternoon, kept at respectful distances from each other, and there was a disinclination to catch balls thrown by teammates. In fact, there was a distinct aversion to anything catching and none of the backstops got into action.

Later reports brought reassuring nenws. Comstock, the pitcher, was found to have only a mild form of smallpox, and he had been shipped direct from Memphis to Minneapolis, so did not visit the west side park at all. Killifer, the other suspect, was pronounced not to be afflicted. Nor was any other member of the Minneapolis team, although all will be kept under strict surveillance.

Will Stage Inaugural Today.

No quarantine orders having been issued against the Cub yard, yesterday's swamped inaugural will be staged this afternoon if the weather man relents sufficiently to refrain from wetting things down again. It is announced the opening exercises will be pulled off as originally scheduled, none of the features having been lost on account of high water.

The off day gave time for completing the deal for disposing of Jimmy Sheckard's services, which have been on the market for some time. The veteran outfield was sold to the St. Louis Cardinals at the major league waiver prices, supposedly $1,500, and may be used by Manager Huggins in one of the games to be played here this week.

The deal came about through the efforts of the Chicago club to obtain waivers on Sheckard. St. Louis, which had declined several trades for him, refused to waive and claimed the player. Sheckard was called into conference with President Murphy and Manager Evers and asked if he had any objection to going to St. Louis. He replied that he had not, and would prefer a life of activity in the Mound City to a season on the bench in Chicago. That settled it, and Manager Huggins was notified he could have the famous fielder.

Sheckard Here Seven Years.

Sheckard came to Chicago in advance of the season of 1906 from the Brooklyn club in exchange for four players, Jack McCarthy, Jimmy Casey, Billy Maloney, and Buttons Briggs. The deal raised a howl at the time from the local friends of the four discarded Cubs, but Sheckard outlasted all of them by a considerable period. Since joining the Cubs Sheckard has participated in four pennant winnings and as many world's series, two of which the Chicago team won. He earned wide reputation as one of the most deadly enemies to batsmen in recent years.

In addition to being a wonderful fielder mechanically James Tilden possesses information as to the peculiarities of the National league batsmen which enables him to play for them with great accuracy.

There never was a chance to play the first game of the series and it was declared off in the forenoon, while the base lines were awash and the rest of the field in danger of floating off into the drainage canal. Even if the partial clearance of the weather later on had been complete there would not have been time to soak up the liquid contents of the lot before game time.

Complete elimination of rain from the local landscape today will permit running off the original program, including the band concert, the flver dower, and glad doings for Manager Evers, and other minor features, not to mention the ball game with St. Louis, which is scheduled to arrive at … p. m.

Yesterday's postponement was placed in the schedule for May 28, an open date for both teams interested.

Cubs and Cardinals were invited to listen to Willie Collier's performance of "Never Say Die" at the Princess last evening.

Boston Starts Like Champion, Hammering Ball Hard.

PERDUE TIGHTWAD ON SLAB.

Large Crowd Sees Visiting Pitcher Hold New York to Two Hits.

New York, April 10.—Boston defeated New York in the first game of the season before a big crowd, 8 to 0. The usual opening day ceremonies were omitted, with the exception that Mayor Gaynor threw out the first ball. Sunless skies and a cold wind made conditions unpleasant alike for players and spectators.

Perdue held the home club at his mercy and the champions made only two singles. Not one of McGraw's men got further than second base. Boston started to hit Tesreau in the fourth and from then on it rapped the ball hard. Crandall was slaughtered in the ninth inning. The Braves put up a fine defensive game, giving their pitcher faultless support.

Boston scored two in the fourth. Maranville walked, stole second when Meyers struck out, and scored on Sweeney's single. Sweeney took second on Burns' throw to the plate and came home on Titus' single. Boston scored two more in the fifth. Tesreau hit McKechnie, who scored with Rariden when the latter hit a home run into the left field bleachers.

The visitors counted four more runs in the ninth on passes to Rariden and Connolly, hits by Maranville, H. Meyers, and Titus, Shafer's error, and Perdue's sacrifice. Score:

DODGERS BUMP PHILS, 11 TO 3.

Bunched Hits Net Victory for Brooklyn in Opener at Philadelphia—Cutshaw's Triple Clears Sacks.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 10.—Hard hitting by Brooklyn, including timely singles by Daubert and a home run by Fisher in the early innings, together with a three bagger by Cutshaw in the eighth with bases filled, gave the visitors the victory in the opening championship game today, 11 to 3.

Ragon was effective, except in the eighth inning, when Miller and Cravath, pinch batters, hit safely and scored on sacrifice flies. Cold, cloudy weather kept the attendance down. Score:

Trainer Signs Contract Immediately After Arrival at Cincinnati—Sorry He Punched Evers.

Cincinnati, O., April 10.—[Special.]—Bert Semmens, the new trainer of the Reds, arrived this morning and was received with much enthusiasm by Manager Joe Tinker. He signed his contract immediately.

"I am sorry I had to hit Evers," said Doc gently, "but it was one of these sudden quarrels—a flash, a wallop, and all over—but it put me into a new position that I think I'll like much better."

Eddie Collins Stars with War Club, Getting Five Singles.

Boston, Mass., April 10.—The world's champions lost to the former title holders in the opening game of the season today, 10 to 9.

Mayor Fitzgerald put the ball into play from the pitcher's slab. Six pitchers followed him during the game. Joe Wood, star of last season's campaign, lasted five innings, during which the Athletics drove out nine safe hits and scored seven runs. Strunk scored the last of these tallies by stealing home.

Coombs developed poor form after three hitless Boston innings, the Red Sox scoring five runs in the next two rounds. Eddie Collins batted in midseason form, getting five singles in as many times at the plate.

An unusual play occurred in the sixth inning. Lapp was on third and Coombs on second, when Murphy hit to Wagner, the latter throwing to the plate to catch Lapp. Lapp scampered back to third, which he found occupied by Coombs, with Murphy on second. Cady tagged Lapp at third, but as he was entitled to the base he was safe. Coombs returned to second and Murphy moved back toward first. Hall threw wild to Janvrin in an effort to catch Murphy. Lapp scored and the other two Athletics again moved up a base each. Score:

SMALLPOX SCARE DIES OUT; ONLY ONE MILLER AFFECTED.

Physicians Find No Cause for Apprehension After Examining Members of the Minneapolis Ball Team.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 10.—The smallpox scare among the ball players of the Minneapolis American association club has about died out. Physicians of the city health department made a thorough investigation of the team and declared there was no cause for apprehension.

Ralph Comstock, the pitcher, who was taken to the pesthouse early today, has a mild attack. He had not been with the other players since Friday night, coming from Hickman at the same time the rest of the team left for Memphis.

One or two players who accompanied Comstock are under observation and vaccination will be confined to those who have been in contact with the sick man.

All baggage of the entire team was thoroughly fumigated at the clubhouse this afternoon and the clubhouse subjected to a thorough cleaning and fumigation. With these prompt measures the baseball camp is breathing easier.

Two physicians examined Wade Killifer today and both declared that he did not have smallpox.

"Tinker Special" Called Off.

There will be no Joe Tinker special train from Chicago tonight for the opening game at Cincinnati tomorrow. The railroad company notified the Tinker boosters yesterday that it would be impossible to supply a special train. BY SAM WELLER.

Cleveland, O., April 10.—[Special.]—Elemental conditions in the form of a cold, drizzling rain spoiled the grand opening between Callahan's primed warriors and the slugging Naps, disappointing thousands of persons who had arranged for a half holiday to help usher in another siege of the great American game.

The storm that hung over Chicago yesterday beat the Sox into the Forest city by several hours, for it already was casting gloom over the sporting enthusiasts when the train unloaded our athletes here at 8 o'clock.

An hour later Joe Birmingham, pilot of the Naps, called up the weather man and was informed the rain was booked here for a day or two, so he promptly informed the Chicagoans that the battle was postponed and the grand opening will take place tomorrow if possible.

Joe Benz Disappointed.

Joe Benz, our aspiring young hurler, was the only one on the team who showed disappointment. Having read in the papers that he might be named by the manager as the pitcher for the opener, he had gone to La Salle street station in Chicago and crawled into his berth two hours before the train left so he would be in prime condition for the game. He was in fine fettle for a ball game. Every one else welcomed the chance to rest.

The fans here had planned an "ovation" to Birmingham, who is just launching forth as a regular manager. They have an "ovation" here about every year because they have a new manager about every year. Secretary Barnard says he expected a crowd of 20,000, because nearly all of the box seats had been sold in advance.

Cleveland Grand Opening Town.

Cleveland is one of the best little opening towns in the business because up to that time no one is disgusted with the way the team is playing ball and every one is predicting that this is the year the Naps will win the pennant. Such predictions have been going on since the days that Cleveland was playing for the Temple cup, and that's a long time ago because Jimmy Callahan was then an urchin.

There'll be no postponement tomorrow if it stops raining by 1 o'clock in the afternoon, for the baseball diamond is sheltered by a big canvas and the boys can play on dry ground just as soon as it is removed.

The only thing done by the Sox today that savored of the pastime was a secret meeting in the room of the manager at noon. There will be a lot of meetings this season, according to Callahan, for he believes the only chance of the Sox to get the flag is to play smarter baseball than Boston, and Philadelphia, and Washington, so the meetings are called for the purpose of holding brain practice.

Sox Need More Brain Work.

The boss thinks it just as essential to work out the brains of his players as to work out their arms and legs and batting eyes. Ping Bodie developed a "charley horse" at the base of his skull in the practice this morning, but it will not keep him out of the game tomorrow.

The athletes are quartered at the Hollenden hotel and are trying the European plan of living for the first time. If successful it will be used in nearly all of the cities. Two fellows are put in a room and each player is allowed to sign tabs for his food in the café, but there has been a limit placed upon the amount he can spend.

The scheme is new to most of the fellows and some of them blundered a bit on the first day. Joe Benz got mixed up on his figures and at dinner tonight exhausted his credit before he had ordered his pie, but he declares he'll be more careful next time because he likes pie.

The White Sox party was increased by three. Mrs. Ed Walsh and son, Edward Jr., arrived from the Walsh home in Meriden, Conn., and on the same train came Mrs. Harry Lord. The only other woman in the party is Mrs. Zeider, who will remain with "Friend Husband" until Saturday, when she will return to that dear Auburn, Ind.

Eddie Cicotte had a hard time to get a room because, according to the agreement between the hotel proprietor and the ball club, there were to be two players in each room. The trouble came because there was an odd number of players and Eddie was the one without a roommate. It looked for a time as if he would have to go out and find one before the clerk would place him, but Secretary Joe O'Neill affected a compromise.

President Johnson of the American league came from Chicago on the same train with the Sox so he could see the opening, but he was unable to stay another day when the thing was postponed. He said he would be in St. Louis on Sunday and look over the Sox there.

Announces New Rule.

While here the A. L. head announced a new rule to be put into effect by his umpires this year. Hereafter when a batter hits a foul ball away out in the corner of the lot or back against the grandstand or to any place on foul ground the game will not be delayed while some player chases the ball. Instead the umpire will toss out a new ball to the pitcher immediately and the game will be resumed while the foul balls will be retrived between innings.

The president, as well as Manager Callahan, thinks there are about five or six minutes wasted in each game by chasing foul balls, and in making the new rule Johnson is simply carrying out his plans to make ball games as short as possible.

Umpires O'Loughlin and Ferguson were here to work in the opening game, and when it was postponed they called on the Sox players during the afternoon. O'Loughlin has been down in Alabama for a month with the Rochester team, training for the season, and has reported in shape. O'Loughlin says he intends to do it every spring.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS.

Victor G. Willis, who for over ten years was one of the star pitchers in the National league, was born in Newark, Del., April 11, 1876. He started his professional career with Wilmington, Del., in 1894, and the following year played with the Lynchburg Virginia league team. In 1896 and 1897 he pitched for Syracuse, then in the Eastern league. His next engagement was with the Boston Nationals, with which team he worked continuously from 1898 to 1905, inclusive. From 1906 to 1909 Willis pitched for the Pittsburgh Pirates, being released to the St. Louis Cardinals in 1910. That year he won nine and lost twelve games. At the close of the season he retired from major league baseball.

NAVIN IN NO HURRY FOR COBB.

Georgian Says No Effort Has Been Made to Have Him Join Team—Would Prefer Trade Now.

Augusta, Ga., April 10.—[Special.]—Ty Cobb, returning from a trip with his semi-professional ball team, was today asked for an expression regarding President Navin's statement yesterday to the effect that no more inducements would be offered the center fielder to join the team.

Cobb said that no effort had been made by the Detroit management to get him to sign a contract; that two letters received from Mr. Navin made no menion of salary and no proposition whatever had been received from the club.

"I am anxious for a speedy settlement," said Cobb, "but have about concluded that it will be better for all concerned that I be traded to some other club."

PRESIDENT A FAN; SEES FIRST GAME

Woodrow Wilson Hurls Ball Starting Senators-Yankees Opener.

MAKES STRAIGHT HEAVE.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—President Wilson threw the first ball in the game between Washington and New York which opened the American league season here this afternoon. The Senators won, 2 to 1. The president stood up in his box, directly behind the Washington players' bench, and with a real pitcher's flourish threw the ball directly into the hands of Walter Johnson, the home team's star pitcher, who was waiting for it thirty feet away.

The ball was well thrown and speedy. The pitcher caught it without moving in his tracks, threw it to the umpire and in a moment the game was on.

Thousands of fans cheered their approval as they saw the skill with which the president had tossed the ball and realized that another president was going to be a good fan.

President Knows Baseball.

As the game progressed they became more and more convinced that President Wilson knew something about the game he was watching. The president watched the play intently. More than once an approving smile upon his face anticipated the burst of cheering with which the bleachers expressed their satisfaction at some exceptionally fine bit of work and at least once he frowned at an umpire's decision.

The ball which the president tossed to Pitcher Johnson, and with which the pitcher in turn began the game, was fouled over the grandstand the first time it was thrown to the plate. Later, when it had been recovered, Clark Griffith, the Washington manager, brought it to Mr. Wilson's box to be autographed. The president quickly removed his fountain pen from a pocket and wrote his name and the date on the cover of the ball. The ball was given to Pitcher Johnson by the unanimous consent of the team.

The president stayed until the finish of the game.

Yanks Score First Run.

New York scored in the first inning, when Daniels was hit by a pitched ball, went to second on Gandil's muff of a hot grounder from Wolter, and tallied on Hartzell's single.

The Washington team got men on bases frequently, but never was able to reap any gain until the seventh. In that inning, Ainsmith was hit by a pitched ball, although Frank Chance, the New York manager, protested from the bench that he had projected his arm deliberately. Shanks got to first safely on a high throw by McConnell. McBride sacrificed, advancing both men. Walter Johnson fanned, but Moeller cracked a single to right that scored two runs. Score:

RIVAL 'WELTERS' READY FOR GONG

Walters and Kelly Fit for Battle in Kenosha Ring Tonight.

WINNER TO CLAIM TITLE.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

Billy Walters and "Spike" Kelly, contenders for the welterweight title, will settle the long standing question of supremacy tonight at Kenosha, Wis., where they are billed to mix matters for ten rounds. Local dopesters are of the opinion this will be the best fight staged in the Badger city this year and hundreds of local followers of the fistic game will be seated at the ringside.

Seldom have these fighters trained harder for a battle. Both are in the best of condition and under the agreed weight, which will be 145 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They will weigh in at Nate Lewis' gymnasium before departing for Kenosha.

The winner of this contest will claim the welterweight championship, although "Wildcat" Ferns of Kansas City may dispute that right. It is sure to be a slashing battle from start to finish. Both are capable of dealing out plenty of punishment and each is capable of taking a lot. Both also possess knockout wallops.

A special train will leave over the Northwestern at 7 o'clock, and it will return immediately after the contest. Over 200 local fans already have secured reservations.

Rudy Unholz, the German battler, writes from Oshkosh, Wis., that he is getting Eddie McGoorty in fine shape for his match with Freddie Hicks at Windsor, Can., on April 16. McGoorty will be in town on Monday to train at Lewis' for a few days before the battle.

Nate Lewis, manager of Charley White, yesterday said he had not heard from Leach Cross in regard to a match with White at the next Kenosha show. Lewis has offered Cross a $1,500 guarantee with the privilege of an equal percentage, while White is willing to fight on a percentage basis.

Jeff O'Connell, the local boxer, yesterday declared that the report he had been matched with Matty McCue at Milwaukee on April 14 was untrue. O'Connell said the terms offered were unsatisfactory.

O'NEIL TAKES EIGHT ROUNDS TO DEFEAT CARL ANDERSON.

Irondale Middleweight Badly Punishes Opponent, Who Is Unable to Continue the Battle.

Hammond, Ind., April 10.—[Special.]—Tim O'Neil, the Irondale middleweight, defeated Carl Anderson of Hammond in the eighth round of as scheduled ten round contest tonight. Anderson was unable to continue, and the decision went as a knockout for O'Neil.

Body punches so weakened the local miller in the early stages that he was a mark for O'Neil in the last two sessions. The Irondale fighter dealt out much punishment in the eighth round, and had Anderson in a groggy condition at the bell. Anderson fought back as best he could, but his blows lacked the steam to even jar Timothy.

The Home A. C. now will attempt to match O'Neil with Jimmy Clabby at the next show, which will be held within two weeks. Clabby acted as Anderson's chief adviser, and was able to get a good line on the ability of the Irondale man.

Eddie Clabby, a brother of Jimmy Clabby, stopped Pete Retland of South Chicago in the second round. Clabby had his opponent in a bad way when the referee stopped the mill.

In the opening bout "Young Ritchie" and "Young Bishop" fought an interesting six round draw. In the second six round preliminary Billy Morehead of Milwaukee won the decision over Eddie Wagner of Hammond.

WILLARD TRAINING ON COAST.

Heavyweight Makes Good Impression in Workouts at Wolgast's Quarters at Ocean Beach, Cal.

San Francisco, Cal., April 10.—Jess Willard, tallest of the heavyweights, is doing light training and gymnasium work at Ad Wolgast's quarters at Ocean beach. After a workout today he tipped the scales at 237. He never has been seen in action on the Pacific coast before, and in his gymnasium work he seemed to have more speed than that of any other of the heavyweights in the first rank. Willard has no matches in sight and will not enter the ring for six weeks or so, because of an operation last week on his nose.

M'GOORTY AN EASY WINNER.

Oshkosh Boy Defeats Gus Christie in Ten Round Bout at Fond du Lac.

Fond du Lac, Wis., April 10.—[Special.]—Eddie McGoorty won a ten round battle against Gus Christie of Milwaukee tonight by a wide margin. Christie, although beaten, put up a game fight and had the advantage in the first five rounds. Christie stalled in the last round to prevent a knockout.

PUGILISTIC POINTERS.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 10.—[Special.]—Jimmy McGlinchy was no match for Willie Baker, ex-amateur champion, tonight at the Broadway A. C., and was in bad shape at the finish of their six round bout.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 10.—Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul boxer, was tonight matched to meet Lee Safro, the Minneapolis welterweight, in a ten round match to be held at Eau Claire, Wis., May 1. The men will meet at catchweights.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—The senate of the Minnesota legislature today killed the Moeller bill legalizing limited and regulated boxing contests in the state by adopting an adverse report of the committee on general legislation, which prevailed at a committee meeting last night.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 10.—[Special.]—In a fast six round bout Jack Dillon of Indianapolis had a slight shade over Buck Crouse of this city tonight. Dillon had Crouse in a bad way in the second round when he caught him with a hard right to the jaw. Crouse outlived it long range fighting.

Crane to Play for Net Title.

Boston, Mass., April 10.—Bathrick Crane of the Tennis and Racquet club of Boston, by defeating Charles E. Sands of the Racquet and Tennis club of New York in straight sets, won the right to meet Jay Gould of Lakewood, N. J., for the national amateur court tennis championship on Saturday. The scores were 6—4, 6—2, 6—0.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON.

They're all in a bunch and off to a whipping start. In twenty years we've never seen such an array of opening battles or promise of harder fought games.

Meantime, gentlemen, lest you forget it when the race gets close, extend thanks to Mr. Hub Perdue right now.

Anyhow, the Phillies led the league until the season opened, and it wouldn't be a bad idea to let a few of the National league teams count practice games as a handicap.

After a few more days we'll have to have an introducer take us to the park. Possibly they are trying to prove the score card boys' contention, "You won't know the players without a score card."

As a first robin indication of the coming summer Athletics 10, Boston 9, is the best dope yet. If Mack can beat them it's all over now.

Of course the argument that with Daubert, Wheat, and Rucker, Brooklyn is strong is all right—until a minor league outfielder loses the game by dropping a fly.

The Cubs shouldn't fear smallpox after being exposed to all they have encountered, and they'll be isolated enough as it is.

That resolution that acted as a monkey wrench in the Springfield legislative machine was shied by a lineal descendant of the originator of the term "Butts In."

You'll remember we warned you against electing a college professor as president. Next thing you know he'll be insisting that the party keep its platform promises.

V. P. Marshall has become one of our greatest little baseball authorities, having once seen Rollie Zeider play at Columbia City.

There is one thing about the Vice Prexy, however, he doesn't take the pass and then knock the team.

ADVICE TO YOUNG BALL PLAYERS.

Don't buy diamonds on your share of the world's series money until after July 15 at the earliest.

We were certain that three cushion race would end in a tie, merely from the mad enthusiasm with which every one kept away from the contests.

A little reading up of history ought to convince Messrs. Johnson and Lynch that the principle of punishment without trial never has won either pennants or popularity.

Prexy Wilson probably decided to attend the opening game at Washington merely to keep in touch with the Reps and Sens.

Now that Lou Houseman has been fined for speeding, we fully expect to read of Tom Needham overrunning second and being tagged out.

Little drops of water, little gobs of rain,
Make the Sox fans happy, give Cub fans a pain.

One of the real surprises is that Jim Sullivan is to direct the games at San Francisco's fair. As it is to be held in 1915, there probably will not be enough amateurs left to compete.

That lady who broke a plate over her husband's head without showing either anger or violence probably was in the same calm and placid state of mind Doc Semmens was in when he swung on Evers.

We praise the judgment of the editor who, in labeling a photograph of Whitey Alperman, Pat Moran, and Hank O'Day refrained from calling it "The opening play of the season."

CHART FOR LAKE FOREST NINE; TWO GOOD PITCHERS IN SQUAD.

Steele and Tefft Expected to Perform Well on the Slab—Heavy Schedule for Track Team.

Coach Herschberger of the Lake Forest academy baseball team has a large squad out each afternoon. The team will be particularly strong in the pitching department, with Steele, who won the majority of his games last year, and Tefft, formerly of Bradley Polytechnic, to do the heavy work. The schedule follows:

April 30—Deerfield H. S. at Deerfield.
May 3—Wendell Phillips at Lake Forest.
May 7—McKinley at Lake Forest.
May 10—Oak Park at Lake Forest.

Clements to Lead Polo Team.

Urbana, Ill., April 10.—[Special.]—O. R. Clements of West Blaine, Ill., was elected captain of the University of Illinois water polo team, which may take an eastern tour next year. Clements is a junior and has played guard for two years. The vote for a swimming captain resulted in a tie and another ballot will be taken.

GOLFERS ARRANGE FOR COAST GAMES

W. G. A. Board Also Discusses Amateur and Open Title Tournaments Here.

ADMITS TWO NEW CLUBS.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

President John D. Cady of the Western Golf association arrived in the city yesterday and in the afternoon attended a meeting of the executive committee of the Western Golf association at the Blackstone hotel. Plans for the trip of the western team to the Pacific coast were discussed and matters in connection with the amateur and open championships were arranged.

In spite of the early and urgent appeal sent out by the handicap committee seventy-four clubs are delinquent in reporting, among them being Homewood, Calumet, and Exmoor. For many years the officials of the W. G. A. have been hampered by the tardiness of some of the secretaries and the suggestion has been made that the handicap list be dropped, at least for this year. The absence of the W. G. A. rating would cause a lot of trouble in open handicap events, but the delinquent clubs would have to bear the blame.

Two Clubs Join Association.

Two new clubs have been admitted to membership, the Tenaka Golf club of Dawson, N. M., and the Santa Cruz Golf and Country club of Santa Cruz, Cal.

British tradition has been given another jolt. Imported golfers who still worship at the shrine of St. Andrews may be surprised to hear that British golfers are agitating for a change in the manner of conducting their amateur championship. It has been the religious belief of thousands of golfers that "eighteen holes constituted a game of golf." For years the British amateur championship has been at match play all of the rounds with the exception of the final being at eighteen holes.

Last year a petition was presented by the leading amateurs asking for a qualifying round at thirty-six holes. This indicated the progressives were willing to take a leaf out of the book of Uncle Sam. This petition was rejected because insufficient notice was given.

Club to Vote on Proposition.

This year during the week of the amateur championship at St. Andrews representatives of twenty-four associated clubs will vote on a motion made by the Royal St. George's club. The motion proposes that four qualifying rounds at medal play be contested and that the lowest thirty-two players then play off, each match round to be at thirty-six holes.

This proposal has the support of a large number of influential golfers. If it goes through it will be a rude shock to the importations over here who imagine "they do things so much better at home."

Harold A. Weber of Toledo, the Ohio champion, will compete in the British amateur championship at St. Andrews the latter part of May. Mr. Weber has been playing in Florida and also at Pinehurst this winter.

H. C. FOWNES LEADS GOLF FIELD

Pittsburgh Player Tops List in Mid-April Tourney at Pinehurst, Getting Six Under Bogey.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 10.—Henry C. Fownes of Pittsburgh was the medalist in today's qualification round of the annual mid-April golf tournament. He brought in a card of 74, six strokes under bogey. In second position, C. L. Becker, Auburndale, Mass., led Robert Hunter, Stamford, Conn., by one stroke, with a card of 80. Others in the first division were W. A. Kinter, Pittsburgh; N. S. Hurd, Pittsburgh; E. W. Erwin, Kent, Mich.; D. V. I. McGrewe, Pinehurst, and T. A. Kelly, Southern Pines, N. C.

FOUR DOG TEAMS IN LONG RACE.

All Alaska Sweepstake Over 412 Miles of Snow Covered Trail Starts at Nome.

Nome, Alaska, April 10.—Cheered by 2,000 spectators, four dog teams got away this morning in the 412 mile all Alaska sweepstake race over the snow trail from Nome to Candle and return.

The starters were the teams entered by Mrs. C. E. Darling of Berkeley, Cal., and A. A. (Scotty) Allen, Russell Bowen and Fay Dansene, John Johnson and Tommy Illayck, a native driver.

Clear, cold weather and a fast trail give promise of one of the fastest races ever run in the north. John Johnson, whose Siberian wolves set the record of 74 hours 14 minutes and 14 seconds in 1910, is driving a team of twenty-one dogs, the largest team ever entered.

The purse is $5,000, divided 50 per cent for the winner, 25 per cent for second, and 15 per cent for third place.

Allan and Johnson drove into Solomon, the first reporting station, together, having covered thirty-two miles in three hours and seven minutes. Delzene was eight minutes behind the leaders and was followed by Illayck.

MEET DRAWS MANY ENTRIES.

About 150 Athletes Will Compete in K. C. Contests at Seventh Regiment Armory Tomorrow.

About 150 athletes will compete in the Knights of Columbus Athletic association's indoor track meet at the Seventh Regiment armory tomorrow night. The following events will be run off: Sixty yard dash; 440, 880, and mile runs; high jump; and relay races. In addition, relay races for interwholesale and military teams are scheduled. George K. Herman will act as referee, with Charles Wilson as starter. In the sixty yard dash and 440 yard run it will be necessary to run off the contests in heats because of the large entry. Nearly every council in the organization is represented.

Bad Weather at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—Tomorrow's game with Columbus was called off by Manager Friel late today because of weather conditions. Friel will try to arrange for a game with Columbus next Wednesday if all three games of the present schedule are postponed. Wednesday is an open date for both teams.

No Game for Millers Today.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 10.—The Minneapolis and Indianapolis teams will not open the season here tomorrow. A mixture of snow and rain has been falling for the last thirty-six hours and the grounds at Nicollet park are in such condition that Manager Cantillon doubts whether a game can be played before Sunday.

MICHIGAN GAME CALLED OFF.

Rain Prevents Wolverines from Meeting Sewanee—Will Play Vanderbilt at Nashville Today.

Sewanee, Tenn., April 10.—[Special.]—The game today between the University of Michigan and Sewanee was called off on account of rain. The Wolverines left this afternoon to hook up with the strong Vanderbilt team at Nashville in a two game series, playing a double header on Saturday. Castle Heights at Lebanon in the morning and the second game with Vanderbilt in the afternoon.

ROY HARTZELL LOSES BY FIRE.

Blaze, Believed to Have Been Started by Mice, Does $200 Damage to Yankee Player's Apartment.

New York, April 10.—The celebrated jinx of the New York American league team instead of following the club on its trip stayed in town and visited the home of Third Baseman Roy Hartzell who is with his chubmates in Washington. Fire was discovered tonight in the Hartzell apartment and before the firemen put out the blaze $200 worth of damage had been done to the ball players' belongings. It is believed mice started the blaze.

MOTORISTS HONOR IRA M. COBE.

Former President of Chicago Automobile Club Guest at Dinner Given by Former Associates.

Ira M. Cobe was guest of honor at a dinner given at the Chicago Automobile club last night by twenty of the members who served with him on the board of directors during the seven years he was president of the Plymouth place organization. President Allen S. Ray acted as toastmaster. Mr. Cobe was presented with a set of leather bound engrossed resolutions signed by his former and present associates on the club directorate. Among the speakers were Judge Charles A. McDonald, Judge Charles M. Foell, Judge Adolph J. Petit, and Fred W. Blocki.

PLAN TO RACE AT NEW ORLEANS

Celia Interests Said to Be Making Overtures for Purchase of the City Park Track.

New Orleans, La., April 10.—[Special.]—Wires are being laid for another move to reinstate horse racing in New Orleans. Unofficial reports state that the Celia interests of St. Louis are making strong overtures to add the City Park race track to their Crescent City Jockey club holdings. John Hachemeister, their confidential agent, is here. If this deal is made the state legislature will be approached in the interest of getting a bill passed which will reinstate racing. The price offered for the City park is said to be $365,000.

HAMILTON SEALS DEFEAT TANKERS

Score Victory Over C. A. A. Men in Relay Race and in Water Basketball.

HANSON VICTOR IN DASH.

BY KEENE GARDINER.

Hamilton Club Seals defeated the Cherry Circle Tankers of the Chicago Athletic association in a relay race and water basketball game which featured an aquatic entertainment at the Dearborn street club last night.

The Seals proved altogether too fast for the Tankers in the 100 yard relay, but the C. A. A. members might have furnished more interesting competition had not their first swimmer lost his sense of direction in the excitement. The slip cost the Tankers any chance they might have had, as the natator collided with the side of the tank and gave his rival a safe lead at the start.

Seals Take Basket Game.

In the basket game the Seals ran away from their opponents, scoring five goals and winning, 10 to 0. H. E. Hanson of the Hamilton club raced out Frank Harless of the C. A. A. in a sixty yard match race, and H. C. Karcher of the Hamilton club won from B. H. Princell of the same club in a feature forty yard handicap breast stroke contest.

Two boys started in the open forty yard race, Johnny Paver taking the event in :30 4-5, with second honors to Jack G. Searle. Miss Genevieve Baragwanath entertained the spectators with an exhibition of fancy diving and the various strokes used in swimming.

Angus Gives Exhibition.

James Angus, a veteran swimming instructor, who is over 74 years old, demonstrated that age had not robbed him of his ability to "pull" fancy stunts in the water. Angus was assisted by Coach Bachrach of the I. A. C., with whom he worked when Bachrach was instructor at the Central Y. M. C. A. Summaries:

Plunge—Won by B. H. Princell, H. C.; R. H. Pillinger, H. C., second; Ray White, C. A. A., third. Time, :31 1-5.

40 yard open race—Won by M. O. Griffiths, H. C.; H. E. Rose, H. C., second. Time, :23.

'Boys' 40 yard race—Won by Johnny Paver; Jack G. Searle, second. Time :30 4-5.

60 yard match race—Won by H. E. Hanson, H. C.; Frank Harless, C. A. A., second. Time, :32.

40 yard breast stroke—Won by H. W. Karcher, H. C.; B. H. Princell, H. C., second.

Relay—Won by H. C. Seals [H. E. Hanson, M. O. Griffiths, H. E. Rose, W. H. Cox; J. F. Davis]; Cherry Circle Tankers, second.

HUSZAGH NOW PURPLE CAPTAIN.

Elected to Lead Northwestern Swimming Team—Eight Men Are Awarded College Letter.

Kenneth Huszagh was elected captain of the Northwestern university swimming team last night. The following men were awarded "N's": Huszagh, Nelson, McCrary, Whitehead, Schloesser, Ennis, Wood, and Blakely.

YESTERDAY'S RACE RESULTS.

AT MARLBORO.

First race, 9-16 mile—Elsie Herndon, 102 [Sterling], 9 to 5, won; Pink Lady, 2 to 1, second; Top Rock, 6 to 1, third. Time, :57 4-5.

Second race, 9-16 mile—Captain Nelson, 10 to 9 [Dreyer], 3 to 2, won; Inspired, 30 to 1, second; Shreve, 6 to 1, third. Time, :57 2-5.

Third race, about ⅝ mile—Lord Wells, 102 [Hanover], 7 to 10, won; Casque, 3 to 1, second; Mattie L., 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:27.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 miles—Supervisor, 109 [Dennler], 11 to 5, won; Otilo, 8 to 1, second; Juttyhunk, even, third. Time, 1:47 3-5.

Fifth race, 13-16 mile—Belfast, 105 [Jackson], 5 to 2, won; Earl of Richmond, 7 to 2, second; St. Cliffe, even, third. Time, 1:24.

Sixth race, ⅝ mile—Fanchette, 112 [Mathews], 8 to 5, won; Racing Belle, 5 to 2, second; Valinda, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:01 4-5.

AT JAMESTOWN.

First race, 2 year old maidens, ½ mile—Free Trade, 112 [Koerner], 4 to 1, won; Zack Wiggins, 6 to 1, second; Charles Cannell, 2 to 1, third. Time, :49.

Second race, ¾ mile—Big Dipper, 90 [Nathan], 4 to 1, won; Royal Message, 8 to 5, second; Double Five, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:14 2-5.

Third race, 11-16 mile—Monacsy, 113 [Mondon], 8 to 1, won; Chuckles, 7 to 1, second; Exton, 3 to 2, third. Time, 1:07.

Fourth race, ¾ mile—Sir Blaise, 108 [Robbins], 8 to 1, won; Yorkville, 12 to 1, second; Palanquin, 3 to 5, third. Time, 1:14.

Fifth race, ⅝ mile—Question Mark, 106 [Wolf], 4 to 1, won; The Gardener, 10 to 1, second; Blue Mouse, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:28.

Sixth race, 1 mile and 70 yards—Clem Beachey, 104 [Robbins], 20 to 1, won; Star Gift, 4 to 5, second; The Squire, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:46.

WESTERN ELECTRIC BOWLERS TURN LIGHTS OUT FOR SEASON.

Switchboard Team Takes Championship, Having a One Game Lead Over the Inspections.

The Western Electric league ended its schedule last night, the Switchboard team became champion with a one game advantage over the Inspections, who finished their season's work with a triple victory over the Central Works. Louis La Font won the individual honors with Miller second. Miller turned in an average of 210 for his final series with 254 for high game.

The Ursus and the Ben Tons of the Sheridan league, who were tied for the lead in the north side organization, met, and the cigarmakers won all three games, which clinches the championship.

Jones was the individual star of the series with an average of 2:11 2-3.

SPORTING NEWS NOTES.

Palmer Park Bowling won the championship of the 135 pound division by defeating Mark White square, 30 to 14, at Fuller park.

Walter M. Lewis has been chosen manager of the Kent College of Law baseball team. Harry Shannon is the new captain. Lewis would like to arrange games for the law students.

W. E. Miller, 124 Ann street, is forming a baseball league of teams representing business houses and would like to hear from clubs desiring to enter such an organization.

Ernest Kertze and Louis Taber will meet in a finish wrestling match at the Empire theater tonight. In the other bout Frank Prindle meets Paul Martinson.

William Pickens, representative of the Western Automobile association, left yesterday for New York, where he will make final plans for holding a race meet at Brighton Beach this summer. Mr. Pickens said that $50,000 in prize money will be offered.

MAROONS TO OPEN AGAINST INDIANA

Board Approves Football Schedule, Starting with Hoosiers on Oct. 4.

BADGERS LAST GAME HERE

The University of Chicago football schedule for 1913, arranged by Director A. A. Stagg, was approved yesterday by the University of Chicago board of athletics. The program provides seven contests, only two of which, the Northwestern and Minnesota games, will be played on foreign fields.

The Maroon season will open on Oct. 4 with Indiana on Marshall field. On Oct. 11 Iowa will journey to Marshall field. On Oct. 25 Purdue will play here. After the Illinois game on Nov. 1, the Maroons will be out for two Saturdays, on Nov. 8 at Evanston and Nov. 15 at Minneapolis. Wisconsin will wind up the season with a tussle with the Maroons on Nov. 22.

The matter of the approval of the schedule was the only thing of importance taken up at the directors' meeting. Coach Stagg will remain at Midway camp several days longer to make preparations for starting of the conference track and baseball season before leaving for his annual vacation in Colorado. The schedule follows:

Oct. 4—Indiana at Chicago.
Oct. 11—Iowa at Chicago.
Oct. 25—Purdue at Chicago.
Nov. 1—Illinois at Chicago.
Nov. 8—Northwestern at Evanston.
Nov. 15—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Nov. 22—Wisconsin at Chicago.

Money Continues Relatively Easier in New York; Local Banks Loaned Up.

General market conditions show some improvement at the moment. The question of the tariff, which had promised to hang over the industries of the country, is being handled by the president in a way which suggests appreciation of the fact that uncertainty in schedules means dullness in business. If the tariff changes are to be voted on as a whole they will be relatively quickly out of the way and business interests will be enabled to act accordingly.

Money continues to be relatively easier in New York. Call loans were freely made at 3 per cent yesterday. Chicago banks are well loaned up, but an easier sentiment will make an easier demand. When money is close there is unnecessary borrowing as a matter of insurance. Relieved of the thought of the necessity for insurance, the borrowing demand to that extent diminishes.

St. Paul's New Bond Issue.

The proceeds from the $30,000,000 general mortgage 4½ per cent gold bonds of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad company are to be used for general purposes of the company. The open winter has permitted a large amount of improvement and double tracking work, which has necessitated the expenditure of a large amount of money. Although the St. Paul has been showing a liberal surplus over dividend requirements during the last few months, and has already received in the neighborhood of $14,000,000 from its convertible bonds, it has been necessary to sell the additional amount of bonds referred to in order to meet the present and immediate future requirements of the road. Sale of the convertible bonds gave the company only about sufficient funds to reimburse its treasury for amounts that had already been expended upon the property for various purposes.

Large Sum for Double Tracking.

The double tracking of the Hastings and Dakota division, which has been carried on actively during the winter, has necessitated the outlay of large sums of cash. At the same time the company has ordered a large amount of new equipment and on the Puget Sound division numerous branches and feeders have been and are being projected, which also calls for a considerable sum of money.

Another element to be considered is the extensive electrification project which the company has under contemplation on its Puget Sound division over the Bitter Root mountains. It is estimated the cost of this will entail an outlay of about $8,000,000. Another project which calls for the expenditure of a considerable amount of money by the St. Paul is the new Union station which is to be built in Chicago.

Southern Pacific Note Issue.

Application has been made by the Southern Pacific company to the state railroad commission of California for permission to issue $10,120,000 4½ per cent trust certificates, the proceeds of which are to be used to purchase additional equipment, including 6,500 freight cars, 114 locomotives, and ninety passenger motor cars.

According to the application the company has already made arrangements for securing the money from the Commercial Trust company of Philadelphia. The total cost of the equipment will be $11,-[illegible],000, but the company plans making a payment of 10 per cent and seeks only authority to raise the remainder.

In Honor of Morgan.

The New York stock exchange and New York curb markets will be closed next Monday morning until noon, owing to the funeral of J. P. Morgan. The Chicago stock exchange will not close.

Northwest State Bank.

The North West State bank announces that through an error in hasty compilation, the figures for the April 5 call were incorrectly given. The deposits amounted to $1,667,161 and cash resources $356,365.

United Cigars Dividend.

Announcement comes from New York that directors of the United Cigar Stores company will meet this month to act on the common dividend. A director is reported as saying there is no basis for reports to the effect that the directors will not make an extra dividend of ½ per cent in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent.

Rumely Preferred Lower.

Rumely common stock closed at 36, but the preferred made a new low record at 75. This latter quotation is a drop of four points from the previous day's close. Nothing new has developed in the affairs of the company. In order to facilitate a process of liquidation the company has, it is understood, canceled several million dollars of orders.

Dividends Declared.

A quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share on the preferred stock and a quarterly dividend of $1.75 per share on the common stock of Jacksonville Traction company have been declared, both payable May 1 to stockholders of record at the close of business April 18.

The Federal Sugar Refining company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock and 1¼ per cent on its common stock, payable April 28 to holders of record April 26.

The Mexican Railway company declared a dividend for the half year at the rate of 2½ per cent per annum. This compares with a declaration at this time last year at the rate of 1¾ per cent per annum.

The Pacific Coast company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on its first preferred stock and 1½ per cent each on its second preferred and common stocks, all payable May 1. Books close April 18 and reopen May 2.

General Financial News.

The Greene Cananea production for March was [illegible]772 lbs of copper, 686 ounces of gold, and 124,-[illegible] ounces of silver.

Stockholders of the Pond Creek Coal company at their annual meeting approved an issue of $2,000,-[illegible] convertible 6 per cent bonds.

The Granby mine shipped 2,030,462 lbs of blister copper in March. This compares with 1,740,000 lbs in February and 1,628,245 lbs in January.

Unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation on March 31 were 7,468,956 tons, a decrease of 187,758 tons as compared with Feb. 28.

The Tonopah Belmont mine for March showed earnings of $150,250, being an increase of $20,108 over February and $25,000 over the previous month.

Boston is predicting 16c for copper before the end of this month. Some sales are reported at 15⅝c.

LATEST WALL STREET GOSSIP.

NEW YORK, April 10.—[Special.]—Amalgamated and other copper stocks here have not advanced without encouraging example from Europe. There has, in fact, been a general rise in the price of copper stocks everywhere. The shares of the Rio Tinto Mining company, usually described as the greatest copper property in the world, have a wide market in London and Paris. The stock has had an extraordinarily sharp advance in the last few weeks and today it reached a level of 80, which is the highest touched since Oct. 4 last, just on the eve of the outbreak of the Balkan war, which event threw all the financial centers of Europe into confusion and resulted in a tremendous depreciation in security prices.

The stock market has covered a lot of ground in the last few days. Fluctuations in the active speculative mediums have been unusually wide and irregular. This is a condition which ought to prove more or less favorable to the activities of the professional trader, who likes to make small profits and many of them. Nevertheless, nothing much has been heard of a sudden access of riches on the part of the members of this group.

Even if the circumstances are propitious, the professional doesn't always make money on his ventures. In a market like the present one profit may be made by quick turns, but unless the operator is exceedingly lucky or is possessed by almost supernatural powers, he is likely to find his successful trades in the long run are about canceled by the unsuccessful ones. If he can't call the turns correctly his only chance of coming out at a profit is to go with the general trend of the stock market. If the traders as a class are bearish that may be a reason why they are not making money.

News of the suspension of several curb brokers will not result in talk of a possible effect upon the local banking position or upon the general credit system of the country. According to accounts, one of the gentlemen in question, who confessed his inability to meet his commitments, was found to have total liabilities of $37.42, assets nil. He asked time to get on his feet again and accepted a new lease of life of twenty-four hours.

The extraordinary exhibition of weakness by Pennsylvania on Wednesday, following the annual announcement of the increase in the amount of stock outstanding, has excited universal curiosity as to its source. It was suggested such an outpouring of stock could hardly come from the stockholders, since these are widely scattered, and liquidation on their account would not be expected to be so prompt. Moreover, the amount of the proposed issue is not especially large in comparison with the five preceding issues in the last twelve years, all of which were well received by the shareholders. For this reason it is argued the selling proceeded mainly from the shorts and was made in anticipation of an unfavorable reception of the news by the real owners of Pennsylvania stock.

Under ordinary circumstances short sales of Pennsylvania would hardly be considered a discreet operation by even the boldest bears, but the public demand for bonds during the past few months has been so small it might well have been thought the Pennsylvania shareholders would not respond to the present allotment with the alacrity they have shown in the past.

A stock issue by the Pennsylvania has been anticipated for months, and it is now pointed out the loan market lately has given unmistakable evidence of an unusual borrowing demand for Pennsylvania stock. On Wednesday the demand for the stock in the loan crowd so increased that Pennsylvania actually loaned flat as compared with a rate of 3¾ per cent for the general list.

It is therefore well within the bounds of possibility that this development reflects the gradual creation during the past few weeks of a short position in Pennsylvania in anticipation of the announcement made Wednesday. The floating supply of the stock is, of course, limited so that a relatively small volume of borrowing might be sufficient to produce such an unusual condition of affairs.

Not long ago it was quite generally declared in market gossip that the only legitimate bear argument was money. This unfavorable criticism of monetary conditions was made with particular reference to the state of financial affairs in Europe and especially in Berlin. Since April 1 the improvement that has taken place in this respect abroad would have diminished the weight of this argument considerably. This week's reports of the foreign banks may have surprised even the most optimistic. The Bank of England today reported a substantial gain in its proportion of reserve to liabilities amounting to over three points.

Incidentally, it may be worth while noting that Europe's purchases of stocks in this market today were the largest since the foreigners began buying back our stocks a few weeks ago.

People who have been concerned over the lack of evidence of greater buying power from abroad are deriving some comfort from the pronounced strength exhibited by Erie, which was the feature of the international list today. Erie for generations has been a favorite with the foreign speculator, and there is never a pronounced movement in it in which London is not supposed to take a hand.

For years people here and abroad have held high hopes for the future of Erie. The ever faithful hold that the same process of development is now going on in Erie which went on in Jersey Central and in Reading and eventually led to their tremendous rise in price. Information of this kind, of course, is usually described as "important if true."

Chicago Securities.

On the local stock exchange Sears-Roebuck common was active and lower. The dividend paid by the company does not warrant the price of the shares. At the same time there is nothing in the returns to suggest an extra distribution with either stock or cash.

There was a fair amount of trading in Chicago Railways issues. Prices were irregular. Peoples Gas was firm, selling at 113½.

In the bond department there was weakness in the street railroad issues and Commonwealth Edison 5s. Chicago Railways 5s touched 98¼, the lowest price in months. Ogden Gas 5s were firm at 96.

NEW YORK STOCKS HAVE SHIFTY DAY

Irregular Movement Confuses Speculative Sentiment; Trading Is Dull.

RAIL SHARES DROP HARD.

Three Issues Touch Low Point of Year; Decrease in Steel Orders Discounted.

New York, April 10.—Movements of stocks today were irregular and speculative sentiment was confused. The alternate periods of advancing and declining prices represented little more than the momentary response to activities of professional traders, who appeared to have the market in their own hands. Trading was dull much of the day and displayed a lack of initiative, in the absence of new impulses from any quarter.

On the upward swings gains of a point or more were made by some of the leading issues, and on the declines there were corresponding losses. Net changes on the day were small. Pennsylvania at 114, New York Central, and Baltimore and Ohio all touched new low points for the year. Selling of Pennsylvania was carried on heavily at times following yesterday's announcement of a new issue of the stock.

Unfilled Steel Tonnage Declines.

The decline of 187,000 tons of unfilled orders shown by the steel corporation in its monthly report had no effect on the stock, such a decrease having been clearly forecast. That the figures fell off less than 200,000 tons indicated that orders continued heavy last month.

European buying of stocks here continued, London's purchases today were about 30,000 shares, chiefly of Steel, Amalgamated, Union Pacific, and Erie. Recent foreign buying and the steadily improving position of the European governmental banks indicate an improvement in conditions abroad which it is expected will be a decided factor in this market, although some doubt is felt as to how extensively Europe will invest in American securities until more confidence is displayed by investors at home.

Bank of England Lifts Reserves.

The Bank of England's statement today disclosed a further strengthening of reserves, amounting to over 3 per cent in the last week. The sale of $10,000,000 New York Central one year 5 per cent notes in London was accepted as a further indication of the better feeling abroad toward American securities.

Lower prices prevailed for many of the important bonds. New York Central 3½s lost 2 points. Total sales, par value, $2,720,000. United States bonds, unchanged on call.

Money on call steady, 3@4 per cent; ruling rate, 3¾ per cent; closing bid, 3½ per cent; offered at 3¾ per cent. Time loans, steady; 60 days, 4½@4¾ per cent and 90 days, 4¾ per cent; six months, 4¾ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5½@6 per cent. Sterling exchange, steady, with actual business in bankers' bills, at 486.10 for 60 days, and at 487 for demand. Commercial bills, 482¾. Bar silver, 60¼. Mexican dollars, 48c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds easy.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, April 10.—Money and discount rates easy. The stock market maintained a fairly good tone under investment buying and the belief that the Balkan situation will soon improve. Consols and gilt edge securities advanced on the good bank statement and public support. Gold shares were benefited by the gold output for the month. The continent bought favorites, but speculative issues closed easy on profit taking. The American securities were firm and stocks in fair demand during the early session, but New York offerings in the afternoon caused recessions. The close was easy.

Balance		$185,557

The Sioux City Service Company operates all street railway lines in Sioux City, Iowa, and in addition sells electricity and steam heat for commercial purposes.

We recommend the First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds as an investment for the following reasons:

1. Net earnings are about three times the interest charges on all bonds outstanding.
2. The replacement value of the physical property is largely in excess of all outstanding bonds.
3. Escrow bonds may be issued for only 75% of actual cost of additions and improvements, when gross earnings are five times, and net earnings twice, the interest charges on all bonds issued and to be issued.
4. The mortgage provides that the Company shall deposit in cash with the trustee as a special reserve and sinking fund sums which will aggregate $1,200,000 by maturity of the bonds.
5. The Company operates under favorable franchises, and has no competition in the operation of its railway lines.
6. The population of the community served and the earnings of the Company have shown a steady growth.
7. The management of the Company is under the direction of interests closely affiliated with Messrs. Armour & Co.

How many Stock Clerks can answer these questions?

Where do things go? How many are on hand? When was a new supply ordered? When will it be delivered? Which lines move? Which are "stickers"?

How many stock clerks can answer these questions—correctly? Mighty few. Why? Because their stock keeping records (if they have any) do not reflect conditions as they ARE.

The Library Bureau Perpetual Stock Record DOES—instantly. Prevents "leaks," running out of stock, overstocking and "rush" purchases. Ask for booklet, "Keeping Stock the L. B. Way."

SHARP REACTION IN GRAIN MARTS

Futures Are Overbought and Support Is Withdrawn; Prices Close Lower.

CABLES SHOW FIRM TONE.

Big Sales of Wheat for Export Made on Break; Hog Products Are Irregular.

A sharp setback in corn checked the buying of wheat, and the market showed decided signs of being overbought yesterday. Prices ruled firm during the greater part of the session, but in the last hour longs tried to unload, and found but little support. Prices at the finish were ¼@⅜c lower, the deferred months holding relatively firm. Trade was of fair proportions, local shorts being forced to cover early. Outside buying demand was limited, however, and the bull leaders were not conspicuous on the buying side.

The reports in regard to the winter wheat outlook are so uniformly favorable, that buying is checked. Reports of cash sales of liberal proportions failed to rally the market much owing to the bearish crop news. Profit taking has been on quite a liberal scale, moreover, the past day or so, and the bull leaders evidently were not averse to letting prices decline.

Foreigners Are Good Buyers.

The seaboard reported total sales for export of 680,000 bu, most of which was Duluth wheat. Local sales were 150,000 bu, including 65,000 bu No. 1 northern and 25,000 bu No. 2 hard winter for prompt shipment to the seaboard, all rail. Receipts of wheat at Chicago for four days were 161,000 bu and shipments during the same time have been 471,000 bu. General receipts were liberal at all points, primary arrivals being 531,000 bu, compared to 253,000 bu a year ago.

Local arrivals were 13 cars, with 21 cars the estimate for today. At northwest points arrivals were 214 cars; last year, 134 cars. Winnipeg had 237 cars, against 421 cars a year ago. Minneapolis stocks increased 85,000 bu for five days. Weather northwest was unfavorable, but cool rainy weather recently has been extremely favorable for winter wheat.

Liverpool Closes Higher.

Foreign markets generally showed a firm tone. Liverpool closed ¼@½d higher, with spot wheat unchanged. Paris was ⅜c up on reports of damage to the French crop, with liberal buying of foreign wheats. Antwerp was ⅝c up; Berlin, ⅝c higher, and Budapest, ½c lower. Advices from Argentina were bullish, the export demand being good. Shipments of Plate wheat for the week were estimated at 6,000,000 bu.

Selling of July wheat early was led by Wagner. Cudahy was also credited with selling after buying early. Shearson-Hammill, Bartlett-Frazier, and commission houses in general were late sellers down to 92c for May, with the local crowd selling at the bottom, while commission houses turned buyers under 92c. Logan-Bryan and Ware-Leland bought early.

Corn Declines After Rally.

Corn scored a sharp gain at the start, but the advance met with heavy offerings and attempts to take profits on a big scale developed the fact that support was feeble. Late in the day the market turned decidedly weak, closing ⅜@½ to ⅝c lower, and from the high point May was down about 1c. Weather conditions were unfavorable, but clearing weather was predicted for the west.

Cash prices were not much changed at the finish and the shipping demand was moderate. Sales for shipping account were 90,000 bu. Country offerings continue light. Receipts were 191 cars with 154 cars the estimate for today. In the west receipts were 405,000 bu, compared to 319,000 bu a year ago. Cables were ¼@⅜d higher. Argentine markets were firm with light receipts at the ports. Shipments from Argentina for the week were estimated at 636,000 bu.

Deferred Oats Futures Firm.

Oats were comparatively strong. The deferred months closed unchanged while May was ⅛c lower. The continued wet weather over the belt was the main factor and checked selling. More rain was predicted for the eastern and central states. Seeding is already late and favorable weather is necessary the next few weeks if a normal acreage is to be put in. Cash prices were firm early, closing about steady. Receipts were 108 cars, with 146 cars inspected yesterday. Receipts west were 454,000 bu, compared to 388,000 bu a year ago. Shipping sales were 155,000 bu.

Products Lose Advance.

Provisions showed considerable firmness early, with fair buying by commission houses. Offerings were light at the outset, increasing later, while the demand diminished. Final prices were not much changed, the advances generally being lost and a little more. Cash trade was reported fair and hog receipts were moderate. Arrivals here were 20,000 with 15,000 estimated for tomorrow. At western points arrivals were 63,900, against 71,000 last year. Lard at Liverpool was 9d higher, while meats were unchanged. Receipts of products were 11 cars and shipments were 101 cars.

Rye Scarce and Firm.

Rye was scarce and firm, with a sale of No. 3 at 61c and No. 2, 63@64c nominal. Receipts, 2 cars. Barley was steady, with malting, 52@66c; feed, 43@48c, and screenings, 18@44c. Receipts, 26 cars. Timothy seed was quiet at $2.75@3.50 for cash lots. Cloverseed held firm at $15.00@21.00 for cash lots.

Duluth flax closed 1@1½c higher, with cash on track, $1.28; May, $1.28½; July, $1.31. Receipts, 15 cars. Minneapolis closed 1c higher at $1.28½ for cash on track. Receipts, 14 cars. Winnipeg was ⅝@1c higher at $1.14 for May and $1.16⅝ for July. Receipts, 68 cars.

AMERICAN GRAIN MARKETS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 10.—WHEAT—Developed tone on account of declines in outside markets. Early there was a strong undertone. May closed ⅛c lower than yesterday, July ⅛c lower, and September ¼@⅜c lower. Rain and snow in the northwest further delayed seeding. Local elevator stocks increased 85,000 bu for five days. May opened, 87½c; high, 87⅝c; low, 86⅝c; closed, 86⅞@87c; July opened, 89⅞c; high, 90c; low, 89⅛c; closed, 89⅛@89⅛c; September opened, 90⅛c; high, 90⅜@90⅝c; low, 90c; closed, 90c. NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Owing to the unfavorable weather conditions it is likely that the time for shipping corn sold for April shipment will be extended in many instances to May. Local receivers it is said are willing that the time be extended. "There is plenty of corn here now and even with moderate receipts during April there will have to be a big demand to take care of the corn," said a leading corn handler. "There is no doubt a good deal of corn was contracted for April shipment, but there will be no hesitancy in extending the time of shipment into May if country shippers do not care to take the time to ship now."

Snow wired from Hutchinson, Kas.: "Making full allowance for lateness and uncertain position of crop west of one hundredth meridian, involving approximately a million acres, Kansas starts with an easy possibility of one hundred million or upward. In the counties that have six-sevenths of the area there is hardly an acre to be abandoned and with this perfect stand there is ample moisture for early growth. Oats are coming up in good shape with increased acreage. Present cold weather highly favorable to stooling."

Nicollet, the Kansas City grain statistician, in summing up the southwest crop situation, says: "Rains have put the west in best shape in history, present indications point to the largest wheat yields ever recorded in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, and Oklahoma. If nothing happens all records will be broken. Kansas City territory is the garden spot of the United States today."

Broomhall's Argentine agent cabled: "A very large amount of wheat has been contracted for and now holders are very firm. Nearby stuff is owned by exporters and distant deliveries are being contracted for in a surprising manner owing to the laxity of Russia to commence offerings. Corn is firm with offers light. Arrivals are small and stocks light."

A good cash business was done in wheat on the break here yesterday. Sales included 65,000 bu No. 1 northern and 25,000 bu No. 2 hard for prompt shipment all rail to the seaboard. In addition there were sales of 60,000 bu to mills. New York said there had been considerable business in Duluth wheat, total sales for export reported at the seaboard being 680,000 bu, most of which was Duluth wheat. At Kansas City the demand was slow and few sales were made. Minneapolis wired that there was a scarcity of good wheat, with prices firm, No. 1 northern being ⅝@1c over the May, with velvet chaff 1c under the No. 1 northern.

A Paris cable said: "Heavy rain has fallen and the weather is still rainy. Many complaints are being heard of damage and vermin is causing apprehension. Paris opened very firm with shorts covering on the unfavorable weather and liberal export takings with native offers light and stocks small."

Cash corn prices here were a little higher early, but later finished weak, owing to the break in futures. Oats were also heavy at the close after being steady to ¼c up early. Shipping sales were 90,000 bu corn and 155,000 bu oats. Offerings from the country were moderate.

Minneapolis wired: "Good cash demand with choice wheat relatively scarce. One northern blue stem going mostly 1c over May and velvet chaff 1c under blue stem. Flour sales still moderate, but the mill feed demand has broadened and is about equal to supply."

John Inglis, the Logan-Bryan crop expert, finds wheat condition uneven in the northern counties of Indiana and southern Michigan. Many fields show small growth and uneven stand, but the greater part of the acreage is good.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 21 cars; corn, 154 cars; oats, 146 cars; rye, 2 cars; barley, 26 cars; hogs, 15,000 head.

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were ⅛@1c lower; corn, ¼@⅜c lower; oats, ¼@⅜c lower; rye, steady to ½c higher.

POTATO MARKET GROWS FIRM; PRICES ADVANCE 1@2 CENTS.

Buyers Take Hold Freely—Brisk Demand Keeps Eggs Up—Butter Weakens—Poultry on Higher Level.

Firmness returned to the market for potatoes at Chicago yesterday and prices recovered the 1@2c loss sustained Wednesday. Receipts were smaller, 39 cars, and buyers took hold more freely, paying 38 to 45c for ordinary to good, sound stock.

The egg market continued buoyant and prices were firm to ¼c higher. Receipts were 20,297 cases and the demand was brisk. The butter market was weak and receipts of 5,307 tubs did not clear. Prices were a shade lower.

Live fowls and spring chickens sold at a further advance of ½c a lb and offerings were closely taken, although receipts made a larger aggregate at 4 cars by freight and 696 coops by express.

About 16 cars of green vegetables and strawberries were received from Louisiana. Many of them had been on the road since last week, having been shifted about because of high water, and some of the goods received were in bad condition.

SAMUEL INSULL ADDRESSES CHICAGO BOND MEN'S CLUB.

Head of Commonwealth Edison Company Lays Stress on Value of Experienced Engineering Skill.

Samuel Insull, president of the Commonwealth Edison company, addressed the Bond Men's Club of Chicago yesterday and compared present conditions with those of twenty years ago.

"Under normal market conditions public service corporations can borrow money as cheaply as the big railroad companies," he said, "because of their recognized strength based on expert and experienced engineering skill. Out of all my experience I should unhesitatingly say the services of an expert engineer are more important than those of the inventor or the banker.

"The day will come when all the small electrical power producing plants between the Missouri river and the Atlantic coast will be operated under large controlling companies. It may not be in a single consolidation, but the economic advantages of consolidation will certainly be applied.

"The present is not the best time for new financing, because of the scarcity of money and the large demand for money."

Car Company Pays City $612,870.

The Chicago Railways company yesterday turned over to the city controller a check for $612,870 as the balance of the city's 55 per cent of the net receipts of the company for the year ending Jan. 31. Deposits previously made on account bring the total from the company up to $1,413,404.

BORROWS $600,000 AT FIVE PER CENT

Northwestern University Gets Big Loan from Northwestern Mutual Life Company.

BANKER TALKS OF MONEY

Goddard Believes Real Estate Should Be Acceptable as National Bank Security.

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company has made a loan of $600,000 to Northwestern university, secured by the property at the southeast corner of Lake and Dearborn streets.

The loan runs five years at 5 per cent, which is now practically the minimum rate for downtown loans, although some 4¾ per cent money lately has been advertised. The loan is stated to be an extension of two maturing loans.

The lot fronts 180 feet on Dearborn street and 160 feet on Lake street and contains approximately 28,800 square feet. It is improved with a six story building, formerly the old Tremont house, which the university remodeled and has used for its law, dental and pharmacy departments. William A. Dyche, business manager of the university, represented it in the transaction, while the company was represented by William S. Bond, its special loan agent.

Six Flat Building Sold.

The six apartment building at 6636-38 Kimbark avenue, with 50x165 feet of ground, east front, has been sold by Hugo Hoffman to W. and Mary A. Luse for $22,850, subject to an incumbrance of $11,000, assumed. Mr. Hoffman took in part payment the frame flat building on 50 foot lot at 6742 Lowe avenue. John H. Gay & Co. were the brokers.

E. A. Goldsmith has sold to Niels Kjelsen the two two flat buildings at 1407-09 Warren avenue, with 66x125 feet of ground. Consideration nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $9,000, taking in part payment the vacant at the southwest corner of Belmont and Washtenaw avenues. A. H. Berman of Simons & Hurlburt was the broker.

Deal in Milwaukee Avenue.

Leon Sigman has sold to Louis Ogur and Frank Rabinovich the property in Milwaukee avenue, 300 feet southeast of Wood street, 24x100 feet, southwest front, with store and flat improvements. Consideration nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $11,000.

Leroy A. Goddard, president of the State bank of Chicago, who was the speaker at yesterday's weekly luncheon of the Chicago real estate board said, in discussing "The Banks and the Republic," that there is no possible excuse for a bank to fail which starts according to the law and which is conducted with due regard to the law and with even a small degree of good judgment. It may be compelled to stop doing business temporarily, he said, but to fail entailing any serious loss on depositors is not a reasonable possibility.

Speculation Dooms Banks.

He said speculation is the cause of more bankers going wrong than anything else and that if a banker wants to speculate he should first retire from the banking business.

He declared himself as opposed to a central bank and expressed the opinion that the Vreeland law will prevent the recurrence of another currency panic such as that of 1907.

"The law is far from being ideal," he said. "In fact, it is not even adequate, but it does supply a plan and the people know it, and they will not get so stampeded again. Bankers do not create panics. They cure them, and let it be said to their credit that however serious and sudden panics may have been they always have been of short duration, because of the united and wise action of bankers."

"The present law," he said, "does not permit national banks to make loans on real estate security. It does not matter how valuable the property or how strong the borrower, the argument is that the bulk of deposits in national banks are payable on demand and should be invested in short time loans and such other securities as can be realized on without long delay.

Favors Limited Realty Loans.

"I would not advocate permission for national banks to invest in real estate loans beyond limit, but it does appear safe and conservative to permit at least the amount of the bank's capital and surplus to be invested in such loans, and it would be a detriment to the real estate business to be otherwise. I do not believe good first class real estate loans should be classed with indigestible securities.

"A customer might borrow from the national institution on his name only without and security, but if this same borrower goes in with his own or other name on a note secured by high grade real estate a national bank is not permitted to take it. In case of panic or stringency the borrower may not pay at maturity anyway; if necessary for the bank to realize on some of its holdings it can certainly sell a note secured by good real estate quicker than it can one absolutely unsecured, except by the name of a good man.

Bond Loans vs. Real Estate.

"Bonds, good listed stocks, or other like collaterals can be realized upon quicker simply by a transfer of the securities, but less than 20 per cent of the loans in the Chicago banks or other banks of the country, New York possibly excepted, are secured by such collaterals. They are not to be had. Most customers do not own such collaterals when they go to the bank to borrow money.

"If it becomes necessary to force collection by legal process it would take much longer to collect a note that is unsecured than it might take to foreclose on a mortgage."

FORGAN TALKS ON CANADIAN BANKS

Head of Chicago First National Addresses Committee of Dominion Commons.

HIS ADVICE ASKED FOR.

Discusses Pending Measure and Gives Suggestions for Making It Stronger.

Ottawa, Ont., April 10.—[Special.]—By invitation James B. Forgan, president of the First National bank of Chicago, addressed the banking and commerce committee of the house of commons today on the proposed act revising the dominion law relating to banking.

He held that a further system of local banks is not desirable because small local banks cannot compete successfully where the more economical system of branch banking has been established.

Referring to section 34 as to the rate and terms upon which new bank stock may be issued, Mr. Forgan said:

"This new problem, it seems to me, calls for a reasonable and equitable adjustment of the rights of the three interests involved in it. These interests are those of the depositors, those of the shareholders, and those of the banks themselves.

Directors Should Fix Rates.

"A reasonable adjustment of the rights of all the interests involved, it seems to me, would be accomplished by permitting the banks to issue new stock on such terms as are fixed by the directors, provided that in no case shall a rate be fixed which will make the premium, if any, payable on the stock allotted exceed one-half of the percentage which the rest or reserve fund bears to the paid up capital, nor shall such rate of premium in any case exceed 100 per cent of the new stock so issued. I would leave the fixing of the rate in the hands of the directors, as now."

After reviewing and commenting on various other sections of the proposed act Mr. Forgan argued against governmental supervision or "anything approaching it."

For Central Gold Reserves.

He commended the proposal to establish "central gold reserves" against which the banks may issue their notes in excess of the amount of their unimpaired capital, but said he considered the further proposals that banks should be taxed for their privilege of note issues and on moneys loaned by them in foreign countries as inadvisable, if not unwarranted.

Concerning the placing of limitations on loans to companies or corporations in which bank directors or officers are interested, Mr. Forgan said:

"In some cases such restrictions might prove beneficial, while in others they would only place an unwarranted embargo on some of the best business done by the banks. We have a similar provision in the state banking law of Illinois.

How Illinois Law Works.

"Our experience is that the law works well in its application to the executive officers, but it has been found quite impractical to apply it to directors. As a rule our bank directors are men of large means, interested in the control and management of railroads and other large corporations, whose credit is such as to induce the banks to enter into the keenest competition for it.

"If every time such corporations want to borrow money a special meeting of the bank directors must be called to pass upon their applications simply because one or more of them may be interested as stockholders or connected with the management of the applicant company, an almost impossible embargo would be placed on some of the best business that comes to the banks."

NEW CURRENCY REFORM BILLS.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—New currency reform bills were introduced in the house today by Representatives Prouty of Iowa, Nelson of Wisconsin, and Palmer of Pennsylvania. Congress now has nearly a dozen bills, covering all branches of banking and currency reform, but none of which bear the indorsement of the official committees of the two houses or of President Wilson.

Representative Nelson's bill proposes a national currency board of seven members with power to issue treasury notes through local "associations of reserve and discount." Representative Prouty's would create a new emergency currency, similar to that created by the Aldrich-Vreeland law now in force, but more accessible for banks in case of emergency. Under this measure the emergency notes, in amount equal to 40 per cent of a bank's capital and surplus, could be stored in the bank's vaults and put into circulation with consent of the controller of the currency.

Representative Palmer's bill and one introduced earlier in the week by Senator Hoke Smith would give banks the right to lend money upon real estate mortgages and conveyances. A general banking bill has also been introduced by Representative Levy of New York.

Plumbing Inspector Accused.

An alleged scheme to hoodwink the health department was disclosed yesterday, and as a result Plumbing Inspector Edward J. Kane was suspended. It is charged Kane improperly O. K.'d work done by his brother, P. J. Kane, a plumber.

HOGS RISE IN SHIFTING DAY

Market Closes 5 Cents Higher After Uncertain Opening.

CHOICE CATTLE FIRM UP.

Fat Steers Meet a Spirited Demand; Sheep and Lambs Drop.

The hog market displayed a great deal of uncertainty at the opening at Chicago yesterday, but subsequently developed strength and closed firm to 5c higher than on Wednesday. Eastern shipping orders lacked urgency and lightweight offerings did not show the firmness exhibited by packers and butchers, which cleared to local killers at an average of $9.14, against $9.12 Wednesday. A top of $9.35 was made by prime 179 lb hogs.

Good to choice fat steers again met with a spirited demand at firm prices, topping at $9.15. The medium and lightweight lots of mediocre quality were accorded little support, however, and the market closed weak for that kind.

Sheep and lambs suffered the first reaction this week, selling at a decline of 10@25c from Wednesday's best figures, with the bulk showing a loss of 10@15c. There were no fancy wethers on sale and the best sheep topped at $7.10, while lambs sold up to $9.25.

DRY GOODS SALES INCREASING DESPITE COLD, WET WEATHER.

J. V. Farwell Co. Weekly Review Says Number of Buyers Coming to Market Outruns Same Period Last Year.

The John V. Farwell company's weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade says:

"Notwithstanding the cold, wet weather of the last week, the number of buyers in market during the first ten days of April shows a substantial increase over the same period last year. This is, no doubt, largely due to the increasing tendency among merchants of running into market often and picking up what is needed for immediate use. The cost of car fare and a day or two in the city is often much more than made up by advantageous house purchases.

"Raincoat and umbrella business is active owing to the weather conditions. Large quantities of blankets are being shipped to the flooded districts for immediate use. Nearly all desirable lines of woolen blankets are sold up by the mills until November. The floods have closed some woolen mills, further curtailing woolen blanket production.

"Voiles, printed plain and with silk stripes, are in great demand. This fabric, because of the various ways in which it can be decorated with silk, ratine and other fancy yarns, is occupying a permanent position and indications point to a big fall business on wash goods of this character."

Overcoats of Style for Men and Young Men

THE fickle Spring weather demands an overcoat—not heavy, but of enough weight to protect one against sudden showers and strong winds. One looks forlorn indeed on a stormy spring day without one. With that in view we have had built for us these special Balmacan coats, particularly stylish for the young man and the less conservative older man. It possesses the smart English appearance and all the characteristics of an English garment. It can be worn as a cape over shoulders if desired. It is made of homespun in gray, tan and brown and lined with satin. The buttons are of imported leather. Priced at..... $30.00

The Chesterfield is recommended for the conservative man of business. It has all the appearance of success—so much desired—and is made of fine Australian wool, which enables it to retain an unshiny state. It is shown in Oxford gray, Cambridge gray and in black at... $25.00

Fine Gabardine coat, convertible and military collars, $15.00

The largest stock of new raincoats we have ever shown. Prices $6 to $35

Rubberized slip-ons in tan, imported double texture worsteds, Raglan shoulders, $15.00

Patch Pocket Suits for Men—The coats have soft shoulders and peak lapels, and are cut on straight lines. Shown in black and white stripes, gray and white, and neat gray mixtures, at.... $25.00

Men's suits, $18.00 to $40.00.

Smart Suits for Young Men

The young man who desires to achieve a reputation for being well dressed will be pleased with the suits we have assembled for the young man. The lines are youthful in the extreme and will appeal to any bright, active chap. They have the patch pockets, English soft roll lapel, and high cut vests. Shown in blue serge, shepherd checks of tan and black and white, neat homespuns and Cambridge grays, in either Norfolk or English models, at .. $18

Patch Pocket Norfolk Suits for Boys

Splendid mixtures in homespuns, grays, tans, browns, also extra quality navy blue serge suits, sizes 8 to 17, at $10

Gaberdine Raincoats—Extra fine, with convertible collar and raglan shoulders, in sizes 12 to 18, at..... $18

Other Raincoats at $5.00 to $8.00.

BOYS' SPRING REEFERS—Smart shepherd checks of black and white, velvet collars and patch pockets, at..... $7.50 have and ditch finishe and d lookin to w large of th tackle the job of amendi tution of the state of Illin has succeeded he will be i sympathize with the man his way through a mountain nails.

The wise and strong men eration have always felt th likely to die with them. Acc they finished writing a sta they locked it up in a box the cover, and provided th sacrilegious and reckless pe tamper with its contents he the nails with his teeth.

THUS, to amend the con state of Illinois all th is: First, to persuade tw members of both houses of to vote in favor of its bein the voters of the state; suade a majority of all the at the next election for legislature to vote for it. that only amendments to o constitution may be propos lature at one time, and th to the same article may oftener than once in four

Even that process sound as the fathers wrote it tha out in practice.

HERE are some of the corning which there is general demand that the amended:

The initiative and refere tax reform, abolishment of system of voting for membe of representatives, establi short ballot, consolidation ments in Chicago, home ru cess condemnation by citie frage.

The last state platform cratic party calls for no specific constitutional ame Progressives demand nine cans lay most emphasis on to the amending clause of t which is probably the m possible of them all to obt

IF all the reformers, up highbrows, and politicia could unanimously agr amendment should be tak might be possible to craw stairs of reform, one step In the course of, say, th vided everything went sm was always harmony in th the whole program might

However, every reforme pet hobby is the greatest ing issue before the pub cats of the initiative an perfectly sincere in declar reform, which will in its ills which afflict the body plished he is willing tha the others shall have the partisan of tax reform position.

Since the legislature amendments to but one the result is, as happened lative session, and is lik this, there is a deadlo friends of the conflictin no amendment at all is p the more likely when inf of the legislature are w sonally with present co glad enough to see pro
